PREDATORS OWNERSHIP

PREDATORS HOLDINGS LLC

On Dec. 7, 2007, Predators Holdings LLC purchased the Nashville Predators and Powers Management (the company that operates Bridgestone Arena) and took over the day-to-day operation of the National Hockey League team and Bridgestone Arena. Predators Holdings LLC includes local executives in finance, health care and private business. Members include: Herbert A. Fritch (Chairman), Thomas G. Cigarran, Christopher C. Cigarran, Tim Connelly, Joel and Holly Dobberpuhl, David Freeman, Bryan Grane, Joey A. Jacobs, J. Brent Jacobs, Scott D. Jacobs, John McEvoy, DeWitt Thompson IV, DeWitt Thompson V, John Thompson, W. Brett Wilson and Warren Woo.

HERBERT A. FRITCH

Herb Fritch formerly served as President of the Senior Segment at Cigna-HealthSpring following the acquisition of HealthSpring by Cigna in 2012. As Founder and CEO, Fritch built HealthSpring into a $4.6 billion enterprise at the time of its acquisition by Cigna. Beginning his career in 1973 as an actuary, Fritch has more than 40 years of experience in the managed healthcare business.

Fritch serves as Chairman of the of the team's Board of Directors, a role he has held since January 2019. He is also one of the Predators' Governors on the NHL Board of Governors. A graduate of Carleton College, Fritch and his wife Barbara are also renowned for their philanthropic efforts through the Herbert A. (Herb) Fritch Family Foundation.

THOMAS G. CIGARRAN

Tom Cigarran is a co-founder and former Chairman, President and CEO and Director of AmSurg Corporation, the nation's largest outpatient surgery center company and a major national provider of physician services to hospitals, surgery centers and other healthcare facilities. He is also a co-founder, former Chairman, President and CEO and Director of Healthways, Inc. Cigarran was elected Chairman of the Nashville Predators in March 2010 and served as chairman for more than nine years until January 2019. He is also one of the Predators' Alternate Governors on the NHL Board of Governors.

Cigarran has been an active supporter of public education in Nashville for more than 20 years, having served as the Education Chairman of the Nashville Area Chamber of Commerce and being a founder and Chairman of the Operating Board of Alignment Nashville, an organization that helps organize the activities of more than 150 Nashville area non-profit organizations, the business community and governmental agencies in support of public education. He has also led the Haiti Education Mission of the Cathedral of the Incarnation for more than 15 years and sponsors a primary and a secondary school in Haiti. He has served on the Board of Vanderbilt University Medical Center and chaired the advisory board of Vanderbilt's Owen School's Healthcare MBA Program, served on the boards of the Harpeth Hall School, Alive Hospice and the Mental Health Association of Middle Tennessee. He has also twice served as Chair of the Nashville Health Care Council.

Cigarran received a Bachelor of Science degree from Villanova University and an MBA from the New York University Graduate School of Business. He and his wife, Connie, are 43-year residents of Nashville and have two children and five grandchildren. The whole family loves Predators hockey.

CHRISTOPHER C. CIGARRAN

Chris Cigarran is the Chief Commercial Officer of Imagine360 and the CEO of Imagine Health, the leading provider of next generation health plan solutions for employers in the United States.

Cigarran received his undergraduate degree from Bucknell University and his master's degree from Pepperdine University.

TIM CONNELLY

Tim Connelly enjoyed a 30-year career at Brown Brothers Harriman & Co. (BBH), a leading global financial institution. He was a General Partner of the Firm and is currently a Limited Partner at BBH. More recently, he was appointed and served as CEO of the Massachusetts Technology Collaborative, agency charged with promoting the innovation and technology economy in the Commonwealth.

Connelly serves on numerous philanthropic boards that reflect his interests and priorities. These include St. Sebastian's School, Carroll School, Cotting School and New England Disabled Sports; he is also a Corporator Emeriti at Northeastern University.

A history of sports runs deep in the Connelly family as his father was a three-sport athlete and long-time baseball coach at Northeastern University who was elected to the American Baseball Coaches Hall of Fame. Connelly himself was a three-sport athlete in college (football, hockey and baseball) and played professional hockey in Germany following graduation. Complimenting his Nashville Predators ownership position, Connelly is also a minority owner of the Wichita Wind Surge in Wichita, Kan., a minor league baseball franchise.

A graduate of Williams College with a bachelor's degree in history and Northeastern University with an MBA, Connelly resides in Wellesley, Mass., with his wife, Amie, and their three sons.

JOEL & HOLLY DOBBERPUHL

Joel and Holly Dobberpuhl are now residents of Montecito, Calif., after living in Nashville for more than 20 years, where they were active in several charities through their family foundation. Joel is the CEO and Portfolio Manager of Jetstream Capital, a Nashville-based investment firm he started in 2003. Joel and Holly received their degrees from Southern Methodist University in 1988.

DAVID S. FREEMAN

David S. Freeman is the CEO of 36 Venture Capital and the former founder and CEO of Commodore Medical Services, a medical waste management company sold in 2007. Freeman received his undergraduate degree from the University of Tennessee and a Juris Doctor degree from the Vanderbilt University School of Law. Freeman serves on the Board of Trustees of the United Way of Metropolitan Nashville and Brandi Chastain's ReachUp Foundation.

PREDATORS OWNERSHIP

BRYAN GRANE

Bryan F. Grane is the Founder of East Orchard Capital (EOC). Prior to founding EOC, he was the Owner, Chairman and CEO of CST. Under Mr. Grane's leadership, CST became one of the premier intermodal logistics companies in the United States and was ultimately sold to Forward Air Corporation (FWRD) in 2014. Prior to joining CST, Mr. Grane was an investment banker at William Blair & Company, where he worked as a mergers and acquisition analyst and achieved Series 7 and 63 certifications.

Mr. Grane is the Founder of the St. Rita Mercy Foundation, a Board Member at Leadership Roundtable and is a nine-year member of Young Presidents' Organization.

He earned his Bachelor's of Business Administration in finance and business economics from the University of Notre Dame, where he graduated Summa Cum Laude and a member of Beta Gamma Sigma (International Honors Society). Mr. Grane also holds a Master of Business Administration from the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University.

JOEY A. JACOBS

Joey A. Jacobs is retired after 45 years in the healthcare industry. Jacobs serves on the board of directors of Cumberland Pharmaceuticals, Inc., The Jason Foundation and Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt. Mr. Jacobs was nominated by former Tennessee Governor Bill Haslam and confirmed by the Tennessee General Assembly to serve on the Middle Tennessee State University Board of Trustees.

Jacobs is married to his wife of 44 years, Debbie, and they have two sons, Brent and Scott. Outside of work, he enjoys spending time with his family and friends, while also tending to his herd of black angus cattle at the family's farm in Warren County, Tenn. Additionally, Jacobs is an active church and community member, serving on several not-for-profit boards and giving to numerous local community and charitable organizations, such as the Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt, The Jason Foundation and Morrison Elementary School. Jacobs also established the Joey Jacobs Chair of Excellence in Accounting at Middle Tennessee State University.

J. BRENT JACOBS

Brent Jacobs serves as Vice President of Acquisitions and Development at Surgery Partners, previously Symbion Healthcare before its acquisition in November 2014. Prior to joining Symbion in 2012, Mr. Jacobs worked as a Senior Associate in the Assurance practice at PricewaterhouseCoopers, LLP. He has more than 10 years of experience in accounting and finance and is currently focusing on merger and acquisitions, including transactional due diligence and financial analysis. Mr. Jacobs is a graduate of Samford University, where he received a Bachelor of Arts in business administration and earned a Master of Accounting from the Brock School of Business. He also holds an MBA from the University of Florida's Hough Graduate School of Business.

Mr. Jacobs is married to his wife of 10 years, Katie. They have two daughters, Emmaline and Joey, and one son, Hunt. Mr. Jacobs enjoys spending time with his family and friends, playing hockey at the Ford Ice Centers and racing at the local Fairgrounds Speedway Nashville. Mr. Jacobs is an active church and community member, participating in numerous community service projects throughout the years.

SCOTT D. JACOBS

Scott D. Jacobs serves as Regional Controller at Acadia Healthcare in Franklin, Tenn. Prior to joining Acadia Healthcare, Mr. Jacobs worked as the CFO of TrustPoint Hospital in Murfreesboro, Tenn. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia, where he received his Bachelor's of Business Administration degree in accounting. Mr. Jacobs maintains an inactive certified public accountant license and is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA).

Mr. Jacobs enjoys spending time with his family and friends, cycling and playing hockey for multiple teams at the Ford Ice Centers and Centennial Sportsplex. He is an active church and community member, most recently competing in the annual Bike to Jack & Back Ride benefiting the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

JOHN McEVOY

With a career in wireless communications spanning more than 20 years, John M. McEvoy is a specialist in the recommendation and implementation of integrated mobile retail stores. John began his career in mobile communications in 1995 as a successful Sales Manager for Pacific Bell Wireless and quickly realized the market for wireless was larger than anticipated. In 1997, he founded The Mobile Solution Corporation to capitalize on this need. As President and CEO of TMS, he oversaw all operational aspects of the organization, operating debt free and expanding the company rapidly. The Mobile Solution Corporation grew nationwide to more than 3,000 employees and over $500 million in revenue by 2006.

Embracing personal core values of integrity, innovation and growth, he founded his real estate investment company, 1551 Fourth Avenue, Inc., in 2004. Currently, Mr. McEvoy oversees an extensive portfolio of commercial, residential and multi-family real estate. In addition, Mr. McEvoy has a diverse investment portfolio in technology, oil and natural gas and entertainment. Mr. McEvoy currently holds a minority ownership interest in MLB's Colorado Rockies and previously owned an interest in the San Diego Padres.

The Nashville Predators represent Mr. McEvoy's first investment in the Nashville area. However, when Mr. McEvoy visited Nashville, he was struck by the vibrancy and economic growth of the city. Mr. McEvoy's decision to invest in the Predators was primarily driven by the strength of the organization and team but was also impacted by the prospects for Nashville as a whole.

DeWITT C. THOMPSON, IV

DeWitt (De) C. Thompson, IV is retired chairman of Thompson Machinery Commerce Corporation. Thompson is a director of Aries Clean Technologies. He is a graduate of Vanderbilt University. Thompson and his wife, Jackie, reside in Nashville.

Woo received an MBA from the Stanford University Graduate School of Business and a Bachelor of Arts in economics from UCLA.

MANAGEMENT

DAVID POILE
PRESIDENT OF HOCKEY OPERATIONS, GENERAL MANAGER & ALTERNATE GOVERNOR

Set to begin his 41st consecutive season as an NHL general manager, making him the longest tenured GM in League history, Nashville Predators President of Hockey Operations/General Manager David Poile has spent 40 consecutive years at the helm of a franchise (25 with Nashville, 15 with Washington) dating back to Aug. 30, 1982 when he was hired by the Washington Capitals. He is the only general manager in NHL history to lead two different clubs for over 1,000 games and 500 victories, and on March 1, 2018 against Edmonton, Poile won his 1,320th game, making him the all-time winningest GM in League history.

Nashville's past five regular seasons have been among the best not only in franchise history but across the entire NHL. Following the Preds' 45-30-7 record (97 points) in 2021-22, Nashville has won 211 games since the start of the 2017-18 campaign, the eighth-most in the League, and its 456 combined points are the 11th-most. In 2018-19, Poile engineered a team that won the Central Division title for the second consecutive campaign and hit the 100-point mark for the seventh time. The season before, Poile's squad won the Presidents' Trophy and Central Division title for the first time in franchise history en route to the No. 1-seed and home-ice advantage in the playoffs. The Predators recorded 53 wins and 117 points in 2017-18 – both franchise records – and were led by Vezina Trophy winner and franchise icon Pekka Rinne.

After the Predators became Western Conference Champions and Poile advanced to his first Stanley Cup Final in 2016-17, he was named the 2017 General Manager of the Year at the NHL Awards in Las Vegas, his first such honor after being a finalist for the award in each of its first three years of existence (2010, 2011 and 2012), while also receiving the sixth-most votes in 2015. Poile is one of the most influential men in the sport, evidenced by his spot on the NHL's Competition Committee all 15 years of its existence, appointment to the Hockey Hall of Fame Selection Committee in 2014, and involvement with USA Hockey, highlighted by his service as General Manager of the United States Olympic Team for the 2014 Winter Games in Sochi, Russia. On Aug. 9, 2018, Poile's longstanding support and commitment to hockey in the United States was etched in history with his nomination to the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame as part of the Class of 2018. Surrounded by friends and family, he was formally inducted at a ceremony held on Dec. 12, 2018 in Nashville.

While Poile continues to use effective drafting and development of home-grown players as the foundation for the Predators, his blueprint for success has necessitated the welcoming of high-octane offensive performers to the organization and bold trades in recent seasons. Dating back to the 2013 trade deadline, Poile and his staff have been aggressive in acquiring young, talented prospects with high offensive ceilings, and proven NHL stars via trade and free agency to supplement Nashville's drafted talent. This formula helped the Predators to their longest postseason run in franchise history – their first trip to the Stanley Cup Final in franchise history – in 2016-17, shattering nearly every Predators postseason record in the process. Under Poile's guidance, the Predators have reached the postseason in each of the past eight seasons and 15 of the past 18 campaigns.

Nashville's longstanding philosophy of building around home-grown players has paid dividends during its current postseason streak, tied for the second-longest active run in the NHL. Poile constructed the Predators' defense corps by drafting Captain Roman Josi, who won the 2020 Norris Trophy as the League's top defenseman and signed an eight-year, $72.472 million contract – the largest in franchise history – on Oct. 29, 2019; Mattias Ekholm, who is one of the most reliable defensemen in the game at both ends of the ice and has tallied at least 30 points in five of his last seven seasons; and young, promising blueliners such as Alexandre Carrier and Dante Fabbro.

Some of Poile's most impactful moves over the past eight-plus seasons have been on the trade front, with his two most recent blockbusters being among the largest one-for-one trades in NHL history. On Jan. 6, 2016, Poile acquired the No. 1 center the team has coveted since Day 1 of the franchise by getting All-Star Ryan Johansen from the Columbus Blue Jackets, and then on July 28, 2017, he signed Johansen to an eight-year, $64 million contract. On June 29, 2016, Poile executed the largest transaction in franchise history by acquiring 2013 Norris Trophy winner P.K. Subban and giving Smashville a bonafide superstar both on and off the ice. Prior to those acquisitions, on April 3, 2013, Poile traded for emerging superstar Filip Forsberg, who became Nashville's all-time leading goal scorer and set career highs in goals (42) and points (84) in 2021-22. Forsberg, selected 11th overall in the 2012 NHL Draft, was rated the third-best player by Poile's staff but slipped due to a run of defensemen being drafted.

In addition to Johansen and Forsberg, the forward corps are anchored by Matt Duchene, whose 43 goals in 2021-22 were the most in a single-season in team history, and Mikael Granlund, who was acquired from Minnesota in February 2019 and had 53 assists last season, the third-most in a season in Predators lore. Other offensive threats include 2017 Stanley Cup Playoffs breakout star Colton Sissons (second round in 2012), Tanner Jeannot (signed in 2018) and Yakov Trenin (second round in 2015). Nashville is also bullish on the future of many forwards both on the roster and in the system, including Eeli Tolvanen, Philip Tomasino, Joakim Kemell, Zachary L'Heureux, Fedor Svechkov, Egor Afanasyev and Juuso Parssinen. Of the 33 players used by the team in 2021-22, 16 were either drafted by the club or made their NHL debuts with the Preds.

After acquiring defenseman Jeremy Lauzon from Seattle in March, Poile was again aggressive on the trade front during the summer leading into the 2022-23 campaign. In July, he added two-time Stanley Cup champion Ryan McDonagh from the Tampa Bay Lightning, further solidifying Nashville's blue line with another leader and veteran presence. He rounded out the squad in free agency, signing a top-six forward in Nino Niederreiter, goaltender Kevin Lankinen to bolster the team's depth at the position and pieces such as reigning AHL Defenseman of the Year Jordan Gross and forwards Zach Sanford, Kiefer Sherwood and Mark Jankowski.

The assertive, team-building plan implemented by Poile from the franchise's inception has helped the organization earn the reputation as one of the most stable, well-built teams in the NHL. Crucial to the plan's success is the ability to make the right selections and develop the young prospects. Poile has assembled a bright staff of personnel charged with those responsibilities, including Assistant General Manager/Director of Scouting Jeff Kealty, Assistant General Manager/Director of Hockey Operations Brian Poile, Assistant General Manager/Director of Player Development/Milwaukee Admirals General Manager Scott Nichol and a team of gifted professional and amateur scouts across North America and Europe.

Poile has long been a proponent of a strong developmental system as a means to develop promising young players into productive NHL players. The Predators' primary developmental affiliate, the American Hockey League's Milwaukee Admirals, captured the first Calder Cup title in franchise history in 2004 and revisited the final in 2006. Head Coach Karl Taylor, who Poile hired to lead Milwaukee on June 29, 2018, won the Louis A.R. Pieri Memorial Award as the AHL's outstanding coach in his second season at the helm in 2019-20 and anchors a staff with a proven track record of developing talent. Including the 2019-20 shortened campaign, the Ads have advanced to the Calder Cup Playoffs in 17 of the last 19 seasons they have competed in, winning six division titles in that span. From 2002-03 to 2010-11, the Admirals became the first team in AHL history to post 40-or-more wins and 90-or-more points in eight consecutive seasons, each with a team predominately made up of Predators prospects.

Poile's wisdom and experience is clearly valued throughout the hockey world, as evidenced by his selection to the post of General Manager of the U.S. Olympic Team for the 2014 Sochi Games. He was associate general manager for the 2010 U.S. Olympic Team and helped select the team that would become one of the headline stories of the 2010 Vancouver Games, capturing the hearts of a nation en route to a silver medal. Poile was a member of the U.S. National Team Advisory Group for the third consecutive IIHF World Championship in 2014, served as associate GM for the American entries into the 2009 and 2010 editions of the tournament and as general manager at the 1998 and 1999 Worlds.

Since its establishment in 2005, Poile has helped guide the NHL Competition Committee, making him one of just two individuals to sit on the committee all 16 seasons of its existence. The steering body that formulates and recommends rule changes for approval by the NHL Board of Governors, the Competition Committee continues to be one of the most influential bodies in the game today having helped usher in innovations featuring on-ice innovations such as the regular-season shootout, hybrid icing and the grandfathering of visors. In March 2014, Poile received yet another prestigious honor by being appointed to the Hockey Hall of Fame Selection Committee and helped mold the Hall of Fame's 61st (2014) through 68th (2022) classes.

Poile's third straight General Manager of the Year nomination in 2011-12 came after the team finished with a 48-26-8 record (104 points), the third-best record in the Western Conference and fifth-best in the NHL, helping the Preds earn home-ice advantage in the Stanley Cup Playoffs. In 2010-11, he was a finalist for the award after Nashville earned the fifth seed in the Western Conference (99 points) and gave up the third-fewest goals in the League (190) despite missing nearly 350 man-games due to injury, and in 2009-10, he constructed a team that was one of 11 to hit the 100-point mark despite having a payroll ranked 28th in the League, earning a spot as a finalist for the inaugural General Manager of the Year Award.

In 2006-07, Poile was recognized by The Sporting News as its "Executive of the Year," an honor he had received twice previously (1982-83 and 1983-84), which is determined through a vote of his peers, after the Predators finished the season with the second-most points in the Western Conference and tied for the third-most points in the entire League. Locally, Business TN magazine honored him as the magazine's "CEO of the Year" for 2006 based on his consistent and successful track record as the team's architect.

In 2001, Poile was a recipient of the Lester Patrick Award in recognition of his contributions to hockey in the United States. Poile has devoted his professional career to hockey and the NHL, particularly in non-traditional markets. His late father, Bud Poile, also a recipient of the Lester Patrick Award (1989) and a member of the Hockey Hall of Fame (1990), served as general manager of two expansion franchises – first in Philadelphia (1967) and then in Vancouver (1970). Poile began his professional career as an administrative assistant with the Atlanta Flames expansion franchise in 1972 and spent 10 years with the organization before being named general manager of the Washington Capitals in 1982. The 2022-23 campaign will mark his 50th in the NHL.

For the 1982-83 season, Poile took the reins of a Washington team that had never made the Stanley Cup Playoffs. In his 15 years there, the Capitals advanced to the postseason 14 times. The 1997-98 Capitals, largely comprised of players Poile acquired, advanced to the Stanley Cup Final. During his 15-year tenure, the Caps compiled a record of 594-454-132 (.559), ranking among the NHL's Top-5 teams during that span.

Poile was instrumental in the League's adoption of the instant replay rule in 1991. He was awarded Inside Hockey's Man of the Year award for his leadership on the issue.

A graduate of Northeastern University in Boston, Poile was hockey team captain, leading scorer and most valuable player for two years, earning a place in the University's Hall of Fame. In June 2014, he received an honorary doctorate degree from American Sentinel University.

Poile also serves as an alternate governor for the team and in December 2007 added President of Hockey Operations to his title. For the past 11 seasons, Poile has donated to Operation Homefront (which provides emergency assistance and morale programs to our U.S. troops), USA Hockey and the Peterson for Parkinson's Foundation for every Predators victory.

He and his wife, Elizabeth, reside in Nashville. The Poiles have two children – daughter Lauren and son Brian – and three grandchildren – Ellie, Charlotte and Wyatt.

MANAGEMENT

SEAN HENRY
PRESIDENT, CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER & ALTERNATE GOVERNOR

Sean Henry is entering his 13th season in SMASHVILLE and could not be more excited to launch what is planned to be an 82-game regular season and a full concert touring slate! This normal start was taken for granted in years past and unfortunately has not been the norm the past few seasons, but the past two seasons have given Henry an even higher sense of pride in the organization and the community than he has ever had. Countless GOLDen Moments were created by the Predators players, staff, and partners when the community needed it the most. In the wake of the devastating tornadoes on March 3, 2020, and through all the pain and suffering caused by the ongoing pandemic, followed by the Christmas morning explosion and the Waverly floods, the organization's "relationships over revenue" philosophy was allowed to shine so brightly in some of SMASHVILLE's darkest days. Repeatedly, players and staff engaged with our partners to help brighten the days by providing aid, comfort, resources, encouragement and at times positive distractions to those that pushed us through some trying times. Leveraging the passion our fans have for this team to mobilize the organization in support of the entire Middle Tennessee community is something that any achievement in a career cannot easily match.

Henry is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Henry is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

The 2022-23 season will be another season that will put SMASVILLE in the center of the hockey universe, not once, not twice, but three times, as the passion of the best fans in sports will be spotlighted when the team launches the season by participating in the 2022 NHL Global Series™ and then hosts both the 2023 NHL Awards and the 2023 Upper Deck NHL Draft.

Alongside an annual impact of over $700 million in tangible economic benefits to the community, the memories built within and around Bridgestone offer an intangible and possibly even more valuable impact than the growing success has created. The reach, power and passion of the amazing fan base continue to extend SMASHVILLE's ripple effect in so many new ways. From the Nashville Predators Foundation empowered by SmileDirectClub and the Ford Ice Centers, to the rising media ratings and the venue's status of one of the busiest venues in the world and to SS&E's launch, the borders of SMASHVILLE's growth positively impact families and businesses across the region.

SMASHVILLE continues to grow, reinforcing what an incredible hockey community we have. SS&E now has two new rink projects in development in Sumner and Williamson counties, and F&M Bank Arena in Clarksville nears completion, joining the two existing Ford Ice Centers and the Lee Company Dek Hockey Rink in providing economic impact throughout our region while removing more and more boundaries for people to enjoy our wonderful sport.

Henry was born a Nashvillian, although it took him 42 years to get here. Before leading his favorite staff in SMASHVILLE, he served for 11 years as the Executive Vice President and COO of the Tampa Bay Lightning, two years as the Vice President of Sales and Marketing with Unity Motion and 14 years with Volume Services Inc., where he worked with the Detroit Pistons, St. Louis Rams, and the Washington Redskins.

Though much of his time is spent moving the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena towards its ONEGOAL alongside tireless and passionate SMASHVILLE employees, Henry is grateful for each day that he, along with his wife, have the opportunity to serve on the boards of the Nashville Predators Foundation, YWCA of Nashville and Middle Tennessee, Nashville Downtown Partnership, Nashville Sports Council, Nashville Chamber of Commerce, the Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt's Advisory Board and STARS while also staying involved in his children's schools, sports teams, marching band and clubs.

Henry has been fortunate to have enjoyed some wonderful milestones in his career, but his reigning (it is no longer given out, so the reign will continue for decades!) Father of the Year Award is one that has no equal and one that would not be possible without the support and good humor of his wife of 30 years, Tracey Manning (a.k.a. the Suburban Diva), or his four children, and one daughter in law – Stevie, Katie, Matty, Amy and Jessie. How Henry managed to win Father of the Year despite his constant attempts to recreate National Lampoon's Vacation and repeated stories (all normally captured in the Diva's writings), is perhaps his greatest achievement. The Henry family ranked those vacations and selected Yellowstone National Park as their top family vacation, though they hope Bern and Prague rival that. To memorialize their favorite trip, after years of owning bears ranging from small to life-sized, they adopted a real, live bear from the wildlife refuge center in the park to join their adopted dogs, Yogi and Seymour, and their hamster, Toast.

MICHELLE KENNEDY
CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Michelle Kennedy joined the Predators in March 2008 as In-House Counsel. Kennedy, also a certified public accountant (CPA), accepted the additional charge of Chief Financial Officer for the Predators and Powers Management in 2010 while continuing to serve as the organization's General Counsel. In 2017, Kennedy was named the organization's Chief Operating Officer.

Kennedy often has the opportunity to speak to groups about SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, the 7th Man and the amazingly unique bond that all of those groups share with the Predators organization. Without their support, Bridgestone Arena would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year on multiple occasions by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. The same fan support and unique bond referenced above solidified the organization's status as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean for an 10th consecutive year and also played a large role in the organization being named the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN.

"We are one of the busiest buildings in the world and have earned our fair share of accolades but we can always be better and that is what we strive for each day! We have evolved as an organization and are excited about what lies ahead, not only in Bridgestone Arena but at the Ford Ice Centers and the growing footprint of affiliates, with the introduction of SS&E in early 2021. We will remain focused on the health and welfare of our fans, guests, colleagues, performers and players, and we look forward to an exciting concert and hockey season in Bridgestone Arena as well as a full schedule of activities at the Ford Ice Centers and other venues and campuses where SS&E will continue to make an impact! I look forward to kicking off this season in our first-ever Global Series in Prague after visiting Roman's hometown of Bern then returning home to our incredible fans to resume our organization's pursuit of ONEGOAL – to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece as the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team."

Kennedy currently serves as the Chairman of the Nashville Predators Foundation empowered by SmileDirectClub; she, along with every player, coach and employee of this great organization embraces the commitment to give back to the community that has given so much to it over the years. Kennedy shares the organization's belief that the work of the foundation is as integral to the mission of the organization as ice hockey and entertainment. "Our commitment to this community is second to none…we owe everything to them. Our fans and our community quite literally saved us from relocation in 2007; they are a huge part of this organization and we look for ways every day to give back and show how proud we are to be a part of this community."

Kennedy began her career as an auditor at KPMG International, an advisory, audit and tax services company. After nearly five years in public accounting, she joined Vanderbilt University as an Associate Director of Athletics. For six years, she was responsible for oversight of the department's business operations, including finance, ticket operations, facilities, game and event management, as well as oversight of marketing and corporate sponsorship activities. Kennedy continued to work in a consultative capacity for Vanderbilt while attending law school from 2004-07.

During the 2019 Stanley Cup Playoffs, Kennedy was featured on NBC's female sports initiative platform, On Her Turf, in an episode of Hockey is for Her, which focused on women in and around the National Hockey League. Kennedy was also a speaker at the 14th Annual MIT Sloan Sports Analytics Conference in Boston in 2019. In addition to being named to the Sports Business Journal's "Game Changers Class of 2018," Kennedy was a finalist for Nashville Business Journal's 2015 CFO of the Year and was featured in Nashville Lifestyles Magazine in the 2016 Top 10 "Women in Business" issue. She has been an adjunct professor at David Lipscomb University, is a former member of the board of Make-A-Wish of Middle Tennessee and currently serves on the boards of the Nashville Humane Association and the YWCA.

Kennedy obtained a Bachelor of Arts in economics from Vanderbilt University in 1992 and a Juris Doctorate from Vanderbilt University in 2007. A native of Hawesville, Ky., Kennedy now resides in Nashville.

DAVID KELLS
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT OF ENTERTAINMENT & VENUES

David Kells has been with Bridgestone Arena and the Nashville Predators since 2005. During his tenure, he has served as the Conversion Manager, Event Manager, Director of Marketing, Senior Vice President of Booking, Senior Vice President of Events & Marketing and currently as Executive Vice President of Entertainment and Venues.

Kells is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Kells is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

Kells quickly developed a passion for live entertainment after working his first concert at the age of 18 and is proud to have been part of Nashville's live entertainment community ever since. Over the course of his career, he has worked for SFX Entertainment, Great Big Shows and AC Entertainment. Prior to joining the Bridgestone Arena staff, Kells helped manage the legendary Exit / In music venue and has been involved in producing such festivals as Dancin' in the District (Nashville, Tenn.), Sundown in the City (Knoxville, Tenn.) and Birmingham City Stages (Birmingham, Ala.).

In addition to helping oversee Bridgestone Arena's rise to one of the top venues in the U.S. and Pollstar Arena of the Decade nominee, Kells has received personal recognition for his hard work in the industry. Kells was named the Pollstar Venue Executive of the Year in 2022 and 2017, International Arena Buyers Association's Venue Executive of the Year in 2014, 2016 and 2019 and has been nominated for Pollstar's Facility Executive of the Year seven times. A lover of hockey from a young age, Kells' hockey career peaked in 1980 when he received the Most Improved Player Award from the Massena Minor Hockey Association.

Kells and his wife, Lucy, reside in Inglewood and have one daughter, Kathryn.

BILL WICKETT
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT & CHIEF MARKETING OFFICER

After joining the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena as Executive Vice President and Chief Marketing Officer in March 2021, Bill Wickett is entering his second full season in SMASHVILLE in 2022-23. In his role with the Predators and the Arena, Wickett is responsible for the company's marketing and communications efforts, inclusive of public relations, broadcasting, game presentation, social, digital and event marketing and branding. Additionally, he oversees the Nashville Predators Foundation empowered by SmileDirectClub and its community relations efforts throughout Middle Tennessee.

Wickett is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Wickett is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

A 1990 graduate of the University of Michigan, Wickett joined the Predators after 21 years with the Tampa Bay Lightning and AMALIE Arena, most recently serving as that National Hockey League organization's Executive Vice President for Marketing and Communications. While with the Lightning, Wickett was fortunate enough to contribute on the business side of the organization on two Stanley Cup Championships, one in 2004 and the second in 2020.

While with the Lightning and the arena, Wickett also oversaw special events and championships, leading the organization's cooperative efforts to host the 2018 NHL All-Star Weekend. While in Tampa, he also served two tenures as Chairman of the Tampa Bay Sports Commission, helping the City of Tampa earn national recognition for the recruiting and execution of major national collegiate and professional sporting events.

Prior to joining the Lightning in 1999, Wickett worked for six years as the Director of Media Relations for his hometown Detroit Pistons. He started his career as Assistant Sports Information Director for the University of Michigan, serving as the primary media liaison for the program in 1991 and 1992, working with the "Fab Five."

Wickett and his wife, Mikki, live in Franklin with their son, Jake, a sophomore at Father Ryan High School. They have an adult daughter, Jane, a recent nursing graduate of Auburn University, and an adult son, Sean, an accounting graduate of the University of Mississippi.

MANAGEMENT

KEITH HEGGER
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT & CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Keith Hegger enters his seventh season with the Nashville Predators organization and is the Chief Financial Officer. As the organization's financial leader and a member of the Executive Leadership Team, Hegger oversees the finances for the Nashville Predators, Bridgestone Arena, Ford Ice Centers, SS&E and the Nashville Predators Foundation empowered by SmileDirectClub.

Hegger is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Hegger is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

Hegger's primary responsibilities include oversight of all financial reporting as well as the cash and fiscal management of the company and its assets. Since joining the Predators, he refinanced the local and league-related credit facility for the organization and helped strengthen the relationship with the local banking partner. Hegger manages the budget and financial projection processes and is the team's primary contact with the NHL regarding financial reporting and projections. Hegger is also heavily involved in the organization's relationship with the city of Nashville, whose Sports Authority owns Bridgestone Arena, and the related lease between the entities.

Prior to joining the Predators, Hegger served as the Vice President of Finance for the NBA's Memphis Grizzlies. While with the Grizzlies, he managed the financial and payroll operations of the company, which included participating in a new league credit facility and streamlining the financial close and reporting process. Hegger began his sports and entertainment career with the St. Louis Blues where he headed the accounting department as the Controller. With the Blues, in addition to heading the accounting department, he was involved in several unique growth projects, such as the modeling and opening of the historic opera house in downtown St. Louis and the purchase of the Blues affiliated minor league team at the time. After receiving a bachelor's and master's degree in accounting from the University of Illinois, Hegger first entered the workforce as an auditor with PricewaterhouseCoopers.

Hegger and his wife, Lauren, reside in Franklin and have two daughters, Charlotte and Emily.

HEIDI BUNDREN
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, GENERAL COUNSEL

Heidi Bundren enters her eighth season with the Predators and sixth in her role as General Counsel in 2022-23. Bundren serves as the organization's chief legal advisor and provides direction on all legal matters impacting the team, Bridgestone Arena, Ford Ice Center Antioch and Bellevue and Sabertooth Sports & Entertainment. She is extensively involved in the organization's human resources initiatives as well as the development and implementation of legal strategies and initiatives, negotiating of stakeholder agreements, managing enterprise-wide deployment of legal services, collaborating with departments across the organization, managing litigation and ensuring compliance in all aspects of the organizations' operations. Heidi joined the organization in 2015 as Senior Counsel, was promoted to Assistant General Counsel in 2016 and entered her current position in October 2017.

Bundren is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Bundren is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

Bundren began her career as a consultant at KPMG Consulting, which offers global business consulting and advisory services. Prior to working for the Predators, she spent two years as a briefing attorney at the First Court of Appeals of Texas and more than five years at Haynes and Boone, a Texas-based AmLaw 100 U.S. law firm. Bundren's practice has been varied but has been concentrated in litigation and employment law matters.

Bundren earned a Bachelor of Arts in business administration and marketing from the University of Saint Thomas in 1999 and a Juris Doctor from the South Texas College of Law in 2005. A native of Houston, Texas, she now resides in Nashville with her husband, Brandon, and two sons, Riley and Rhett. Bundren serves as a board member of Ronald McDonald House Charities of Nashville.

NAT HARDEN
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF TICKETS, PREMIUM SALES & YOUTH HOCKEY

An "original Predator" who started with the franchise in 1997, Nat Harden is responsible for all ticket sales and premium sales, business analytics, youth hockey and Ford Ice Center Antioch and Bellevue.

Although the 2020-21 NHL season began with no fans in attendance, as soon as Bridgestone Arena was able to invite the Loyal Legion back to SMASHVILLE, Harden played a critical role in the implementation of the Loyal Legion Ticket Lottery presented by Tennessee Lottery, which established an exclusive and equitable opportunity for Season Ticket Citizens to attend Predators games. Under Harden's leadership, the organization went on to admit 14,107 fans for the team's final postseason game, the largest crowd of any NHL team appearing in the 2021 Stanley Cup Playoffs.

Following the pause of the 2019-20 season, Harden's direction saw the Nashville Predators not only work with every Season Ticket Citizen to offer payment and refund flexibility, but also safely and successfully re-opened the Ford Ice Centers that had been closed for more than three months. Prior to the season that was cut short, in 2018-19, the Predators enjoyed their most successful sales season, selling out 153 consecutive home games and selling out of season tickets for the second time in franchise history, accomplishments that the organization will strive to replicate in 2022-23.

Harden is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Harden is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

Harden started with the Predators as a Fan Relations Account Service Executive before becoming a Corporate Account Executive in 2000. He was promoted to Season Ticket Sales Manager prior to the 2003-04 season, Director of Ticket Sales in 2006, Vice President of Ticket Sales in 2007 and Senior Vice President of Ticket Sales in 2013.

A graduate of Mississippi State University with a bachelor's degree in business administration and a master's degree in sports administration, Harden played baseball for the Bulldogs from 1992-96. Since taking over the season-ticket sales, he has required all employees to ring a Mississippi State/Nashville Predators cowbell upon a sale.

Harden and his wife, Paige, reside in Nashville with their two children – 19-year-old son, Ty, and 16-year-old daughter, Clara.

DAVE URSO
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF OPERATIONS

Dave Urso enters his sixth season as Senior Vice President of Operations, where he oversees all arena and event operations. His role also focuses on Bridgestone Arena's food and beverage and merchandise operations, managing contractual and relationship elements of partnerships with outside vendors and others and continuing to build upon the Arena's quality control program.

Urso is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Urso is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

Urso spent 21 years with Centerplate (1988-09), where he worked as a concession manager at the Palace of Auburn Hills until 1995. After this first job, Urso moved on to become a Concessions Manager with the Jacksonville Jaguars until 1997. The following year, he started his five-year career with Tropicana Field as their General Manager before becoming Centerplate's Vice President of Operations for the Southeastern United States in 2002. Most recently, he spent six years as a Regional Vice President for Delaware North Companies Sportservice.

Urso and his wife, Tracy, reside in Brentwood. He has two sons, Jack (17), a senior at Ravenwood High School and Austin (24), who is currently pursuing his MBA at the University of Florida and works for Lockheed Martin in Dallas, Texas.

KYLE CLAYTON
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF OPERATIONS

Kyle Clayton is entering his 15th season with the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena and his second as Senior Vice President of Operations. Clayton is responsible for ensuring Bridgestone Arena remains dedicated to the fan experience by implementing fan feedback seasonally through building enhancements. Every year, Bridgestone Arena focuses their renovation plans on enhancing areas for every person that enters the building. Clayton's background in accounting and budget management has enabled the organization to maximize each project's potential. His team's experience provides flexibility that allows many projects to be completed during extremely short off seasons while maintaining a busy concert schedule that consistently ranks in the Top 10 in the U.S. for ticket sales. Clayton is also responsible for handling governmental affairs, such as managing the Predators' relationship with Nashville's Metro Sports Authority and Montgomery County Sports Authority.

Clayton is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Clayton is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

Clayton started with the organization in 2007 as an intern in the accounting department. Upon graduating from Tennessee Tech, he started full time in April 2008. Throughout his time in SMASHVILLE, he has served as Staff Accountant, Senior Accountant, Assistant Director of Finance, Director of Financial Reporting, Senior Director of Operations, Vice President of Operations and now Senior Vice President of Operations. Clayton is honored to work for his hometown team that is ranked as the No. 1 franchise in all of sports.

Clayton, a Middle Tennessee native, resides in Thompson's Station with his wife, Amanda, and children, Jackson, Noah and Charley.

JACK BURK
VICE PRESIDENT OF CORPORATE PARTNERSHIPS

Jack Burk joined the Nashville Predators in the spring of 2008. Entering his 15th season with the team, Burk is the current Vice President of Corporate Partnerships, overseeing all partnerships sales and service initiatives for the Nashville Predators, Bridgestone Arena and Ford Ice Center Antioch and Bellevue. Burk is a member of the Nashville Predators Foundation empowered by SmileDirectClub Board of Directors and serves as President of the Nashville Jr. Predators youth hockey organization.

Burk is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Burk is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

Burk attended Denison University in Granville, Ohio, where he earned a liberal arts degree in English literature. Upon graduation, Burk began his career as an executive recruiter for Chicago-based executive search firm, Reilly Partners. After going on to perform executive search work for the NHLPA, Burk made a career transition into the sports and entertainment industry. Burk started with the Nashville Predators in the ticket sales department in 2008 and moved into the corporate partnerships department two years later. Following a series of progressively responsible corporate partnerships roles, Burk was promoted to his current role of Vice President in March 2020.

Burk is a proud resident of Nashville, where he lives with his wife, Lindsay, and their two beautiful children, Brody and Blake.

DANNY BUTLER
VICE PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER OF FORD ICE CENTERS

Danny Butler is entering his 12th season with the Nashville Predators and his fourth as Vice President and General Manager of the Ford Ice Centers and F&M Bank Arena. Butler is responsible for all aspects of Ford Ice Center Antioch and Bellevue, from on-ice activities to facility operations. Butler oversaw the opening of Ford Ice Center Antioch in 2014 and all phases of design and construction of the newest ice rink, Ford Ice Center Bellevue, in 2019. He is currently overseeing the construction of F&M Bank Arena in Clarksville and the announced Ford Ice Center in Sumner County. Butler's background is in event management with a focus in facility operations.

Butler is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Butler is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

Since opening, the Ford Ice Centers have hosted more than one million visitors annually at each building. Through outstanding partnerships with the Nashville Jr. Predators, GNASH (High School hockey), CCM World Invite, Gretzky Hockey School and so many other events, the Ford Ice Centers continue to be two of the busiest ice rinks in the United States. Butler oversaw the design and implementation of all on-ice programing in the facilities. This includes one of the Top 5 largest Learn to Skate programs in the country, an adult hockey league that has over 1,600 active members, Nashville Predators youth hockey that has grown youth hockey in Tennessee by more than 35 percent, Nashville JV Hockey and countless other programs that further the expansion of hockey and skating in Middle Tennessee.

Butler's career in sports started early, spending a lot of time as a child with his father, who worked in multiple sports facilities all over the United States. In the summer, you would often see Butler right behind his father as he showed him the ropes of this fast-paced environment. Butler interned with the Tampa Bay Rays 10 years after his father helped open Tropicana Field. Following the internship, Butler was hired by the Tampa Bay Lightning, spending three seasons there before moving to Nashville. In 2011, Butler was hired by the Nashville Predators as an Event Coordinator, serving in that role for three years before becoming the General Manager of Ford Ice Center.

Butler is a graduate of Belmont Abbey College. He is married to his wife Amy and has three children – Blake, Everett and Collins. Butler was born in New York and currently resides in Nolensville.

DAVID CHADWELL
VICE PRESIDENT OF EVENTS

David Chadwell is the current Vice President of Events for the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena, a role he assumed in August 2012. A well-rounded executive with experience in front- and back-of-house operations – including crowd control, event medical, event services, food and beverage, parking, public safety, quality assurance, space planning and ticket operations – Chadwell is responsible for the experience of every guest entering Bridgestone Arena. Chadwell was instrumental in designing and developing Lexus Lounge, a state of the art 500-person capacity event-level lounge with annual revenues of over $5 million. Chadwell joined Bridgestone Arena and the Nashville Predators full time in 2003 as Box Office Event Manager, advancing to Assistant Director of Ticketing in 2004 and Director of Ticket Operations in 2005.

Chadwell is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Chadwell is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

Before coming to Bridgestone Arena, the Nashville native worked at Starwood Amphitheatre and Creative Artist Agency. He also spent time on tour with the legendary B.B. King. A Middle Tennessee State University alumnus, Chadwell has a bachelor's degree in mass communication with an emphasis in music business. During his tenure with Bridgestone Arena, Chadwell has received three awards for leadership, as voted on by his peers. He has been a member of the International Ticketing Association (INTIX) since 2005 and International Association of Venue Managers (IAVM) since 2012.

Chadwell and his wife, Scarlett, reside in Mt. Juliet, love to travel and have two sons, Tyson and Maddox, and a daughter, Berkley.

MANAGEMENT

TIM FRIEDENBERGER
VICE PRESIDENT OF FACILITY OPERATIONS

Tim Friedenberger is in his 10th season as Vice President of Facility Operations with the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena.

Friedenberger is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Friedenberger is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

Friedenberger began his career in sports and entertainment with the Tampa Bay Lightning in 1992. During his tenure, he served as the lead Ice Technician, Director of Operations and Vice President of Facility Operations.

He got his first taste of the entertainment industry while touring around the country with various types of productions and cut his teeth on the business of ice as a project manager installing ice rinks throughout the United States, Europe and Asia. Friedenberger's passion and dedication to ice and hockey have earned him the respect of his peers throughout the National Hockey League.

Friedenberger and his wife, Ginger, reside in Nolensville and have three sons who all love hockey and Tennessee.

BRITT KINCHELOE
VICE PRESIDENT OF GUEST SERVICES

Britt Kincheloe first joined the staff of the then called 'Nashville Arena' prior to its grand opening in December 1996. During her 25 years on staff, Kincheloe has worked at the switchboard, in the box office, marketing and group sales before joining the premium seats department. She has also led the corporate partnership and season ticket service departments and currently leads the guest services team for all events at Bridgestone Arena.

Kincheloe is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Kincheloe is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

A graduate of Vanderbilt University with a bachelor's degree in communication studies, Kincheloe is passionate about Mickey Fisher Memorial Scholarship initiatives and enjoys traveling and spending time with family.

REBECCA KING
VICE PRESIDENT OF COMMUNITY RELATIONS

A 17-year veteran of the Nashville Predators Community Relations department, Rebecca King currently holds the title of Vice President of Community Relations and serves as Executive Director of the Nashville Predators Foundation empowered by SmileDirectClub. Through the Predators Foundation, King oversees all the organization's community outreach, fundraising efforts and distribution of funding to local non-profits. She also supervises the Nashville Predators Foundation Helper Grants and SuperGrant programs, the 365 Pediatric Cancer Fund presented by Twice Daily, annual KaBOOM! playground builds and all player charitable initiatives.

King is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. King is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

In 2019, under King's direction, the Predators Foundation partnered with Nashville-based SmileDirectClub in an ongoing effort to meet educational, social, health and cultural needs throughout Nashville and Middle Tennessee. As a result of this groundbreaking partnership, multiple SuperGrants ranging from $25,000 to $100,000 are awarded each season to Middle Tennessee community organizations. To date, the SuperGrant program has distributed more than $700,000 to a variety of non-profit organizations in support of programming or the completion of largescale projects that empower people during times of life transitions. Additionally, in 2020 alone during the pandemic, the Predators Foundation spearheaded the allocation of approximately $5.5 million in life-changing funds to assist a wide variety of relief efforts, non-profit organizations and individuals in need across the Nashville community and surrounding areas. Since its inception in 1998, the Predators Foundation has awarded over $8 million in Foundation grants to the greater Nashville community.

Prior to working for the Predators, King worked in Community Relations for the NBA's Golden State Warriors for five seasons. A graduate of University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill with a bachelor's degree in psychology, King resides in Nashville with her husband Eric, daughters Elliott and Taylor, son Beckett, three rescue dogs, Abby, Lucy and Goose, and two rescue kittens, Piper and Smokey. She enjoys traveling, trail running, mountain biking and hiking.

MANAGEMENT

ROBIN LEE
VICE PRESIDENT OF CORPORATE SPONSORSHIP SERVICE

Robin Lee joined the Nashville Predators in the summer of 2013. Prior to joining the National Hockey League, Lee spent time working in the National Football League, National Basketball Association, and Women's National Basketball Association. Lee currently oversees the Corporate Partnerships Service and Activation team, which manages execution and fulfilment for each of the Predators' corporate partnerships.

Since joining the Nashville Predators, Lee has served on the Employee Advisory Board for six years, including three years as President. The Employee Advisory Board, selected by the Preds Executive team, is a vital component of the Preds organization, creating a fun and inclusive workplace for employees. Lee also serves as one of four founders for the Preds DEI board, GUIDER (Growth, Understanding, Inclusion, Diversity, Equality, and Representation). Since its launch in the summer of 2020, the Preds GUIDER platform has utilized Preds resources and relationships to build diversity within the Preds front office, create opportunities within youth sports, recognize minority-owned businesses and organizations, and further Bridgestone Arena's goal towards creating a welcoming environment for patrons of all backgrounds.

Lee is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Our fan support solidifies our constant spot as a Top Workplace by the Tennessean and as the No. 1 professional sports franchise by ESPN, and without their tireless dedication to this franchise and passion for all we aim to achieve, we would not be the organization we are today. Mosley is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

Mosley is a Brentwood native, and prior to her arrival in SMASHVILLE, she spent several years working in HR for Tractor Supply Company, headquartered just south of Nashville in her hometown. Mosley received her bachelor's degree in English from the University of Tennessee and is a graduate of Nashville School of Law. She began her career in SMASHVILLE as an HR Generalist and has held roles as Director and Sr. Director of HR. She was promoted to her current role of Vice President in July 2020.

Mosley resides in Nashville with her husband, Philip, and their two children, Watson and Annie.

JILL ORMANDY
VICE PRESIDENT, ASSISTANT GENERAL COUNSEL

Jill Ormandy, who enters her seventh season with the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena in 2021-2022, assumed the role of Vice President, Assistant General Counsel in February 2021. In this position, Ormandy serves as legal counsel for the Predators organization and collaborates with all internal departments on the development and execution of business strategies. First joining the organization as Counsel in March 2016, Ormandy served as Senior Counsel and then Assistant General Counsel prior to taking on her current position.

Ormandy is most proud of and grateful for that very community – all of SMASHVILLE, the Loyal Legion, and the 7th Man – for creating such an amazingly unique bond with the Preds. Without their support, we would not have been recognized as Arena of the Year by Pollstar magazine, IEBA, CMA and ACM. Ormandy is proud to serve these incredible fans alongside the best employees in the industry to reach our ONEGOAL, to be the No. 1 sports and entertainment venue in the United States with its centerpiece being the Stanley Cup Champion Nashville Predators hockey team.

Ormandy began her career at Turner Broadcasting in New York City, working in advertising sales and account management roles. After law school, Ormandy served as a judicial law clerk in the Court of Common Pleas in Philadelphia County, Pa., in the civil and commercial litigation divisions. Before joining the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena, Ormandy spent four years in legal and business affairs roles at IMG, advising and supporting talent agents in the representation of athletes, coaches, broadcasters and entertainers, primarily in the areas of endorsements and marketing, media, and appearances.

Ormandy graduated from Saint Joseph's University in Philadelphia, Pa., with a Bachelor of Science in marketing and then went on to earn her Juris Doctor from Villanova University School of Law.

Ormandy serves as a board member of the Athletics Advisory Council for her alma mater, Saint Joseph's University. Ormandy is from Brooklyn, N.Y., and is now a proud resident of SMASHVILLE.

HOCKEY OPERATIONS

JEFF KEALTY
ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER & DIRECTOR OF SCOUTING

Jeff Kealty enters his 22nd season with the Nashville Predators organization and fifth as the team's Assistant General Manager and Director of Scouting in 2022-23, overseeing Nashville's professional and amateur scouting efforts.

Before being promoted to Director of Player Personnel on Dec. 1, 2017, Kealty spent 11 seasons as Nashville's Chief Amateur Scout; his scouting played an integral role in the acquisitions of Filip Forsberg and Ryan Johansen. With his experience in amateur scouting all over the world and development of prospects within the Predators system, 13 players who were drafted or signed as an amateur free agent by the Predators during his tenure appeared on the team's 2021-22 roster, including Roman Josi, Juuse Saros, Tanner Jeannot, Philip Tomasino, Mattias Ekholm, Alexandre Carrier, Colton Sissons, Dante Fabbro, Yakov Trenin and Eeli Tolvanen. The Predators have reached the Stanley Cup Final (2017), won the Presidents' Trophy (2018) and qualified for the playoffs in each of the last eight seasons with Kealty overseeing the team's scouting.

The Boston, Mass., native has overseen Nashville's past 15 drafts, helping to bolster the club's depth across the board, selecting 57 forwards, 38 defensemen and 13 goalies since his first year running Nashville's draft table in 2008.

Nashville continued to reap the benefits of Kealty and his staff's astute drafting over the past few seasons. Saros, a 2013 fourth-round pick, became the team's full-time starter in 2020-21 and finished third in Vezina Trophy voting last season after recording a career-high 38 wins. Carrier, another Kealty draft choice, (2015 fourth-round pick), posted 30 points (3g-27a) in 77 games during his first full NHL season in 2021-22, earning a spot on the NHL's All-Rookie Team. Fabbro, Nashville's 2016 first-round pick, has appeared in 174 career games since making his NHL debut in 2018-19, while Tomasino (2019 first-round pick), Tolvanen (2017 first-round pick) and Trenin (2015 second-round pick) made positive contributions last season. Filip Forsberg – whose 220 career goals are the most in Predators history – was ranked third by Nashville's scouting staff for the 2012 NHL Draft, an integral component in his acquisition from Washington. Additionally, the blockbuster trade for center Ryan Johansen in January 2016 was made possible by the scouting staff's knack for selecting world-class defensemen.

Other homegrown selections selected early in the Kealty era such as Josi, Ekholm and Saros have developed into core pieces of the Predators. Looking down the entire organizational depth chart, Nashville is bullish on the future of its past several first-round picks, including forwards Joakim Kemell (17th overall in 2022), Fedor Svechkov (19th overall in 2021) and Zachary L'Heureux (27th overall in 2021), and goaltender Yaroslav Askarov (11th overall in 2020) amongst others in a deep crop of talent.

A first-round pick (22nd overall) of the Quebec Nordiques in 1994, Kealty was signed by Nashville as a free agent in 1998 following a four-year college career at Boston University. The former defenseman played one pro season for the Milwaukee Admirals (International Hockey League) before his playing career was cut short due to injury.

Kealty and his wife, Lynn, reside in Norfolk, Mass., and have three kids – twins James and Lydia and their youngest daughter, Hannah.

BRIAN POILE
ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER & DIRECTOR OF HOCKEY OPERATIONS

Brian Poile enters his 13th season with the Nashville Predators as the Director of Hockey Operations and his fifth as Assistant General Manager in 2022-23. In his role, Poile assists in all facets of the daily management of the hockey department, fiscal and strategic planning, player and staff personnel decisions, pro scouting, player contract negotiation and salary arbitration. Poile also oversees the teams' top minor affiliation agreement with the AHL's Milwaukee Admirals, serves as the team's Alternate Governor for the Admirals and is on the AHL's Player Development Committee. Poile is the facilitator for hockey operations and the organization's leadership team, finance, legal, corporate partnerships, marketing, communications, community relations, broadcast, human relations, hockey facilities and Bridgestone Arena ventures. He also carries out his responsibilities as the team's Director of Hockey Operations, which include managing the club's roster, player payroll, budget, salary cap, the team's statistical and competitive analysis departments, the training, medical and equipment staffs, NHL CR administration, NHL CBA compliance and the department's day-to-day business operations.

During his tenure, Poile has been a part of every playoff series win in team history including Anaheim (2011), Detroit (2012), Anaheim (2016), Chicago, St. Louis and Anaheim (2017), and Colorado (2018). Most recently, Poile helped oversee the two most successful regular seasons in franchise history, which included a Presidents' Trophy (2017-18) and back-to-back Central Division titles (2017-18 and 2018-19). Also, in his time with the Predators management team, David Poile has been nominated for General Manager of the Year three times and won the award in 2017.

Poile began his career with the NHL's Dallas Stars under the leadership of Bob Gainey and Doug Armstrong as the Stars' Director of Team Services and then spent three seasons as the Stars' Director of Hockey Operations for their American Hockey League affiliate, the Utah Grizzlies, in Salt Lake City. In his role in Utah, Poile managed the Grizzlies hockey department, club roster, budget, player contracts, team travel, schedules, training camps, AHL/ECHL/CHL scouting, team and AHL administration. He also served as an AHL Alternate Team Governor, managed the Grizzlies affiliation agreements with the Dallas Stars (NHL), Montreal Canadiens (NHL), Florida Panthers (NHL), Lexington Men-o-War (ECHL), New Mexico Scorpions (CHL) and Idaho Steelheads (ECHL) as well as the administration and compliance for the AHL and Professional Hockey Players Association Collective Bargaining Agreement.

Hockey roots run deep in the Poile family. He is the son of Predators' President of Hockey Operations/General Manager David Poile and grandson of Hockey Hall of Fame inductee and 1947 Stanley Cup winner Norman "Bud" Poile. Poile earned his bachelor's degree in communications at Boston College.

Poile his wife, Valerie, son Wyatt and dogs Wiley and Dexter reside in Nashville. The Poiles are members of the Nashville community and support many education, health and fitness groups, animal rescues, Best Buddies Tennessee, Peterson for Parkinson's and the Nashville Predators Foundation.

@RealScottNichol

SCOTT NICHOL
ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER, MILWAUKEE ADMIRALS GENERAL MANAGER & DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Scott Nichol enters second season as Assistant General Manager, fifth as General Manager of the Milwaukee Admirals and 10th as the Director of Player Development in 2022-23. Nichol manages the Predators' primary development affiliate, the American Hockey League's Milwaukee Admirals, in addition to his current role as Director of Player Development. During Nichol's nine seasons of guidance in his player development role, he has helped players such as Filip Forsberg, Colton Sissons, Eeli Tolvanen, Alexandre Carrier, Philip Tomasino, Tanner Jeannot and Yakov Trenin secure full-time spots in the NHL and lead the Predators to the postseason in each of their last eight campaigns.

After opting out of the 2020-21 season due to COVID-19, the Admirals returned to the AHL in 2021-22 and qualified for the Calder Cup Playoffs, doing so each year the team has been eligible with Nichol as GM. With help from 25 players on NHL contracts with Nashville, including forward Cody Glass, who led the team and was tied for 15th in the AHL in points with 62 (14g-48a), Milwaukee went 39-28-5-4 (87) and reached the third round of the playoffs. The previous season, the Chicago Wolves served as Nashville's affiliate, sporting a roster split with prospects from the Carolina Hurricanes, and went 21-9-3 en route to a Central Division title. In 2019-20, Nichol engineered a Milwaukee club that went 41-14-5-3 (90 points) and won the Macgregor Kilpatrick Trophy as AHL regular-season champions. A testament to Nichol's proven track record of developing NHL talent, a total of 32 players who have skated for Milwaukee (and Chicago in 2020-21) since he became GM have also played in an NHL game for the Predators.

Nichol hung up the skates and rejoined the Predators organization in May 2013 after completing a 20-season professional career that spanned from 1994-95 to 2012-13. The Edmonton, Alta., native played four seasons with the Preds from 2005-09, posting 47 points (24g-23a) in 209 games. A veteran of 662 career NHL contests, Nichol tallied 127 points (56g-71a) and 916 penalty minutes with Buffalo, Calgary, Chicago, Nashville, San Jose and St. Louis and scored a career-best 10 goals in 2007-08 with the Preds. Nichol also compiled 211 points (90g-121a) and 1,029 penalty minutes in 398 games at the American and International Hockey League level with Rochester, Detroit and Milwaukee. He helped the San Jose Sharks advance to back-to-back Western Conference Finals in 2010 and 2011 and won the AHL's Calder Cup as a member of the Rochester Americans in 1996.

Perennially one of the NHL's top face-off men, Nichol, led the League in face-off efficiency in 2007-08 with Nashville and during the 2009-10 season with San Jose. He also holds a Nashville franchise record for shorthanded goals in a game and period with two in the second period of a 5-2 victory at St. Louis on Jan. 19, 2008.

Nichol and his wife, Christie, a florist, reside in Nashville and have three kids – sons Hayden and Foster and daughter Sophia. Hayden is entering his second season as a forward for the NAHL's Shreveport Mudbugs after posting 11 points (2g-9a) in 47 games as a rookie in 2021-22; Foster, a defenseman, is a senior and will play for the U-18 Jr. Preds this season; and Sophia is a sophomore at Ravenwood High School and is on the varsity lacrosse team. The family also has two dogs – Cali, an Airedale terrier, and Lucy, a wire fox terrier.

NATHAN GERBE
FORWARD DEVELOPMENT COACH

Nathan Gerbe enters his first season with the Nashville Predators organization as the Forward Development Coach in 2022-23. In his role, he assists Assistant GM/Director of Player Development/ Milwaukee Admirals GM Scott Nichol in following and evaluating forward prospects drafted and signed by Nashville, helping them with their maturation process into NHL players by focusing on nutrition, off-ice workouts and conditioning, practice habits and game performance.

A veteran of 13 professional seasons, Gerbe played parts of 11 campaigns in the NHL with Buffalo, Carolina and Columbus, tallying 151 points (63g-88a) in 435 games. He closed out his playing career with the AHL's Cleveland Monsters from 2017-21, serving as captain for two seasons; he also skated two seasons in the Swiss league from 2016-18. In addition to being a two-time AHL All-Star and the AHL Rookie of the Year in 2008-09, Gerbe earned numerous awards prior to turning pro. He was named NCAA Tournament MVP en route to a national championship with Boston College as a junior in 2007-08; that same season, he also helped the Eagles win the Hockey East as conference tournament MVP, recorded the most goals (35) and points (68) among all Division I skaters and was a finalist for the Hobey Baker Award. Internationally, the Oxford, Mich., native represented the United States several times, including at the 2005 World U-18 Championship, where he won gold; at the 2004 World U-18 Championship, earning silver; and at two World Junior Championships, taking home bronze in 2007. Prior to enrolling at Boston College, he spent two seasons with USA Hockey's National Team Development Program from 2003-05.

Gerbe and his wife, Brennan, reside in Oxford, Mich., with their four children – sons Lennox, Rylan and Nico and daughter, Blake. Brennan also attended Boston College, where she played volleyball.

DAVE ROOK
GOALTENDING DEVELOPMENT COACH

Dave Rook enters his ninth season with the Nashville Predators organization and fourth as Goaltending Development Coach in 2022-23. In his role, he assists Assistant GM/Director of Player Development/ Milwaukee Admirals GM Scott Nichol in following and evaluating goaltending prospects drafted and signed by Nashville, helping them with their maturation process into NHL players by focusing on nutrition, off-ice workouts and conditioning, practice habits and game performance.

Rook spent his first five seasons with the Predators serving as a goaltending consultant. A coach in junior and professional hockey for more than 20 years, Rook has extensive experience helping goaltenders be successful at the NHL and AHL levels, including Juuse Saros and Connor Ingram. Under Rook's guidance, Saros has earned consideration for multiple NHL awards, finishing third in Vezina Trophy voting in 2021-22 and 11th in Hart Trophy voting in 2020-21. He also worked closely with Ingram and Troy Grosenick during Milwaukee's 2019-20 AHL campaign, helping the duo earn the Harry "Hap" Holmes Award, which is presented to goaltenders (appearing in a minimum of 25 games) on the team with the lowest goals-against average at the end of the season.

In addition to his work with the Predators, he spent nine seasons as the goaltending coach for the OHL's London Knights, winning the Memorial Cup and OHL championship in 2005 and 2016. Rook also has five additional years of NHL experience, working with the St. Louis Blues in a development role and the Columbus Blue Jackets as their goaltending coach from 2009-11. He coached professionally for one season in both Switzerland and Italy.

Rook and his wife, Krista, reside in London, Ont., and have two sons – Cameron and Tyler.

ROB SCUDERI
DEFENSE DEVELOPMENT COACH

Rob Scuderi enters his fourth season with the Nashville Predators organization as the Defense Development Coach in 2022-23. In his role, he assists Assistant GM/Director of Player Development/ Milwaukee Admirals GM Scott Nichol in following and evaluating defensive prospects drafted and signed by Nashville, helping them with their maturation process into NHL players by focusing on nutrition, off-ice workouts and conditioning, practice habits and game performance.

In 2019-20, Scuderi spent the final 32 games (28 regular season, four postseason) of Nashville's season as an Interim Assistant Coach under Head Coach John Hynes, who was hired on Jan. 7, 2020. With Scuderi on the bench helping coach the defensemen, the Predators went 16-11-1 en route to earning a spot in the 2020 Stanley Cup Qualifiers. Scuderi returned to his role as Defense Development Coach following the conclusion of the 2019-20 season.

Scuderi retired in 2016 after spending 12 years in the NHL with the Pittsburgh Penguins, Los Angeles Kings and Chicago Blackhawks. He is a two-time Stanley Cup champion, claiming hockey's ultimate prize with Pittsburgh in 2009 and Los Angeles in 2012, and in his 738 career NHL games picked up 110 points (89-102a) and 198 penalty minutes. The defenseman served as an alternate captain on Pittsburgh's Cup-winning squad and captained the AHL's Wilkes-Barre/Scranton Penguins during the 2004-05 season.

Scuderi, a Syosset, N.Y., native, played college hockey at Boston College from 1997-01, winning the NCAA title in 2001 and the Hockey East championship three times. During the 2018-19 season, he served as a development coach for the P.A.L. Junior Islanders, a junior hockey team located in Hauppauge, N.Y.

Scuderi and his wife, Courtney, reside in Garden City, N.Y., and have four kids – sons Ryan and Brett and daughters Kate and Claire.

JACKIE MUNZEL
SKATING COACH

Jacki Munzel enters her second season with the Nashville Predators organization as a Skating Coach on the team's development staff. In her role, she supports Assistant GM/Director of Player Development/Milwaukee Admirals GM Scott Nichol by working alongside players to maximize their speed through edge control and aid in their in-game recovery. She has spent the past 35 years training numerous athletes of all ages and abilities in power skating and has been part of development programs for Olympic figure skating medalists and NHL and collegiate hockey players.

Munzel, who has a background as a fast and powerful figure skater, owns a skating career that includes representing U.S. Figure Skating as a medalist in national and international competitions as well as being an alternate world team member. After beginning to coach skaters on technical skating during her competitive retirement, she reinvented herself and returned to the ice at the age of 46 to attempt speed skating for the first time. She went on to claim masters titles and set masters international world records in long track speed skating; she then qualified and raced – in every distance – at the 2014 Olympic speedskating trials at the age of 50.

Munzel and her husband, Michael, reside in Centerville and have three children and one grandchild. Sara Santos, a music teacher, lives in the Boston area with her daughter, Isabella; Zachary Allen is a sanitation business manager and lives on Long Island, N.Y.,; and Thomas is an account specialist who also lives on Long Island.

TOM NOLAN
CHIEF AMATEUR SCOUT

Tom Nolan enters his fifth season as the Predators' Chief Amateur Scout in 2022-23. Nolan, who formerly served as one of the team's North American scouts for 10 seasons beginning in 2008, was promoted to Chief Amateur Scout on June 21, 2018. In his role, Nolan helps Assistant General Manager/Director of Scouting Jeff Kealty oversee the organization's amateur scouting efforts all over the globe.

Nolan had a hand in scouting several of Nashville's most recent first-round selections. He evaluated 2022 first-round pick Joakim Kemell (17th overall), rated as high as No. 3 overall on some draft boards, on multiple occasions; he also scouted Fedor Svechkov, Nashville's 19th overall pick in 2021, at the 2021 U-18 World Championship, and had Zachary L'Heureux – who the team traded up to take at 27th overall – ranked among the top 15 skaters in the draft.

During his 14-year tenure with the organization, Nolan has had a hand in scouting many players who currently feature on the Predators roster. Nolan scouted goaltender Juuse Saros, who posted the best season of his NHL career in 2021-22, finishing third in Vezina Trophy voting, as well as 2017 first-rounder Eeli Tolvanen. Colton Sissons, another skater scouted by Nolan and drafted by the Predators in 2012, has spent his entire 455-game NHL career with the franchise and played a key role in helping Nashville reach the 2017 Stanley Cup Final. Nolan's insight also led to the Predators drafting current forwards Philip Tomasino (24th overall in 2019) and Yakov Trenin (55th overall in 2015) as well as highly-touted goaltending prospect Yaroslav Askarov (11th overall in 2020).

Nolan, a Springfield, Mass., native, played two seasons of professional hockey in the East Coast Hockey League and International Hockey League from 1998-00. He recorded 48 goals and 96 points with the ECHL's Mobile Mysticks from 1998-00 and had stints with the IHL's Grand Rapids and Houston, in addition to one game with the American Hockey League's Springfield Falcons. Prior to turning pro, Nolan was a standout at the University of New Hampshire, compiling 164 points (66g-98a) in 135 games for the Wildcats from 1993-98.

Nolan and his wife, Shannon, reside in Hampton, N.H., and have two kids – son Ryan and daughter Reese.

COACHING STAFF

JOHN HYNES
HEAD COACH

John Hynes enters his fourth season as head coach of the Nashville Predators in 2022-23. Known as an exceptional leader and teacher who has a proven track record of effectively developing young players and motivating veterans, he was named the third head coach in Predators history on Jan. 7, 2020. In 166 regular-season games as head coach of the Predators, Hynes owns a 92-64-10 record (.584 point percentage).

Last season, Hynes' second full campaign – and first in an 82-game schedule – behind the Nashville bench, he led the team to its eight consecutive playoff berth, the longest streak in team history and tied for the second-longest active streak in the NHL, after compiling a 45-30-7 record (97 points). It was Hynes' fourth career Stanley Cup Playoff appearance as an NHL head coach and third with the Predators. Several players flourished offensively under Hynes in the 2021-22 campaign as the team scored 266 goals – the third-most in a season in franchise history – and operated at 24.4 percent on the power play, the fourth-best mark in the NHL and the best in Nashville's record books. Among the 11 Predators skaters who established career highs offensively included Captain Roman Josi, who set the franchise record for points (96) and assists (73) in a season en route to being named a finalist for the Norris Trophy and Ted Lindsay Award; forward Matt Duchene, whose 43 goals were the most in a single-season in team history and the eighth-most in the NHL; forward Filip Forsberg, who became Nashville's all-time leading goal scorer and reached the 40-goal plateau for the first time in his NHL career, finishing with 42 tallies and 84 points; and forward Mikael Granlund, whose 53 assists were the third-most in a season in Predators lore. It was the first season in Predators history to have three players with at least 80 points, and Nashville was one of two NHL teams in 2021-22 to have two players score at least 42 goals. Hynes' impact on the team's success also extended to the team's seven rookies who dressed, as they combined for 279 games played and produced more goals (39) and points (112) than any other campaign in Predators history. In goal, Hynes was rewarded for his trust in Juuse Saros, as the 27-year-old finished third in Vezina Trophy voting after starting a career-high 67 games, winning 38 of them. At the end of the season, Hynes came in ninth place in Jack Adams voting – earning one first-place vote – finishing in the Top 10 for the award for the second time in his career.

In 2020-21, Hynes' first full season behind the Nashville bench, he again led the team to the playoffs, recording 64 points and a 31-23-2 record in the 56-game regular season. After a start to the season that saw the Predators sitting outside the playoff picture, Hynes led his team to a 20-7-1 record in the final 28 games of the campaign – tied for the third-most wins in the NHL from March 15 on – to qualify for the postseason. A testament to his ability to foster an environment for young players to thrive in, a team-record 12 rookies skated for the Predators in 2020-21, five of whom saw the ice in Nashville's Stanley Cup Playoffs first round series against Carolina, including defenseman Alexandre Carrier and forward Eeli Tolvanen. Mixed with the infusion of young talent was an ability to find consistent and impactful line combinations and pairings – down the stretch, Hynes found chemistry by linking Yakov Trenin, Colton Sissons and Tanner Jeannot on the team's fourth line, having Ryan Johansen center Forsberg and Duchene, and pairing Josi with Carrier on the team's top defensive unit. Hynes also started Saros 35 times as he finished sixth in Vezina Trophy and 11th in Hart Trophy voting.

COACHING STAFF

Hynes' first season with the Predators, 2019-20, saw him take over as head coach in January and lead the Predators to a 16-11-1 regular-season record in the team's final 28 games, helping Nashville finish sixth in the Western Conference in point percentage (.565) and clinch a berth in the 2020 Stanley Cup Qualifiers. Hynes, who made his Predators coaching debut the same day he was hired against Boston at Bridgestone Arena, installed multiple system changes – including a switch to zone coverage in the defensive end – that paid dividends for the Predators, who allowed 2.86 goals-against per game under Hynes compared to their 3.27 mark in the first half of the season. He earned his first victory as Predators coach on Jan. 9, 2020 at Chicago – notably the same game former goaltender Pekka Rinne scored his first career NHL goal – and achieved considerable success against Nashville's Central Division opponents, going 7-2-1 head-to-head with the team's closest rivals. Hynes reached the postseason for the second time as an NHL head coach and won his first postseason game with the Predators in Game 2 of their Qualifying Round series against the Arizona Coyotes.

The 47-year-old has compiled a 242-223-55 record as an NHL head coach in seven seasons spent with Nashville and the New Jersey Devils. He was named head coach of the Devils prior to the 2014-15 campaign and led them to a six-point improvement in his first season, finishing with 84 points compared to 78 the season before. Following a 2016-17 season that saw his team finish 28-40-14 (70 points), Hynes engineered a 27-point improvement in 2017-18, the largest in New Jersey history, and led the Devils to the playoffs for the first time since 2011-12.

During the 2017-18 campaign, Hynes' Devils finished with a 44-29-9 record (97 points) and featured Hart Trophy winner Taylor Hall, who tallied a career-high 93 points (39g-54a) in 76 games. He also oversaw the development of 2017's No. 1 overall pick Nico Hischier, helping him record a career-best 52 points (20g-32a) – tied for the sixth-most among NHL rookies – in his first NHL season. For his efforts, Hynes earned the sixth-most votes for the Jack Adams Award as the NHL's top coach.

Multiple players across the League elevated their play under Hynes' watch in his tenure with the Devils. In addition to helping Hall to an MVP award and Hischier to a spot as one of the NHL's top young players, Hynes also assisted in the development of forward Kyle Palmieri, who established career highs in goals (30) and points (57) during his first season in New Jersey in 2015-16. Prior to his trade to Anaheim, forward Adam Henrique reached the 50-point mark under Hynes in 2015-16 and followed it up with a 20-goal, 40-point season the year after. Additionally, defenseman Adam Larsson posted a career-high 24 points (3g-21a) in 2014-15, Hynes' first season with the Devils; defenseman Sami Vatanen tallied 28 of his 32 points in 2017-18 under Hynes following a trade from Anaheim; and he helped develop current NHL regulars such as Damon Severson, Miles Wood, Will Butcher and Jesper Bratt.

Before joining the Devils organization, Hynes served as head coach of the AHL's Wilkes-Barre/Scranton Penguins for five seasons from 2010-15 and was an assistant coach with the club in 2009-10. Hynes led the Penguins to five consecutive Calder Cup Playoff berths, including back-to-back trips to the Eastern Conference Final in 2012-13 and 2013-14, and earned AHL Coach of the Year honors in 2011. Wilkes-Barre/Scranton allowed the fewest goals in the AHL in four of his five seasons at the helm and Hynes helped develop several players who are making an impact in the NHL today, such as Pittsburgh's Bryan Rust and Kasperi Kapanen.

In between assistant coaching positions at UMass-Lowell (2000-01) and the University of Wisconsin (2002-03), Hynes spent nine seasons on the coaching staff of USA Hockey's National Team Development Program, serving as an assistant from 1998-2000 and 2001-02 and as head coach from 2003-09. While with the NTDP, Hynes developed players like Patrick Kane, Jimmy Howard, Phil Kessel, Jimmy Hayes and Jason Zucker while also excelling on the world's stage, claiming four U-18 World Championship medals – two of them gold (2002 and 2006).

The native of Warwick, R.I., served as an assistant coach for the United States at the 2004 World Junior Championship, where the Americans won gold for the first time and earned their first medal in the event since 1997. Hynes earned the opportunity to represent his country again on the world's stage, as on Sept. 3, 2021, USA Hockey announced he would serve as an assistant coach for the U.S. at the 2022 Winter Olympics in Beijing, China; the NHL ultimately announced in December 2021 that NHL coaches and players would not participate in the event.

Hynes began his coaching career at his alma mater of Boston University as an assistant under longtime Terriers head coach Jack Parker in 1997-98. A forward on the Terriers hockey team from 1993-97, he helped lead BU to four consecutive Frozen Four appearances, including an NCAA title in 1995. He was teammates with Predators Assistant General Manager/Director of Scouting Jeff Kealty for three seasons while at Boston University.

Hynes and his wife, Sarah, reside in Brentwood and have three daughters – Sophia, Julia and Anna.

DAN LAMBERT
ASSISTANT COACH

Dan Lambert enters his fourth season with the Nashville Predators organization as an assistant coach in 2022-23. Lambert's responsibilities include running the team's power play and consulting on its forward group.

Last season, Lambert was part of a coaching staff that led the Predators to a spot in the Stanley Cup Playoffs for the eighth consecutive campaign. His work with the team's power play resulted in it posting the best percentage in team history at 24.4 percent, also the fourth-best mark in the NHL. Several players established career highs in various power-play stats – Matt Duchene scored a career-high 16 power-play goals and tied for third in the League in the category; Roman Josi's career-high 37 power-play points (11g-26a) were tied for the sixth-most among all NHL skaters and were the second-most among NHL blueliners; and Filip Forsberg tallied a career-high 17 power-play assists in addition to his 10 goals on the man advantage. Under Lambert's guidance, a total of four Predators skaters recorded at least 10 power-play goals and 11 players scored at least one power-play goal in 2021-22.

In his first two seasons, Lambert boosted the team's prowess on the power play. During the 2020-21 campaign, Eeli Tolvanen netted six power-play goals, tied for the second-most among NHL rookies; in his first campaign, the team's power play improved by nearly five percent compared to the season before, and in the offensive zone, the Preds scored 3.07 goals per game compared to their 2018-19 average of 2.88.

Prior to joining the Predators, Lambert spent two seasons as head coach of the Western Hockey League's Spokane Chiefs. In 2018-19, he led the Chiefs to a 40-21-2-5 record en route to the WHL's Western Conference Final, the team's longest playoff run since 2011. With Lambert at the helm, Spokane's power play led the WHL in 2018-19, operating at 29.1 percent (81-for-278), the second-highest across the entire CHL.

Lambert brings previous NHL coaching experience to the Predators bench, having served one season as an assistant coach for the Buffalo Sabres in 2015-16. Following his time in Buffalo, he spent the 2016-17 campaign as head coach of the AHL's Rochester Americans, where he helped nine players establish AHL career highs in points. Before his stops in Buffalo and Rochester, Lambert spent six seasons with the WHL's Kelowna Rockets, serving five as an assistant (2009-14) and one as head coach (2014-15). During his lone season at the helm of the Rockets, he led the team to the Ed Chynoweth Cup as WHL champions and a spot in the Memorial Cup, where they fell in the championship game to the OHL's Oshawa Generals. He coached Preds forward Colton Sissons in Kelowna from 2010-13, helping him set career highs in goals in each of his three seasons. While head coach of the Rockets, he also aided the development of 2020 Hart Trophy and Art Ross winner Leon Draisaitl of the Edmonton Oilers, who tallied 53 points (19g-34a) in 32 games during his final junior season. Internationally, the Saint Boniface, Man., native coached Preds defenseman Dante Fabbro and Team Canada Red to a silver medal at the 2014 World Under-17 Hockey Challenge.

As a player, the 5-foot-9 defenseman enjoyed a professional career that spanned 19 seasons from 1990-2009. Selected in the sixth round (106th overall) by the Quebec Nordiques in the 1989 NHL Draft, Lambert appeared in 29 NHL contests, tallying six goals and 15 points. He had stints in the AHL, IHL and Finland before closing out his playing career in Germany, spending 10 seasons in the country's first division with four different squads. He won the Spengler Cup with Cologne in 1999 and the German league championship with Krefeld in 2003.

Before making his NHL debut in 1990 with Quebec, Lambert played four seasons for the WHL's Swift Current Broncos, captaining the team in his final two campaigns and leading them to the 1989 Memorial Cup. He tallied 102 points (25g-77a) in 57 games with Swift Current in 1988-89, and in addition to being named Memorial Cup MVP, was selected as the WHL's top defenseman. He left the Broncos as the franchise's all-time leader in assists with 244.

Lambert and his wife, Melanie, have three daughters – Melissa, Julia and Brooke.

DAN HINOTE
ASSISTANT COACH

Dan Hinote enters his third season with the Nashville Predators as an assistant coach in 2022-23. A Stanley Cup champion as a player with the Colorado Avalanche in 2001, Hinote is known to form strong relationships with his players and has many connections to current and former Predators players and staff members. He coached forward Ryan Johansen while with the Columbus Blue Jackets, was teammates with former Preds forwards and Hockey Hall of Famers Paul Kariya and Peter Forsberg in Colorado and played alongside current Nashville Assistant GM Scott Nichol and TV Analyst Chris Mason with the St. Louis Blues.

In Hinote's first two seasons as an assistant with the Predators, he helped the team qualify for the Stanley Cup Playoffs, extending Nashville's postseason appearance streak to eight seasons, tied for the second-longest active run in the NHL. Under Hinote's guidance on the penalty kill, the Predators improved by nearly four percent in 2021-22 from 2020-21, and on road ice, the group posted a 78.1 percent conversion last season, tied for the 13th-best mark in the NHL.

Prior to joining the Predators, Hinote spent the previous two seasons as an associate coach for USA Hockey's National Team Development Program, working with the Under-17 squad during the 2019-20 campaign. The Under-17 team captured three medals in international play in 2019-20, winning gold at the Four Nations tournament and earning silver at both the World Under-17 Hockey Challenge and the Five Nations tournament.

Hinote worked with the Under-18 team during his first season with the NTDP in 2018-19, winning gold at the 2019 Under-18 Five Nations tournament and earning a bronze medal at the 2019 Under-18 World Championship. He also aided the development of the 17 players selected directly from the NTDP in the 2019 NHL Draft – eight of which came in the first round – including first-overall pick Jack Hughes, Alex Turcotte (fifth overall) and Trevor Zegras (ninth overall).

He brings previous NHL coaching experience to the Predators bench, having spent eight seasons with the Blue Jackets organization – the first four as an assistant coach (2010-14) and the final four as a pro scout (2014-18). In his final season in Columbus, he helped the Blue Jackets post a 38-point improvement from the previous season and reach the playoffs for the first time since 2008-09 on the strength of a 43-32-7 record (93 points).

Known as a tenacious competitor and strong penalty killer, the Leesburg, Fla., native played nine NHL seasons with the Avalanche and Blues from 1999-2009, tallying 90 points (38g-52a) and 383 penalty minutes in 503 career games. During Colorado's Stanley Cup-winning campaign in 2000-01, the 6-foot, 187-pound right wing posted a career-high 15 points and 10 assists during the regular season and chipped in with six points (2g-4a) in 23 postseason contests. Selected by the Avalanche in the seventh round (167th overall) of the 1996 NHL Draft, Hinote competed in 72 career Stanley Cup Playoff games, recording 15 points (6g-9a).

Hinote also suited up for MODO of the Swedish Hockey League in both 2004-05 and 2009-10 and played parts of three seasons with the AHL's Hershey Bears from 1998-00. Before turning pro, he skated two seasons with the OHL's Oshawa Generals and attended Army West Point (U.S. Military Academy), where he became the first player in program history to be drafted to the NHL.

COACHING STAFF

TODD RICHARDS
ASSISTANT COACH

Todd Richards enters his third season with the Nashville Predators as an assistant coach in 2022-23. A veteran of 14 NHL seasons behind the bench and a 2020 Stanley Cup champion as an assistant with the Tampa Bay Lightning, Richards is known for his work ethic, teaching ability and communication skills.

Richards has helped navigate the Predators to the playoffs in each of his two seasons behind the bench as an assistant. He's reached the Stanley Cup Playoffs as either an NHL head coach or assistant coach seven times, including appearances in the last five postseasons.

During his four-season tenure with the Lightning from 2016-20, he helped lead Tampa Bay to a league-best 201 victories in that span, the 2018-19 Presidents' Trophy and two Atlantic Division titles in addition to the Cup. Prior to joining Tampa Bay, Richards spent five seasons as head coach of the Columbus Blue Jackets and went 127-112-21 for a .529 point percentage, the second-highest in team history among those with at least one full season behind the bench. Richards led the Blue Jackets to back-to-back 40-win seasons in 2013-14 and 2014-15 and became the first head coach in Columbus history to record three consecutive winning campaigns.

His NHL head coaching career began with the Minnesota Wild, where he went 77-71-16 and led the club to two straight winning seasons from 2009-11. Richards earned his first opportunity to coach in the NHL in 2008-09 as an assistant for San Jose and helped the Sharks win the Presidents' Trophy with a 53-18-11 record.

Richards has previous ties to the Predators organization. He received his professional coaching start with the AHL's Milwaukee Admirals – Nashville's primary affiliate – as an assistant from 2002-06, winning the 2004 Calder Cup and helping guide Milwaukee to a winning record in all four seasons, including two Western Conference titles. He aided in the development of former Predators goaltender Pekka Rinne and many other longtime stalwarts of Nashville's NHL roster, such as Shea Weber, Dan Hamhuis, Jordin Tootoo, Martin Erat and Scottie Upshall. Following the 2005-06 season, Richards moved on to become the head coach of the AHL's Wilkes-Barre/Scranton Penguins, where he posted a 98-49-5-8 record and took his team to the 2008 Calder Cup Final.

The Robbinsdale, Minn., native has represented the United States as a coach on the international level four times, most recently as an assistant coach for the Americans' 2016 World Championship entry. He also earned a bronze medal as head coach of the U.S. in the 2015 World Championship, served as an assistant coach at the 2014 Winter Olympics and as an assistant at the Worlds in 2010.

As a player, the right-shot defenseman enjoyed a 13-season professional career that featured eight NHL appearances with the Hartford Whalers in the 1990-91 and 1991-92 campaigns. Originally drafted by the Montreal Canadiens in the second round (33rd overall) of the 1985 NHL Draft, Richards suited up for more than 850 professional games, the bulk of which came in the International Hockey League with Las Vegas and Orlando. He began his pro career in 1989-90 with Montreal's AHL affiliate in Sherbrooke and closed it out during the 2001-02 season with Geneva of the Swiss league. Before turning pro, Richards played four seasons at the University of Minnesota, captaining the Golden Gophers as a senior in 1988-89 and leaving as the school's all-time leader in points by a blueliner with 158 (30g-128a).

LAWRENCE FELONEY
ASSISTANT COACH - VIDEO

Lawrence Feloney enters his 13th season with the Nashville Predators organization and fifth as Assistant Coach – Video in 2021-22 after spending five seasons as video coach. He previously served as video coordinator from 2010-13. He is responsible for video analysis of all pre-scout and Predators game film and manages the organization's video systems.

In 2014, Feloney received the opportunity to represent his country for the first time, serving as video coach for the U.S. Men's National Team at the IIHF World Championship in Minsk, Belarus. During the tournament, Feloney handled all aspects of the team's video preparation, scouting and film review.

Prior to joining the Predators, Feloney spent four seasons as the video coordinator for the New Jersey Devils top developmental affiliate, the American Hockey League's Lowell Devils from 2006-10.

The Natick, Mass., native started his work in video while serving as team manager and video coordinator for the University of Massachusetts Amherst men's hockey team from 2003-05. Feloney graduated from UMass Amherst with a bachelor's degree in sports management in 2005.

SEBASTIEN BORDELEAU
SKILLS COACH

Sebastien Bordeleau enters his fourth season with the Nashville Predators organization and first as Skills Coach in 2022-23 after spending the previous three seasons as the Forward Development Coach. In his role, he will help with the on-ice skill development of players not only on the NHL roster but throughout the Predators organization.

Bordeleau returned to the Predators in 2019-20 after spending three seasons with the team as a forward from 1998-01. He tallied 68 points (28g-40a) in 146 games with Nashville, including 40 (16g-24a) during the franchise's inaugural campaign in 1998-99. A seven-year NHL veteran, the Vancouver, B.C., native posted 98 points (37g-61a) in 251 games with Nashville, Montreal, Minnesota and Phoenix from 1996-02. He played the final 10 seasons (156g-227a) of his professional career in Switzerland, competing for Bern and Biel-Bienne, winning the league championship in 2004 with Bern.

He served as a skills coach for the Montreal Canadiens' AHL team from 2013-18 and since 2014 has also worked as a skills and skating coach for the Canadian Women's National Hockey Team.

Bordeleau and his wife, Chantal, reside in Terrebonne, Que., and have two kids – son Thomas, a 2020 second-round pick (38th overall) of the San Jose Sharks who made his NHL debut in 2021-22, and daughter, Jade, who is in 12th grade and plays soccer for the Canadian women's U-17 team.

COACHING STAFF

BEN VANDERKLOK
GOALTENDING COACH

Ben Vanderklok enters his ninth season as the Nashville Predators goaltending coach in 2022-23. In his position, Vanderklok works with all the goaltenders in the Nashville system, including those playing in Milwaukee (AHL), amateur leagues and Europe.

During Vanderklok's eight seasons with the Predators, he has helped the team's goaltenders reach new heights. Since the 2014-15 campaign, Nashville goaltenders have tied for the best save percentage (.916) in the NHL, recorded the second-most shutouts (49) and own the joint third-best goals-against average (2.53). Juuse Saros has flourished under Vanderklok's watch, finishing third and sixth in Vezina Trophy voting in 2021-22 and 2020-21, respectively; 11th in Hart Trophy Voting in 2020-21; and earning a spot on the NHL's All-Rookie Team in 2017-18.

After establishing himself as Nashville's starting goaltender in 2020-21, Saros solidified himself as one of the NHL's best in 2021-22. He won 38 games, the third-most in the NHL and the fourth-most in a season in Predators history, while also leading the League in minutes played (3,931:23) and starts (67). Additionally, Saros matched his career high in shutouts with four, was eighth in the NHL in save percentage (.918) and earned multiple NHL honors, including the Second Star of the Month for January and the Second Star of the Week on Jan. 10. Saros' play earned him a nod to the 2022 NHL All-Star Game, the first of his career, and was the fifth time a Predators goaltender has been selected to the event with Vanderklok as the team's goaltending coach. It was Saros' sixth full NHL season working with Vanderklok; he owns a career record of 114-72-20 in 222 games and has tallied 18 shutouts, the third-most in franchise history. He was also instrumental in Connor Ingram's development during the 2021-22 campaign. Ingram, who has worked with Vanderklok since arriving in Nashville via trade in June 2019, played in his first three NHL regular-season games and started three of the Predators' postseason games against Colorado.

Vanderklok worked alongside franchise icon Pekka Rinne for the final seven seasons of his NHL career before he retired in July 2021. Rinne posted a 206-115-38 record in 366 games under Vanderklok's tutelage and won Vezina Trophy for the first time in 2018, earning the award in his fourth career nod as a finalist. The Kempele, Finland, native retired with 369 career wins, tied for the 19th-most in NHL history, and 60 shutouts, the 19th-most. Rinne was also a four-time NHL All-Star (2015, 2016, 2018 and 2019) and was twice voted to the NHL's year-end All-Star Teams, including a First Team nod in 2017-18. His career goals-against average of 2.43 is tied for the fourth-best mark among goaltenders with at least 350 wins in NHL history, trailing only Dominik Hasek, Martin Brodeur and Jacques Plante. Further signifying his impact on the NHL's record books, Rinne is one of 12 goaltenders in League history to notch at least 350 wins and 60 shutouts, with eight members of that group enshrined in the Hockey Hall of Fame. Vanderklok helped Rinne to five of his eight career 30-win seasons – including 42 in his Vezina Trophy-winning campaign in 2017-18 – and was part of a Predators coaching staff that led the team to the 2017 Stanley Cup Final, in which Rinne started all six games. As a result of being a part of the coaching staff of the team with the best point percentage at the midpoint of the 2014-15 season, Vanderklok also represented the Predators at the 2015 All-Star Game.

Prior to his current role, Vanderklok served as the organization's assistant goaltending coach for five seasons from 2009-14, where he worked with nearly all the goalies within the organization. His work was integral in Saros' transition to North America. In 2015-16, Saros was named to the 2016 AHL All-Rookie Team after ranking fourth among all league netminders in goals-against average (2.24), tying for fourth in wins (29), tying for sixth in shutouts (4) and tying for eighth in save percentage (.920). Additionally, in 2013-14, Scott Darling came to the organization with one AHL game to his credit and ended the season ranked among the league leaders in save percentage (.933), goals-against average (2.00) and shutouts (6) for the Admirals, earning him a full-time NHL position with the Chicago Blackhawks.

The Welland, Ont., native worked as goalie coach for the Ontario Hockey League's Niagara IceDogs from 2008-14, helping them reach the playoffs in six consecutive seasons and a trip to the 2012 OHL Final. During his first four seasons with the IceDogs, Vanderklok helped Mark Visentin become a first-round pick of the Arizona Coyotes (27th overall), earn a pair of medals with Team Canada at the World Junior Championship, be named the 2011 OHL Goaltender of the Year and earn the 2012 Dave Pinkney Trophy as the goalie with the lowest goals-against average.

Vanderklok started his coaching career with the Port Colborne Pirates of the Golden Horseshoe Junior Hockey League (Junior B) from 2003-06 before instructing and training Brock University's (Ontario) goalies from 2007-09. Since 2003, he has run Ben Vanderklok Goaltending, which conducts camps and clinics in St. Catharines, Ont. A dual Canadian-Dutch citizen, Vanderklok retired from play following four seasons (2000-04) and two league titles in 2002 and 2003 with the Amsterdam Tigers of the Netherlands Elite League. He played a pair of seasons with the OHL's Barrie Colts from 1998-00.

Vanderklok and his wife, Marlene, reside in Brentwood and have one daughter, Ava.

DAVID GOOD
STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

David Good enters his 19th season as the strength and conditioning coach of the Nashville Predators in 2022-23. He joined the Predators in July 2004 and is responsible for preparing and supervising workout programs for all players in the Predators organization. Good also helps run the club's prospect development program and the off-ice aspects of the Predators Hockey School.

Good was instrumental in developing a program for Steve Sullivan that allowed the Predators forward to return to the ice on Jan. 12, 2009 after almost a two-year absence that included missing 142 straight regular-season games and 11 playoff games due to a back injury. In June 2009, Sullivan won the NHL's Bill Masterton Memorial Trophy given "to the player that best exemplifies the qualities of perseverance, sportsmanship and dedication to hockey." During the summer of 2010, he designed and outfitted the new weight room at Bridgestone Arena with triple the amount of space to facilitate optimal in-season training.

Prior to joining the Predators, Good served as the Director of Speed-Strength and Conditioning for West Coast Sports Performance and Center for Athlete Medicine in Manhattan Beach, Calif., and as a consultant for the ECHL's Long Beach Ice Dogs. The Colorado native served as the Assistant Speed-Strength and Conditioning Coach for the Los Angeles Kings from 1999-03 and held the same title from 1997-99 with the Ice Dogs, then of the IHL. He also served as Strength and Conditioning Coordinator at Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles from 1998-99.

Before moving to California, Good served as the Student Assistant Strength and Conditioning coach at the University of Colorado for two years. He received his bachelor's degree in kinesiology from the University of Colorado Boulder along with certifications in strength and conditioning, sports conditioning, Olympic weightlifting, kettlebell training, and blood flow restriction training. Good has recently been recognized by the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) with the distinction of Registered Strength and Conditioning Coach Emeritus (RSCC*E) for demonstrating expertise and dedication in the field of strength and conditioning for more than 20 years.

Good and his wife, Amanda, reside in Thompson's Station and have one daughter, Maggie.

COACHING, TRAINING & EQUIPMENT STAFF

JASON NORDBY
ASSISTANT STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH/BIOMETRICS COORDINATOR

Jason Nordby enters his 18th season with the Nashville Predators organization and first with the NHL team as the Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach/Biometrics Coordinator in 2022-23.

Nordby joined the Milwaukee Admirals – Nashville's primary AHL affiliate – in 2005-06 and spent 17 seasons as the team's strength coach. During his time with Milwaukee, the team made the Calder Cup Playoffs 13 times, finishing first in their division on five occasions. Prior to joining the Admirals, he worked two years in the Minnesota Twins organization from 2004-06 and was the men's ice hockey goalie coach and strength and conditioning coach for Hamline University in 2003-04. He also interned with the Minnesota Wild in 2003.

He received his Bachelor of Science degree in exercise physiology from the College of St. Scholastica in Duluth, Minn., where he played on the men's ice hockey team from 1998-02. He also earned a master's in exercise physiology from the same school. Nordby, who owns certifications in strength and conditioning and Olympic weightlifting, resides in Nashville with his wife Sarah and his two children, Liam and Emerson.

ANDREW MELOCHE
VIDEO COORDINATOR

Andrew Meloche enters his sixth season with the Nashville Predators organization as Video Coordinator. He shares responsibility of the team's video analysis and assists with breaking down game film of both the Predators and their opponents.

Prior to joining the Predators, Meloche spent five seasons with the University of New Hampshire men's hockey team as a graduate assistant (2016-17) and student manager (2012-16). With the Wildcats, he managed the team's video systems and was responsible for pre-scout and postgame video analysis. He was also responsible for all hockey statistics and analytics.

Meloche graduated from New Hampshire with two bachelor's degrees in economics and business administration in 2016 and a master's degree in economics in 2017.

DR. KEVIN MORLEY
HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER

Dr. Kevin Morley enters his second season as the head athletic trainer with the Nashville Predators, having spent the previous 14 years in a variety of roles in the New Jersey Devils organization. During his tenure with the Devils, Morley served as the head athletic trainer in the team's AHL organization for six seasons, followed by three seasons as the NHL assistant athletic trainer and five as the head athletic trainer. He has been a certified athletic trainer since 1999, having spent six seasons with the hockey team at Miami University before joining the Devils.

In his role as the head athletic trainer, Morley oversees the management of all medical services throughout the Nashville organization. He manages the sports medicine staff, collaborates with team physicians, external medical consultants and Preds management to optimize health care and wellness not limited to athletic injuries. Additionally, Morley partners with the sports medicine staff of the AHL's Milwaukee Admirals to ensure comparable levels of care for Nashville's minor league affiliate.

Outside of hockey, Morley has spent time with the X Games, both domestic and international; the Great Outdoor Games; and Red Bull North America, working a variety of events including Flugtag and Cliff Diving. Additionally, he has volunteered with USA Hockey on several occasions, working as an athletic trainer for youth hockey tournaments.

Morley has professional service experience as a part of the BOC Exam Development Committee and the NATA Cannabis Task Force. He has presented at the NATA Convention on topics such as functional ankle instability, groin pain in cutting sports and current topics related to cannabis in sports. He is a professional member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association and the Professional Hockey Athletic Trainers' Society.

The Newington, Conn., native has a bachelor's degree in health science with a concentration in athletic training from James Madison University, a master's degree in sports medicine from the University of Florida, and a doctoral degree in athletic training from Florida International University.

Morley, and his wife Katie, reside in Franklin with their daughter, Hayden, and son, Andon.

DR. VICKIE WOOSLEY, PSY.D., HSP
SPORT PSYCHOLOGIST

Vickie Woosley, Psy.D., HSP, is a licensed clinical psychologist who provides clinical and performance psychology for the Nashville Predators. She administers direct patient care to the athletes as well as consulting services for the coaches and staff.

Dr. Woosley has provided mental health care in a variety of settings for amateur, collegiate, semi-professional and professional athletes. In her role as a psychologist, Dr. Woosley is trained in the applied practice of sport and performance psychology where she works with "elite" performance issues in areas to include sports/athletics, performing arts, high performance occupations (e.g. police/fire), business performance, and positive psychology applications. She also maintains a private practice providing individual counseling and consultation to a variety of clients.

Dr. Woosley attained her undergraduate and master's degrees at Louisiana Tech University. She completed a Certified Alcohol and Drug Addiction Counselor program at UCLA and earned a master's and doctorate degree at the American School of Professional Psychology. She completed an internship at the Vanderbilt University Department of Veterans Affairs Consortium, where she split her time training with the collegiate population and a veterans' PTSD group.

In 2006, Dr. Woosley retired from the Federal Bureau of Investigation with 21 years of distinguished service. While assigned to the FBI's headquarters, she served as a Supervisory Special Agent in the psychological services unit, administering psychometric testing and evaluation to all active undercover agents and assisted in the screening, selection, training and certification of undercover operatives. Additionally, while in the psychological services unit, she consulted and taught a range of topics to local, state, federal and international law enforcement agencies. Topics included undercover operations/techniques, street survival and stress management. Her last assignment was as an instructor at the FBI Academy developing curriculum and teaching new agents and analysts.

As a Special Agent she worked undercover on cases that lasted from a day to four years covering violations in narcotics, public corruption, health care fraud, child pornography and organized crime. She worked on the UNABOM investigation, which resulted in the arrest of Theodore Kaczynski in April 1996.

MARIETTA PARRISH
TEAM NUTRITIONIST

MariEtta Parrish has provided nutrition support for the Nashville Predators since July 2013. Over the past nine years, she has worked individually with every NHL player, AHL player and prospect in the team's organization to help fuel their bodies for optimal performance year-round. In addition to individualized support, she helps ensure all meals provided to the team at home or on the road meet the needs of the players.

In addition to the work she provides the Predators, she owns and operates Healthlete, a private nutrition consulting business she founded after a decade of working in clinical and community nutrition. Not in its 14th year of operation, it was one of the first sport nutrition companies to serve the Nashville area. She provides an effective evidence-based approach to help individuals and organizations achieve their goals through focus, food and fitness. She has also co-authored medical textbooks; has served as a keynote speaker at multiple conferences; and worked with many local universities, high schools and professional sports organizations to implement nutrition as a key part of their athletic program, including the Tennessee Titans, Nashville Ballet and the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society Team in Training.

Parrish is a registered dietitian with a board specialty in sports nutrition. She was one of the first 300 certified sports dietitians in the U.S. and Canada and the first in Nashville. She completed her undergraduate degree in nutrition and exercise science at Lipscomb University and graduate work at Texas Woman's Institute. Her dietetic residency was completed through the National Health Care Corporation. Parrish also was a collegiate cross-country runner, competes as an endurance athlete and has qualified for and completed the Boston Marathon. Parrish continues to combine her passion for food and exercise not only by helping other athletes, but also by "practicing what she preaches."

Parrish and her husband, Bo, reside in Nashville and have four children.

PETE ROGERS
HEAD EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Pete Rogers enters his 25th season as Head Equipment Manager of the Nashville Predators in 2022-23. He is responsible for the everyday equipment needs of all the players as well as coordinating the transfer of equipment to and from road games. Rogers also works with the NHL to ensure compliance with programs concerning equipment tracking, equipment safety, jersey authentication and on-ice exposure.

Rogers served as the equipment manager for the U.S. Men's National Team in his second Olympic Games at the 2014 Winter Olympics in Sochi after having first done so in Torino in 2006. He has also represented his country at six IIHF World Championships (1999-02, 2005 and 2013), most recently in Stockholm, Sweden and Helsinki, Finland in 2013 where Team USA earned a bronze medal. He's also served as the United States' equipment manager at the 2004 World Cup of Hockey and the 2004 Deutschland Cup in Germany.

Rogers continues to serve on the executive board of the Society of Professional Hockey Equipment Managers (SPHEM) after a six-year stint as president from 2012-18. Rogers worked his 2,500th professional game as an equipment manager on Feb. 15, 2022 vs. Washington. The "Original Predator" has been behind the bench for all but three of the 1,813 regular-season and 125 playoff games the team has played, including his 1,000th game with the Predators on November 12, 2011. Rogers was the Head Equipment Manager for the Eastern Conference All-Stars at the 2007 NHL All-Star Game in Dallas and handled all equipment logistics as the head equipment manager for the 2016 NHL All-Star Game in Nashville.

Prior to joining the Nashville organization in July 1998, the College at Brockport, SUNY graduate spent eight seasons as the equipment manager and director of team travel for the AHL's Rochester Americans. Rogers also spent nine seasons as an assistant equipment manager in Rochester before a one-year stint as head trainer with the ECHL's Hampton Roads Admirals in 1989-90.

Rogers and his wife, Judy, resident in Brentwood and have one daughter, Alexandra, and two dogs, Toby and Spencer.

BROADCASTERS

@WillyD1025

WILLY DAUNIC
TV PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Willy Daunic enters his eighth season as the Predators television play-by-play broadcaster for game broadcasts on Bally Sports South after spending two seasons in the radio play-by-play role from 2013-15. Prior to moving upstairs to play-by-play, Daunic was the radio host of the team's pregame, intermission and postgame coverage for 13 seasons, beginning in Nashville's inaugural 1998-99 season.

In addition to his work with the Predators, Daunic has been hosting sports talk radio shows in Nashville since 1993 and joined the Predators' flagship station 102.5 The Game when it became an all-sports station in 2011. He currently serves as a co-host of "Chase, Willy & D-Mace" from 10 a.m. – 2 p.m. on 102.5 The Game.

Daunic has performed a wide variety of play-by-play and color duties on both radio and television in Nashville, including Vanderbilt University (football, baseball and basketball), Belmont University basketball, Nashville Sounds, TSSAA (Tennessee High School) State Championship games (football, baseball and basketball) and more.

A 1993 graduate of Vanderbilt University, Daunic lettered in two sports for the Commodores. Attending on a basketball scholarship, he played on the Commodores' 1990 NIT Championship team, as well as a team that reached the 1991 NCAA Tournament during his three seasons. Daunic also played four years of baseball at VU and was drafted by the Toronto Blue Jays in the 25th round of the 1993 MLB Draft, spending two seasons in their minor league system.

Daunic and his wife, Erin, reside in Nashville and have two children – daughter Evans (20) and son Mahoney (17). Evans is entering her sophomore year at Northeastern University and Mahoney attends University School of Nashville.

CHRIS MASON
TV COLOR ANALYST

Chris Mason enters his eighth season with the Nashville Predators broadcast team and sixth as the color analyst for Bally Sports South. Prior to his role in television, Mason worked as a color analyst for the Nashville Predators Radio Network in 2015-16 and coached with the Nashville Jr. Preds in 2015-16.

Mason first joined the Predators on Oct. 5, 1998 when he was acquired via trade from the Anaheim Ducks. He went on to spend seven of the next eight seasons with the organization, splitting time between the Preds and the Milwaukee Admirals, the team's IHL/AHL affiliate. After four campaigns spent with the St. Louis Blues, Atlanta Thrashers and Winnipeg Jets, Mason returned to Nashville as a free agent on July 1, 2012 and played his final NHL season with the Predators. Throughout his career in Nashville, the Red Deer, Alta., native appeared in 135 games, recording 58 wins, a 2.61 goals-against average and a .913 save percentage. On April 15, 2006, he became the ninth goalie in NHL history to score a goal.

He returned to Music City following two seasons playing in Europe – winning a championship with Italy's Ritten-Renon and playing his final professional campaign with Germany's Augsburg Panthers. He is also one half of the "Bag Chuckers" with Hal Gill, forming one of the most electrifying duos in sports entertainment.

Mason resides in Franklin and has three children – daughters Avery and Quinn, and son Fraser.

PETE WEBER
RADIO PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Pete Weber, the "Voice of the Predators," begins his 25th season as part of the Nashville Predators broadcast crew and his eighth working as the team's primary radio play-by-play announcer. In the last 24 seasons, Weber has missed just five games and has called 1,937 games for the team (1,813 regular season, 124 playoff).

In January 2020, Weber won his eighth Tennessee Sportscaster of the Year award from the NSMA (National Sports Media Association), as voted by the National Association of Sportscasters and Sportswriters. His insights are called upon by local sports talk radio and television, and his writing has been featured on the team's website.

Weber has served the last 17 seasons as an insider on SiriusXM's NHL Network Radio and spent nearly nine years as co-host of Slapshot Radio on ESPN 102.5 The Game from 2009-17.

In addition to his roles with the team, Weber served as co-host of SportsNight from 2003-05, filled in as a host on ESPN Radio, called two Music City Bowl games and has filled in on Nashville Sounds baseball broadcasts. He also produced and hosted two podcasts: "This Week in the Minor (Baseball) Leagues" and the syndicated "Southern Pro Football."

Weber's hockey experience includes three seasons (1978-81) as an analyst on the Los Angeles Kings radio and telecasts, two seasons (1995-97) of radio play-by-play for the Buffalo Sabres and coverage of the U.S. hockey team at the 1984 Winter Olympics in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, along with duties as host for Buffalo's cable and radio coverage. At the college level, he called games for his alma mater, the University of Notre Dame, from 1974-76 and the University at Buffalo from 1976-78.

Outside of hockey, Weber spent 15 seasons in Triple AAA baseball with Albuquerque, Rochester and Buffalo, where he was inducted into the Buffalo Baseball Hall of Fame in 1999. He served one season as TV play-by-play for the NBA's Seattle SuperSonics and was part of the broadcast team for each of the Buffalo Bills' four Super Bowl appearances. On Sept. 28, 2017, he was inducted into the Buffalo Broadcasters Association Hall of Fame.

A four-time regional Emmy award winner (2003, 2008, 2010 and 2016), Weber is on the Board of Governors for the Mid-South's chapter for the National Academy of TV Arts and Sciences. In addition, he serves on the Tennessee Radio Hall of Fame's Board of Directors.

Weber is a native of Galesburg, Ill., and holds two degrees from Notre Dame. He and his wife, Claudia, reside in Nashville.

HAL GILL
STUDIO ANALYST & RADIO COLOR ANALYST

Hal Gill enters his sixth season as a member of the Nashville Predators broadcast team, including his first as a studio analyst for Bally Sports South during home games and sixth as a radio color analyst during road contests.

A veteran of 1,108 NHL games, Gill won the Stanley Cup in 2009 with the Pittsburgh Penguins. He spent two seasons with the Predators, tallying five points in 55 games after making his team debut on Feb. 12, 2012. He closed out his NHL career in Philadelphia in 2013-14 and also skated for the Montreal Canadiens (2009-12), Penguins (2007-09), Toronto Maple Leafs (2006-08) and Boston Bruins (1997-04) during his 16-year career. Originally drafted by the Bruins in the eighth round (207th overall) in the 1993 NHL Draft, the Concord, Mass., native made his NHL debut with his hometown team on Oct. 17, 1997. Internationally, Gill helped the U.S. earn a bronze medal at the 2004 World Championship, one of the five times he competed in the event. Before turning pro, he played four seasons at Providence College, captaining the Friars during his senior campaign in 1996-97.

Gill and his wife, Anne, have three children – daughters Isabelle and Sophie, and son Talon – and one dog, Boston.

LYNDSAY ROWLEY
PREDATORS LIVE HOST & RINKSIDE REPORTER

Lyndsay Rowley enters her eighth season with the Nashville Predators and sixth season as the pregame and postgame co-host for Predators LIVE on Bally Sports South. Along with her home game duties, she also hosts Predators LIVE and reports rinkside from road contests. Before her current role, she spent three seasons as the rinkside reporter for all Predators home games and select away games on Bally Sports South. Rowley works with the rest of the Predators broadcast crew to bring fans closer to the action through interviews, special features and more. Additionally, Rowley discusses the Predators routinely throughout the season on NHL Network.

Prior to joining the Predators broadcast team, Rowley spent time with the Rockland Boulders, an independent professional baseball team in Pomona, N.Y., working as a field correspondent for all live television broadcasts. In addition to her work with the Boulders, Rowley spent time with the Charlotte Bobcats (now Hornets) as an in-house television host and has been on the sidelines of college football, baseball and volleyball games for various broadcasters.

In 2012, Rowley covered the Columbus Blue Jackets for Columbus' NBC affiliate while also covering Ohio State football, basketball and baseball games and the USA Swimming 2012 Grand Prix.

A native of New Albany, Ohio, Rowley received her bachelor's degree in communications at High Point University in High Point, N.C., where she was a four-year member of the Division I varsity volleyball team. Rowley earned her MBA while she was a graduate assistant volleyball coach at Ohio Dominican University in Columbus, Ohio.

Rowley enjoys sports, writing and traveling in her spare time.

KARA HAMMER
RINKSIDE REPORTER

Kara Hammer enters her sixth season with the Nashville Predators broadcast team as its rinkside reporter.

Before joining the broadcast team, Hammer was a sports reporter for WKRN-TV in Nashville for two years and covered the Predators' historic run to the 2017 Stanley Cup Final. Prior to joining News 2, she served as the Tennessee Titans sideline reporter on NFL Network during preseason games and appeared weekly on the Titans' Coaches Show.

Before moving to Nashville in 2015, Hammer spent three years with Fox Sports Arizona and NAU-TV working as a sideline reporter and color analyst. While there, she made history as part of the first all-female announcing team for a live event on FSAZ on Feb. 23, 2013. She began her career at KGWN in Cheyenne, Wy., in 2010.

Born and raised in Aurora, Colo., Hammer graduated from the University of Wyoming with a degree in Communications and Journalism. Hammer and her husband, Dustin, reside in Nashville during the season and spend their summers in Colorado.

BROADCAST PARTNERS

Home to the Atlanta Braves, Atlanta Dream, Atlanta Hawks, Atlanta United, Carolina Hurricanes, Charlotte Hornets, Memphis Grizzlies, Nashville Predators, and Atlantic Coast Conference.

ESPN 102.5 THE GAME

This season, the Predators and their ancillary programming continue to serve as the centerpiece of 102.5/106.3 The Game's all-sports format. Pete Weber, the "Voice of the Predators," enters his 25th season behind the Predators play-by-play microphone. Joining Weber in the booth for his sixth season is former Preds defenseman Hal Gill as color analyst for road games. Max Herz begins his first season as the pregame and postgame host for the radio network.

WPRT-FM, 102.5/106.3 The Game is Nashville's Best Sports Talk and sister station to 94.9 the Fan; heritage rock station, 102.9 The Buzz; 93.3 Classic Hits; and 102.1 The VILLE, the Soul of Music City. All stations are locally owned and operated as a part of the Nashville based Cromwell Media, Inc., which owns 32 stations total in Tennessee, Kentucky and Illinois. 102.5 The Game will carry all preseason, regular season and postseason Predators games. These games will include an hour-long pregame and postgame show.

BRIDGESTONE ARENA INFORMATION

BRIDGESTONE ARENA

501 BROADWAY • NASHVILLE, TN 37203 • 615-770-2000 • BRIDGESTONEARENA.COM

Serving as the home for numerous national and international events, Bridgestone Arena has the distinction of being one of the busiest venues in the United States since the doors first opened in 1996, hosting more than 25.6 million guests during that time. Since 1998, Bridgestone Arena has been the home of the National Hockey League's Nashville Predators, whose passionate fans create the most unique and electrifying game atmosphere in professional sports. Seating capacity is approximately 20,000 for concerts, 19,395 for basketball and 17,159 for Nashville Predators games.

Formerly known as the Nashville Arena, Gaylord Entertainment Center and Sommet Center, the building became Bridgestone Arena in 2010 after Bridgestone Americas Inc. entered a multi-year naming-rights and marketing partnership with the Predators and Powers Management. In 2017, in conjunction with the official grand opening of its 30-story Americas headquarters two blocks from the arena, Bridgestone Americas, Inc. and the Nashville Predators announced an additional five-year extension of the naming rights agreement for Bridgestone Arena.

The latest chapter in Bridgestone Arena's history was written on June 20, 2019, when the Metro Nashville Sports Authority unanimously approved a landmark 30-year lease agreement between the City of Nashville, Powers Management and the Nashville Predators that will keep the team at its current venue through 2049. As part of the new lease, the Metro Nashville and Davidson County General Fund is relieved from all obligations of supporting Bridgestone Arena and the Predators and all existing in-arena revenue streams will be used to maintain, improve and expand the building while eliminating Metro's guarantees. Just a few months later in September, the Predators and Bridgestone celebrated one of the strongest partnerships in professional sports by announcing another five-year extension to naming rights agreement for Bridgestone Arena, ensuring that Nashville's premier downtown arena continues to bear the Bridgestone brand through 2030.

Initiated by former Nashville Mayor Phil Bredesen and approved by the Metro/Davidson County Council in 1993, Bridgestone Arena uniquely embraces Nashville's heritage as Music City. The arena was designed as a tribute to Nashville's music roots, with the entrance positioned on the corner of Fifth Avenue and historic Broadway, facing the Ryman Auditorium – the original home of the Grand Ole Opry.

The one million-square-foot facility has also spurred downtown growth in the last 10-plus years, inspiring further development that includes the Country Music Hall of Fame, Frist Museum of the Visual Arts, Schermerhorn Symphony Center, multiple hotels (Hilton, Hyatt, JW Marriot, Omni, Westin, Four Seasons, 1 Hotel Nashville), Encore Condominiums, Pinnacle at Symphony Place office building, Fifth + Broadway mixed-use development and the Downtown Public Library. According to the Nashville Downtown Partnership, there are approximately 330 dining options, 130 shopping options, 60 live music venues, 140 nightlife options and 50 art venues, as of June 2022, with more businesses coming soon.

A report issued in 2017 estimated that Bridgestone Arena and the Nashville Predators generate an annual economic impact of approximately $560 million, a $150 million increase from the 2012 report, which estimated the organization's impact as $410 million. More than 3,800 jobs are supported annually by the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena. Nearly two-thirds of attendees at all Bridgestone Arena events come from outside of Davidson County, creating a pure economic impact to Davidson County in dollars spent by out-of-county visitors.

Furthermore, during the 2017 Stanley Cup Playoff run, it was estimated that during the four rounds, close to $2.7 million was generated for the city through ticket, merchandise and concessions sales taxes; the overall economic impact from a record 11 home playoff games (3 Stanley Cup Final, 3 Western Conference Final, 3 Second Round and 2 First Round) was over $50 million. In 2019, the five-day SEC Men's Basketball Tournament, which will take place at Bridgestone Arena through 2035, generated a record-breaking $24.5 million of direct economic impact.

Bridgestone Arena also hosts a variety of non-traditional functions for Davidson County, the city of Nashville and local residents. Bridgestone Arena tower is home to the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame, a SiriusXM radio studio and the Nashville Convention and Visitors Bureau, which hosts more than 500,000 guests annually and estimated that 16.1 million tourists visited Music City in 2019.

Bridgestone Arena features Patrón Platinum Club, a 260-seat fine-dining experience located on the building's suite level, which is open before and after games and concerts and hosts a number of banquets and receptions. Added prior to the 2019-20 season was Hap & Harry's Tap Room, a premium suite located on the Gary Force Acura Club Level. With space to accommodate up to 40 people, a full-service bar, unlimited food and beverage, stage-front sightlines for concerts and in-seat wait service, Hap & Harry's Tap Room provides an unmatched experience for large groups. Also on Club Level is the 501 Club, which provides each member with a suite experience in an 80-person, exclusive setting.

Lexus Lounge, an exclusive Performers' Level Club that is home to the world's first convex curved 2mm LED wall offering a live panoramic view of the ice, features luxurious amenities such as personal concierge service, plush seating and special-themed buffets. Additionally, two Bunker Suites next to Lexus Lounge offer a private event viewing space that includes food and beverage and is a great corporate outing locale.

Continuously upgrading to improve the experience of every fan, guest, performer and athlete, Bridgestone Arena underwent more than $8 million in renovations during the summer of 2019, bringing the total to over $80 million in renovations over the last several years. With the addition of LED ribbon boards and lighting, upgrades to the sound system and the installation of FangVision, a center-hung scoreboard that is nearly 300 percent larger and 450 percent higher resolution than its predecessor, the completion of this multi-phased project solidified Bridgestone Arena's audiovisual system as one of the most advanced in the League and professional sports.

The arena also houses more than 6,000 square feet of meeting room space and a 13,500-square-foot rehearsal hall that is available for rent and used more than 200 days a year by national touring acts. Metro Nashville and Davidson County's Registry of Deeds is also located inside the Bridgestone Arena.

The list of acts that have called Bridgestone Arena home is lengthy and includes the Country Music Association Awards; the Country Music Television Awards; Keith Urban's "We're All For the Hall" benefit concerts; NCAA, SEC and OVC Men's and Women's Basketball Tournaments, the 2014 NCAA Women's Final Four; and entertainers such as Madonna, Garth Brooks, Paul McCartney, Elton John, Billy Joel, the Rolling Stones, KISS, Metallica, Taylor Swift, Justin Timberlake and Katy Perry. Bridgestone Arena is in the midst of hosting 12 consecutive SEC Basketball Tournaments (SEC Men's Tournament - 2015-17, 2019-21, 2023-25; SEC Women's Tournament – 2018, 2022, 2026). Seven seasons ago, the arena hosted the 2016 NHL All-Star Game, putting on one of the most successful experiences in League history and paving the way for Bridgestone Arena to host the 2017 Stanley Cup Final. Additionally, the NHL announced in August that the City of Nashville would host the 2023 NHL Awards and 2023 NHL Draft, further signifying Bridgestone Arena's impact on the hockey world.

NASHVILLE PREDATORS FOUNDATION

Established in 1998, the Nashville Predators Foundation empowered by SmileDirectClub ("Predators Foundation") strives to build philanthropic partnerships within our community to successfully leverage the unique assets and skills of our entire organization to improve the lives of youth and their families. Annually, the Predators Foundation distributes more than $2.5 million in funding to non-profits in Middle Tennessee.

Using funds generated by a variety of annual fundraising events, the Predators Foundation has awarded more than $8 million in grants since its inception, including a record $776,075 during the 2021-22 season. Since 1998, the Foundation has awarded more than $20 million to the community through grants, donations and in-kind gifts.

Introduced in the 2019-20 season as a part of the groundbreaking partnership between the Predators Foundation and Nashville-based SmileDirectClub, multiple SuperGrants, which range from $25,000 to $100,000, are awarded each season to Middle Tennessee community organizations for a total of $100,000 per year. Funding will be allocated for the purpose of completing large-scale projects in support of empowering lives during times of transition. Last season's SuperGrant recipients included Bridges Domestic Violence Center, Communities in Schools of Tennessee, Nashville Adult Literacy Council and the Oasis Center – Just Us Program.

FIRST HORIZON BRENT PETERSON GOLF CLASSIC

The Predators Foundation and the Peterson Foundation for Parkinson's hosted the 12th Annual First Horizon Brent Peterson Golf Classic on Sept. 12, 2022. The two-flight golf tournament took place at the Vanderbilt Legends Club in Franklin. Each golf foursome was paired with a Preds player, coach, alum or local celebrity. The $150,000 raised from this event, along with the First Horizon Petey's Preds Party, was evenly split between the Predators Foundation and Peterson Foundation for Parkinson's. For more information, please visit NashvillePredators.com/golf.

FIRST HORIZON PETEY'S PREDS PARTY

The 11th Annual First Horizon Petey's Party took place on Sept. 13, 2022 at Bridgestone Arena. The evening's festivities included a buffet dinner, live entertainment by a comedian and an extensive silent auction that featured signed Predators items, travel packages and more. This event, along with the First Horizon Brent Peterson Golf Classic, raised $150,000. These funds were evenly split between the Predators Foundation and Peterson Foundation for Parkinson's. For more information, please visit NashvillePredators.com/petey.

CATCHIN' DEERS MIKE FISHER CELEBRITY CLAY SHOOT

For the fourth consecutive year, former Predators Captain Mike Fisher will host the CATCHIN' DEERS Mike Fisher Celebrity Clay Shoot at the Nashville Gun Club on Oct. 26. Participants are paired with a celebrity during the 60-bird course tournament. Prizes are awarded for the first-place and second-place finishers, in addition to a first-place individual overall winner. For more information, please visit NashvillePredators.com/clayshoot.

PREDS & PINS

The Predators Foundation will host its annual Preds & Pins bowling fundraiser at Hermitage Strike & Spare on Dec. 6. This casual evening features two hours of bowling, a buffet and photo opportunities with Preds players, GNASH and local celebrities. In 2019, the event raised more than $30,000, with all proceeds benefiting the Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt through the 365 Pediatric Cancer Fund presented by Twice Daily. For more information, please visit NashvillePredators.com/bowling.

MILITARY SALUTE

At each Predators home game, the team honors an active duty member of the U.S. Armed Forces or veteran as part of the Mid-South Ford Dealers Military Salute. They meet a player before the game, are presented with a signed jersey, then enjoy dinner in the Patron Platinum Club with their family. The military member is honored during the final TV timeout of the second period.

NASHVILLE PREDATORS FISHING TOURNAMENT
SPONSORED BY BASS PRO SHOPS & GUY HARVEY

Fishing enthusiasts spent the morning of Sept. 24, 2022 on the water at Old Hickory Lake with the Predators Foundation at the Sixth Annual Preds Fishing Tournament presented by Bass Pro Shops and Guy Harvey. This event featured a silent auction, with an early morning boat launch and weigh-in at Bass Pro Shops. Specialty Preds and fishing items were up for auction as well as the opportunity to fish with Major League Fishing anglers Andy Montgomery and David Walker and Predators broadcaster Hal Gill. All proceeds from the event, which raised nearly $20,000 in 2021, benefited the Predators Foundation. For more information, please visit NashvillePredators.com/fishing.

GNASHVEGAS CASINO NIGHT & AUCTION
PRESENTED BY KING JEWELERS

GnashVegas Casino Night & Auction presented by King Jewelers, last held in March 2019, features the opportunity to challenge Roman Josi to a game of blackjack, see if your poker face is better than Juuse Saros' or join Ryan Johansen as he rolls the dice at the craps table. Fans are invited to mix and mingle at the casino tables with Preds players, coaches and broadcasters, enjoy delicious food from local restaurants and sip on beverages from an open bar. This exciting event, which raises $150,000 annually, also features one-of-a-kind auction packages and priceless experiences; VIP guests will be invited to a reception with the team prior to the main event. It will return in February 2023. For more information, please visit NashvillePredators.com/gala.

WINE FESTIVAL & TASTING
PRESENTED BY DEACON'S NEW SOUTH

First held in 2006, the Nashville Predators Foundation Wine Festival & Tasting presented by Deacon's New South typically takes place over the ice at Bridgestone Arena in the spring. In 2022, the Festival raised nearly $100,000 and featured samples of more than 220 wines, beers and liquors, many of which come locally from Tennessee. The event also includes culinary delicacies from local restaurants, a complimentary Preds-branded glass and photo opportunities with Predators mascot GNASH. The VIP portion of the event features a five-course dinner and wine pairing hosted by a different wine vendor each year in the Patron Platinum Club. This year's event will take place in March 2023. For more information, please visit NashvillePredators.com/wine.

NASHVILLE PREDATORS FOUNDATION

365 PEDIATRIC CANCER FUND
PRESENTED BY TWICE DAILY

Spearheaded by the leadership of retired goaltender Pekka Rinne and former Preds Captain Shea Weber, the Predators Foundation formed the 365 Pediatric Cancer Fund presented by Twice Daily in 2014 (formerly the Nashville Predators Pediatric Cancer Research Fund), which goes to help fund pediatric cancer research at Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt. The Preds raise money for the 365 Fund presented by Twice Daily through Hockey Fights Cancer games, silent and blind auctions, mystery pucks, fan donations and more. In 2021, Rinne was named the King Clancy Memorial Trophy recipient. The award is given annually "to the player who best exemplifies leadership qualities on the ice and has made a significant humanitarian contribution to his community." As part of Rinne's win, the 365 Fund received a $25,000 donation from the NHL, which the Predators Foundation matched. Since the inception of the 365 Fund, nearly $4 million has been raised for pediatric cancer research. For more information about the 365 Fund, visit NashvillePredators.com/365fund.

PREDS & THREADS FASHION SHOW
PROVIDED BY DILLARDS, THE MALL AT GREEN HILLS & KING JEWELERS

During the 2017-18 season, the Predators Foundation held its first Preds & Threads Fashion Show provided by Dillards, The Mall at Green Hills and King Jewelers. This event featured all the players on the team's roster strutting their stuff down the runway along with their significant others and children from local youth charities. Guests also enjoyed a cocktail hour before the show with Preds coaches, broadcasters and alumni and had the chance to bid on an extensive auction. For more information, please visit NashvillePredators.com/fashion.

NASHVILLE PREDATORS CRAFT BEER FESTIVAL

On June 25, the Nashville Predators Craft Beer Festival returned for the first time in three years. The Predators Foundation welcomed beer lovers inside Bridgestone Arena to sample beer from more than 80 different breweries. In addition to receiving unlimited tastings, attendees also received a commemorative glass. The 2022 festival raised nearly $70,000, and for the third time, Red Silo Brewery was voted by the guests as their favorite brewer. For more information, please visit NashvillePredators.com/beer.

MYSTERY PUCKS

The Predators Foundation sells autographed pucks on select game nights through the "Mystery Pucks" fundraiser. At the game, fans have the opportunity to select a wrapped, themed puck autographed by a Predators player with select pucks specialized for buyers to receive an extra prize.

KABOOM!
NOVEMBER 2022

The Nashville Predators Foundation will team up with KaBOOM! – a national nonprofit dedicated to bringing balanced and active play to all kids – in November 2022 to build a new playground for Dream Streets Nashville. Volunteers from the Predators, along with local businesses, will build the playground in a three-day span. It will mark the 11th playground the Predators and local partners have built in the last 11 years.

HOCKEY FIGHTS CANCER
NOVEMBER 2022 & MARCH 2023

Each season, the Nashville Predators host two Hockey Fights Cancer Nights as part of a League-wide initiative. These nights benefit the 365 Pediatric Cancer Fund presented by Twice Daily and the Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt and include donations collected at all main entrances and silent auctions that feature specialty jerseys worn by the players. Patients from the Children's Hospital attend the game, ride on the Zamboni, take part in a postgame meet-and-greet with players and participate in Zebra's Care, a charitable organization run by the NHL Officials Association. This season's Hockey Fight Cancer games will take place Nov. 19 vs. Tampa Bay and March 25 vs. Seattle.

NASHVILLE PREDATORS FOUNDATION

DONATION REQUESTS

The Nashville Predators are committed to positively influencing the community far beyond the game. The team's Community Relations department assists non-profit charities and other businesses to raise money for their own causes and provides hundreds of items annually to organizations for fundraising. To request a non-monetary donation for your event, please visit NashvillePredators.com/donations.

ARENA DRIVES

Throughout the year, the Predators host charitable drives in conjunction with local non-profit organizations to benefit the families of Nashville and Middle Tennessee. This year's drives are scheduled for Nov. 12 (Second Harvest Food Bank drive) and Nov. 29 (toy drive). Fans are encouraged to bring donations to the arena for these nights.

HELPER GRANT RECIPIENTS

In May 2022, the Predators Foundation distributed 176 "Helper" grants, named after for former team SVP and Foundation Board Chairman Gerry Helper, totaling $776,075 to Nashville and Middle Tennessee-based community service and charitable organizations. It was the largest one-time allocation in team history. This year's sum brings the total allocation to more than $8 million in grants over a 24-year span. For more information, visit NashvillePredators.com/grants.

JACK DILLER EDUCATION AWARD

Each season, the Predators Foundation awards four high school seniors the Jack Diller Education Award in the amount of $2,500 each. Since its inception, $170,000 has been distributed to 68 students. Applicants must reside within Middle Tennessee and excel in academics, athletics and volunteerism. The four winning students are recognized during a Predators home game. For more information, please visit NashvillePredators.com/dilleraward.

GAME-NIGHT AUCTIONS

The Predators Foundation hosts an online auction in conjunction with every Nashville Predators home game. By texting "Preds" to 76278, fans both at the game and around the world can bid and take home items in support of the Predators Foundation. The auctions include a wide variety of autographed merchandise from across the sports world, one-of-a-kind Predators items like holiday baskets stuffed with each players' favorite goodies, unique Tennessee souvenirs and more. Hockey fans can also view items up for auction during home games in the Predators Foundation area outside of Sections 106-107.

BIRTHDAY & SPECIAL SCOREBOARD MESSAGES

For a donation to the Predators Foundation, fans have an opportunity to put birthday, anniversary and engagement announcements on the Bridgestone Arena scoreboard during Predators home games. In-game scoreboard message rates are $50. To schedule, please visit NashvillePredators.com/scoreboard or contact the team's Community Relations department at 615-770-2331.

ZAMBONI RIDES & PENALTY BOX VISITS

For a $100 donation to the Predators Foundation, Preds fans can ride the Zamboni or have the opportunity to sit in the visiting team's penalty box during the team's pregame skate. For more information or to schedule an opportunity, please visit NashvillePredators.com/zamboni or contact the team's Community Relations department at 615-770-2331.

DEX SCORE & WIN

During the 2021-22 season, every time a Preds player scored a goal or recorded a goaltending win, DEX Imaging made a donation to the Predators Foundation through the DEX Score & Win program. Last season, the program's 17th, $33,950 was raised for distribution to 10 Middle Tennessee charities. Since its inception in the 2005-06 season, the program has raised more than $490,000 for charities.

HEARTS OF GOLD

The Predators are committed to the underlying team mission of "work hard, play hard and provide outrageous customer and community service." Every member of the Predators organization can be found giving back to the community throughout the season – from ownership and players to management and staff – through our Hearts of Gold initiative. As a staff, the goal is to reach 8,000 total volunteer hours each season. This commitment to the community is seen through various initiatives. A few of the Predators' 2021-22 initiatives included food drives, blood drives, an annual holiday toy drive, Thanksgiving turkey deliveries, pet supply drives and Hockey Fights Cancer awareness nights.

FEATURED CHARITY NIGHTS

Each season, the Predators Foundation board selects six deserving charities to receive exclusive opportunities throughout the season, including an in-arena drive collection. Collections may include books, toys, school supplies and baby supplies among other items. This season's featured charities are:

- Sept. 30 - Communities in Schools of Tennessee (feminine hygiene products)
- Jan. 14 - A Secret Safe Place (baby blankets)
- Jan. 26 - Nurture the Next (diapers)
- Feb. 18 - The Family Center (interactive games)
- March 18 - CreatiVets (art supplies)
- April 6-15 - Judicial District (stuffed animals, Play-Doh, drawing supplies)

PLAYER COMMUNITY INITIATIVES

ROMAN JOSI
ROMAN & ELLIE JOSI FAMILY FUND/BEST BUDDIES

The Roman & Ellie Josi Family Fund will be awarding grants to the Middle Tennessee community. Organizations will be invited to apply. Back for a fifth season, Roman Josi provides tickets for a different buddy pair from Best Buddies to attend a Predators game. The pair participate in the high-five line before the game and get to meet players as they head out on the ice.

FILIP FORSBERG
FILIP FORSBERG HOCKEY CLINIC PRESENTED BY DELTA DENTAL OF TENNESSEE

Ford Ice Center Antioch hosted the Filip Forsberg Hockey Clinic presented by Delta Dental of Tennessee that benefited a local charity on Sept. 10, 2022. The clinic, which raised about $25,000, featured 100 youth hockey players, ages 7-14, hitting the ice for an afternoon of fun and learning. All proceeds from the clinic went to Make-A-Wish Middle Tennessee.

RYAN JOHANSEN
PREDATORS FOUNDATION EMPOWERED BY SMILEDIRECTCLUB

At select home games, Ryan Johansen donates his personal suite to be auctioned off to raise money for the Predators Foundation.

MATTIAS EKHOLM
CORE PRESENTED BY BRIDGESTONE

Mattias Ekholm and his wife, Ida Björnstad, are the face of a youth hockey program for Nashville-area kids aimed at introducing them to the sport. Creating Opportunities for Racial Equality (CORE) presented by Bridgestone features eight weeks of on-ice instruction, a full set of equipment and a light dinner after each practice. Players will be taught the basics of skating and hockey with curriculum created and led by Mattias and Ida. Following the eight-week program, players will be enrolled in the youth leagues at Ford Ice Center for three seasons at no cost.

COLTON SISSONS, DANTE FABBRO & RYAN JOHANSEN
CHARITY HOLIDAY PARTY

This past holiday season, Colton Sissons, Dante Fabbro and Ryan Johansen teamed up to bring holiday cheer to the community. The trio, along with Predators staff members, purchased gifts and held a party for the families of Bethlehem Centers of Nashville. This season, all three players will host their annual charity holiday party after the Dec. 10 game vs. Ottawa for a local charity. The benefiting families will attend the game, enjoy a holiday meal, take photos with Santa and Santa GNASH and then open their presents, purchased by the players at staff members.

PREDATORS' LEADERSHIP GROUP
BLUELINE BUDDIES

During every Nashville Predators home game last season, the Predators Foundation hosted the Blueline Buddies program, originally started by former player P.K. Subban, which brings together a member of the Metro Nashville Police Department and an inner-city youth from a local organization. It included game tickets and dinner in Bridgestone Arena's Patron Platinum Club (donated by Levy Restaurants). This season, the Predators Foundation expects to have the group meet with a member of the team's leadership group before each game.

PLAYER COMMUNITY INITIATIVES

JUUSE SAROS
PREDS PET CLUB PRESENTED BY PETSMART

Juuse Saros and his fiancee, Minna, partner with the Predators Foundation to run the Preds Pet Club presented by PetSmart. Fans can join the club for $30 and receive a package filled with Preds pet merchandise for their four-legged family member. Members are also invited to member-only meetups with Saros and his dogs. Proceeds from the pet club benefit local animal rescue organizations.

Saros is also starting a new program this season to benefit Wags & Walks Nashville. For every save Saros makes during the regular season, he will donate $5 to Wags & Walks Nashville (up to $10,000). The Predators Foundation will match that donation and will collect donations from fans throughout the year. At the end of the season, Wags & Walks Nashville will receive a check for around $30,000 from this program. In 2021-22, $20,000 was donated to Wags & Walks Nashville, which brought the total donation amount to $50,000.

MIKAEL GRANLUND
HEALTHCARE HEROES TICKETS

At every home game last season, Mikael Granlund donated four tickets to healthcare heroes in the Nashville community. Healthcare Heroes enjoy a night out at Bridgestone Arena cheering on their favorite team.

MATT DUCHENE
DUCHENE'S HOCKEY TONK

Matt Duchene invites families impacted by illness to enjoy Preds games from his personal suite.

TANNER JEANNOT
DIAPER DRIVE

Last season, Tanner Jeannot and his wife, Keely, held a diaper drive for Mother to Mother, a local charity that assists low-income mothers and children in Nashville. The drive collected nearly 19,000 diapers. Additionally, Jeannot and the Predators Foundation each donated $5,000 to Mother to Mother.

YOUTH HOCKEY & FAN DEVELOPMENT

Since its first season as a National Hockey League franchise in 1998-99, the Nashville Predators have been at the forefront of growing the sport of hockey in the Middle Tennesee community.

With the opening of Ford Ice Center Antioch in 2014, and the organization's facility in Bellevue in 2019, the Preds have consistently worked to enhance the awareness and opportunity for youth hockey in Tennessee. The Predators have created partnerships with local youth hockey associations and assist with fundraising, hockey education and additional ice time to promote the growth of the sport at the grassroots level.

The Nashville Predators also assist area youth hockey organizations by providing coaches and players clinics, ice time at Bridgestone Arena and funding for uniforms. Area youth players are also frequently featured during intermissions at Predators home games.

NASHVILLE PREDATORS KIDS CLUB
PRESENTED BY DELTA DENTAL

The Nashville Predators Kids Club presented by Delta Dental provides an opportunity for kids and families alike to get involved with the team during the 2022-23 season. The Predators Kids Club is filled with exciting features, events, member benefits and more. Fans can sign up for the Kids Club at the Delta Dental Kids Zone outside section 108 during all Nashville Predators home games or at NashvillePredators.com/kidsclub.

PREDS PAINT & PINOT

Preds Paint and Pinot features a Preds-themed painting class taught by a certified board and brush instructor and includes drinks, appetizers, giveaways and more. Additionally, attendees will take home their one-of-a-kind, exclusive Predators creation.

LEE COMPANY DEK HOCKEY RINK

The Lee Company Dek Hockey Rink is an outdoor hockey rink located at the Bellevue Family YMCA. The rink was built in partnership with the Nashville Predators, NHL, and NHLPA and opened in July 2021. It is utilized for team practices, try hockey for free clinics, camps and pick-up games. Reserving the rink is free to the public.

LITTLE PREDS LEARN TO PLAY

Little Preds Learn to Play, which is partially funded by the NHL and NHLPA's Industry Growth Fund, is a multi-year, multi-city endeavor by the Nashville Predators and participating ice rinks in an effort to reduce cost barriers associated with an introductory program. Each session runs for 6-8 weeks and is designed for boys and girls ages 4-9 who have never played hockey. Participants receive weekly on-ice instruction, Predators alumni appearances, a full set of hockey equipment and Predators Kids Club membership.

HOCKEY & HEELS

Hockey & Heels is an event for women to get an inside look at the Predators organization. This fun-filled evening includes on-ice demonstrations, locker room tours, a behind-the-scenes look at the team's event presentation and a "Hockey 101" segment featuring Preds broadcasters and special guests.

GET OUT AND LEARN! (G.O.A.L!)
PRESENTED BY ERIE INSURANCE

The Get Out and Learn! (G.O.A.L!) program presented by Erie Insurance introduces the game of hockey to everyone without the financial commitment typically associated with the sport. This free, introductory program is designed for those with no prior experience and is offered in weekly sessions throughout the year at local rinks. The Predators provide all necessary equipment, ice time and instruction, making the program ideal for any family. The Preds are dedicated to supporting the development of youth hockey at all levels and recognize the need for local skating facilities to be accessible for beginners to help grow the sport, beginning at younger ages. Since its inception in the fall of 2006, more than 7,000 kids have graduated from G.O.A.L!

PREDATORS HOCKEY SCHOOL

The Predators host two weeks of hockey school, open to boys and girls ages 6-14, each July at the Ford Ice Centers. Youth attending the hockey school are challenged daily with more than two hours of ice time, intensive dry-land conditioning, video analysis, and "chalk talk" sessions. Hockey School emphasizes the basic fundamentals of hockey – stickhandling, power skating, shooting and passing. Other features of the camp include daily lectures on nutrition, injury prevention and equipment maintenance.

YOUTH HOCKEY & FAN DEVELOPMENT

The Scott Hamilton Skating Academy mission is "to make skating available to people of all ages, ability and description. At the same time, creating an environment of joy in learning how to skate." Further, the mission of our combined programs is to fulfill the goals and vision of the Scott Hamilton Skating Academy and Nashville Predators, in partnership with SHARP 4 Sports, to develop beginners through world class elite athletes in a joyful, fun and creative atmosphere.

PREDecessor

PREDecessor is a continue-to-play program for participants that graduated from the Little Preds Learn to Play program but are not ready for youth league. This program puts an emphasis on the core skating fundamentals along with a feel for the puck and general hockey knowledge. It will teach positions, concepts and rules for playing the game, all while continuing to build a player's competency in their individual skills.

GO SKATE!

Go Skate! is a free learn-to-skate program proudly presented by the Scott Hamilton Skating Academy, Ford Ice Centers, Nashville Predators and the NHL/NHLPA Industry Growth Fund. This unique program encourages first-time skaters between the ages of 6-12 to learn to ice skate in a fun and encouraging environment, at no cost. The program includes a free session of the Scott Hamilton Skating Academy's learn-to-skate classes with a free pair of hockey or figure skates at graduation, as well as a $30 discount off an athlete's second session of learn to skate. The program launched in 2016 and has granted over 2,600 skaters with free classes and skates, removing economical barriers and making skating accessible for first timers. Go Skate! is currently being offered at both Ford Ice Centers.

SCOTT'S ALL-STARS

Scott's All-Stars is a program providing learn-to-skate classes for children with any adaptive or other special needs. Our incredible team of coaches is dedicated to helping skaters learn and have fun at a comfortable pace and in a safe and sensory friendly space. In addition to the learn to skate program itself, we are proud to provide support and programming for parents and caregivers while continuing education for staff and coaches.

SMASHVILLE SHOWCASE

A round-robin collegiate tournament with NCAA Division I women's hockey teams played in sync with the Smashville Girls Hockey Showcase, which features some of the best Tier I girls hockey teams in the country.

HONKY TONK SHOWDOWN

A fun-filled weekend for our adult league teams to compete against their beer league rivals for the prized championship guitar trophy at the Ford Ice Centers.

LEARN TO SKATE

The Scott Hamilton Skating Academy's Learn-to-Skate program - the largest in the South and in the Top 10 in the country - uses the Learn to Skate USA curriculum. The program is designed to serve the needs of both recreational and competitive skaters by teaching figure skating and hockey skills. All of our coaches are committed to sharing a fun and positive experience that will instill a lifelong love of skating. Our mission is to make skating available to people of all ages, descriptions and ambitions.

NPAHA YOUTH HOCKEY LEAGUE

This recreational league provides participants the opportunity to develop individual and team hockey skills in a fun, relaxed environment. Its goal is to not only develop a player's hockey skills, but to create an environment where youth can learn valuable life skills such as teamwork, good sportsmanship, a positive attitude and a good work ethic. The emphasis of the programming, whether learning how to stop or perfecting the wrist shot, will be on being "better than before." Continuous improvement will be a theme utilized throughout much of our programming, executed in a measurable and meaningful way. The league is offered year-round and consists of more than 400 young hockey players fielding teams in the following age divisions: Termite (6U), Mite (8U), Squirt (10U), Peewee (12U) and Bantam/Midget (13+).

NPAHA ADULT HOCKEY LEAGUE

Adults can join in the fun of playing hockey with the Nashville Predators Amateur Hockey Association Adult Leagues. Whether you are a beginner who has just started the game, an experienced player or somewhere in between, Ford Ice Center has a league for you. Leagues run year-round (fall/winter, spring and summer) and include playoffs and championships. Our USA Hockey-sanctioned league hosts more than 1,100 adult players and offers competition for all level of play for adults ages 18 and over. We have grown from seven teams in 2014-15 to 94 teams across 13 divisions in the 2022-23 season.

NASHVILLE PREDATORS SELECT

The Nashville Predators Select Travel Hockey Program (Preds Select) plays under the Nashville Predators Amateur Hockey Association and aims to provide Middle Tennessee youth hockey players an environment to be better athletes, better individuals and better players with a commitment to positive, fun and progressive skill development through community and sport. Preds Select is the organization's first official travel hockey program. They compete at the Tier II level and will offer teams in the 10U, 12U, 14U, 16U and 18U age divisions for the 2022-23 season.

MIDDLE SCHOOL LEAGUE

Scholastic hockey at its finest. This spring hockey program allows played ages 10-13 the ability to play against other teams that feed into our junior varsity and varsity programs.

YOUTH HOCKEY & FAN DEVELOPMENT

PREDATORS CUP

The Predators Cup is the annual Tennessee State High School Hockey Championship tournament. Established during the 1999-00 season, it serves as a platform to highlight the top high school hockey teams in the state and is hosted by the Nashville Predators each spring at Bridgestone Arena. Since the inaugural tournament, 20 teams from Middle Tennessee and three teams from Memphis have won the Predators Cup.

PREDS GIRLS HOCKEY

The Nashville Predators are committed to the growth of girls hockey. The Preds Girls Hockey program introduces girls ages 4-9 to hockey through funding from the NHL and NHLPA's Industry Growth Fund. The program will feature exciting opportunities for girls to play together and learn from female coaches.

BLUECROSS BLUESHEILD BLUELINER OF THE GAME

An opportunity to experience the excitement from ice-level offered as a ticket package during Predators home games. Youth hockey players ages 7-14 get the opportunity of a lifetime as their name is called during the starting lineup; they skate to the blue line and then stand alongside their favorite Predators player during the National Anthem.

GO SKATE! GRADES & BLADES

GO SKATE! Grades & Blades is a free skating program taught in a joyful, respectful and diverse setting where individual uniqueness is welcomed and celebrated and athletes who receive good grades and have good attendance in school are rewarded for their efforts. Most important, the program provides a position environment filled with mentorship and encouragement to help guide every athlete's unique journey on and off the ice. Designed for youth ages 8-14, this program infuses the benefits of skating - inclusion, physical confidence, balance, time management, study and affordable fitness - with the benefits of good grades, leading to more opportunities in their lifetime. GO SKATE! Grades & Blades is proudly sponsored by the Scott Hamilton Skating Academy, the Nashville Predators and the NHL/NHLPA Industry Growth Fund.

CREATING OPPORTUNITIES FOR RACIAL EQUALITY (CORE)
PRESENTED BY BRIDGESTONE

Creating Opportunities for Racial Equality (CORE) presented by Bridgestone introduces the game of hockey to new players of all backgrounds, ages 4-9, at no cost. CORE presented by Bridgestone provides a unique opportunity for players of all backgrounds to join the hockey community while developing fundamentals skills to help them succeed both on and off the ice. Player will receive 28 weeks of on-ice instruction, equipment to keep and monthly engagement opportunities. The goal of the program is to create a more diverse and welcoming SMASHVILLE youth hockey community while enhancing overall player development.

PREDSIDENTS' DAY CLASSIC

The PREDSidents' Day Classic is hosted annually by the Predators on Presidents' Day weekend. It is a 10U-19U four-game guaranteed divisional tournament. The divisions have four teams each that are seeded after their first three regulation games; teams will play a championship and consolation game depending on results.

FUTURE GOALS - HOCKEY SCHOLAR™
POWERED BY EVERFI

The Future Goals – Hockey Scholar™ online course is a free, unique tool that leverages the exciting game of hockey to teach science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) concepts to students in grades 4-8. This course, aligned to state science and math standards, also introduces students to STEM careers in hockey.

NASHVILLE PREDATORS JV PROGRAM

The Nashville Predators JV Program aims to provide a supplement league to our Greater Nashville Scholastic Hockey League for those players looking to gain the experience for more ice time. Registered teams will use this program in order to help bolster the development of each player's respective school teams.

PUCKS AND PINTS HAPPY HOUR

Pucks and Pints Happy Hour open hockey is in its seventh year at Bridgestone Arena. All levels are welcome, but participants must be at least 21 years of age and provide their own equipment. Each session includes 60 minutes of ice and a complimentary "pint" at Pete and Terry's Tavern following the session.

PREDATORS GOALTENDING CAMP

The Predators offer a high intensity camp designed to push goalies to reach their full potential. The camp consists of three hours of on-ice instruction, two hours of dryland/dynamic warmups and an hour of video analysis each day. On-ice sessions focus on skating, depth, angling, squareness, positioning, tracking, save selection, recovery and desperation. Drills are designed to challenge each individual goaltender, providing progression-based drills that cater to each goalie's skill level.

PREDS GIRLS CLASSIC

The Preds Girls Classic is a tournament for girls hockey teams ages 12-19U with four divisions ranging from the A to AA level. Teams are guaranteed to play four round-robin style games, including a fun skills competition and a Saturday night social, offering the chance to meet other hockey players from across the country.

MILWAUKEE ADMIRALS COACHING STAFF

KARL TAYLOR
HEAD COACH

Karl Taylor enters his fifth season as head coach of the Milwaukee Admirals in 2022-23. Taylor owns a record of 116-66-24-9 in 215 games as head coach of Nashville's AHL affiliate, and last season, he became just the fifth coach in Admirals history to amass 100 career wins with the team.

In 2021-22, Taylor led the Admirals to the third round of the Calder Cup Playoffs after finishing third in the AHL's Central Division with a record of 39-28-5-4 (87 points). With help from 26 players on NHL contracts with Nashville, including forward Cody Glass, who led the team and was tied for 15th in the AHL in points with 62 (14g-48a), Milwaukee qualified for the postseason for the 16th time in its AHL history and the second time with Taylor at the helm. Reinforcing his proven track record of developing talent, 12 players who skated for Milwaukee also competed in an NHL game for the Predators in 2021-22. When Predators Head Coach John Hynes was placed on the NHL's COVID-19 list during the 2021-22 season, Taylor filled in behind the bench for two NHL games, helping Nashville pick up wins in back-to-back contests on Dec. 16 vs. Colorado and Dec. 17 at Chicago.

In 2019-20, his second season with Milwaukee, Taylor led the club to a 41-14-5-3 record, an AHL-leading 90 points and the Macgregor Kilpatrick Trophy, awarded to the AHL's regular-season champions. For his efforts, Taylor was honored with the Louis A.R. Pieri Memorial Award, given to the AHL's most outstanding coach. Milwaukee's dominant 2019-20 season was highlighted by its defense, which allowed a league-low 2.24 goals per game, while the team's offense ranked seventh in scoring (3.35).

Taylor's first season behind the Admirals bench, 2018-19, saw him lead the club to the Calder Cup Playoffs for the first time since 2017, finishing with a 36-24-14-2 (88 points) regular-season record and a second-place finish in the Central Division.

Before joining the organization, the 51-year-old North Bay, Ont., native spent four seasons with the AHL's Texas Stars as an assistant coach. In Texas, Taylor's teams went a combined 152-108-30-14 and made the playoffs in three of his four seasons. His tenure was headlined by the Stars' appearance in the 2018 Calder Cup Finals, where they came one game from claiming the AHL title, falling to the Toronto Marlies in Game 7. With Taylor behind the bench, Texas earned at least 90 points in three seasons, including the 2017-18 season's 90-point effort (38-24-8-6) that culminated with the AHL's Western Conference Championship. Taylor also spent one season as an assistant coach for the Western Hockey League's Portland Winterhawks in 2013-14, where they finished second in the WHL's regular-season standings with 113 points (54-13-5 record). Taylor helped guide the Winterhawks to the WHL Finals as the 2014 WHL Western Conference Champions, where they fell to the Edmonton Oil Kings in seven games.

Before jumping to the WHL, Taylor served as an assistant coach with the AHL's Chicago Wolves in 2011-12 where he won the Midwest Division and was a head coach in the ECHL for six seasons from 2005-11. He was at the helm of the Reading Royals from 2005-08, making the playoffs in two of his three campaigns, amassing a 112-82-22 record in the process. Taylor then became the first head coach of the ECHL's Ontario Reign from 2008-11, leading them to the playoffs in their inaugural season. He finished second in the John Brophy Award voting for ECHL coach of the year in 2008-09.

Taylor played three seasons in the Ontario Hockey League with the Windsor Spitfires, London Knights and North Bay Centennials, tallying 35 points (16g-19a) in 137 games from 1988-91. Following his junior career, he played for the University of New Brunswick from 1991-95, serving as an alternate captain in his final three seasons. Taylor also spent time as a head coach at Red Deer College in Alberta and the University of Waterloo before landing his first professional coaching job.

Taylor and his wife, Bev, reside in Hartland, Wis., with their son, Mac, and daughter, Kate.

SCOTT FORD
ASSISTANT COACH

Scott Ford enters his eighth season as an assistant coach for the Milwaukee Admirals in 2022-23. Ford, whose first season as an assistant coach with the Admirals was 2015-16, has helped lead Milwaukee to the Calder Cup Playoffs four times during his tenure.

When several members of the Predators' coaching staff were placed on the NHL's COVID-19 list during the 2021-22 season, Ford filled in behind the bench for two NHL games, helping Nashville pick up wins in back-to-back contests on Dec. 16 vs. Colorado and Dec. 17 at Chicago.

Ford finished an 11-year playing career in 2014-15, splitting time with the Admirals and the South Carolina Stingrays. He skated in 12 games with Milwaukee, posting a pair of assists and 14 penalty minutes. The Brown University alum helped the Stingrays to an ECHL-record 23-game winning streak and a berth in the Kelly Cup Final.

Overall, Ford spent parts of seven seasons with the Admirals, including two as team captain, and his 378 games played are the second-most in club AHL history. The Fort St. John, B.C., native posted 14 goals and 31 assists for 45 points and a +37 rating. He sits third in Milwaukee's AHL record book in penalty minutes with 577.

GREG RALLO
ASSISTANT COACH

Greg Rallo enters his fifth season as an assistant coach for the Milwaukee Admirals in 2022-23. Rallo's first season with the organization was in 2018-19 and he is three seasons removed from helping guide Milwaukee to the Macgregor Kilpatrick Trophy as the AHL's regular-season champions in 2019-10. The 41-year-old native of Gurnee, Ill., played 12 seasons of professional hockey from 2005-17 that included stops in the NHL, AHL, ECHL and the German professional league.

Rallo competed in 11 NHL games with the Florida Panthers from 2011-13 and scored his first career NHL goal on April 2, 2013, against the Tampa Bay Lightning. In 615 career AHL contests, Rallo compiled 165 goals and 177 assists for 342 points, including a career-high 54 (26g-28a) with Texas in 2010-11. His AHL career featured stints with six different clubs and saw him captain the San Antonio Rampage in 2013-14 and serve as an alternate captain for the Texas Stars in 2015-16. Rallo also won the 2007 Kelly Cup as ECHL champion with the Idaho Steelheads, where he had 31 points (13g-18a) in 37 games.

Prior to his professional career, Rallo played four seasons for Ferris State University in the Central Collegiate Hockey Association from 2002-06, where he had 108 points (46g-62a) in 152 games.

Rallo and his wife Liana have two daughters, Avery and Addison, and a son, Ryder.

CAREER NOTES

- Originally drafted in the first round (ninth overall) by Minnesota in the 2010 NHL Draft.
- Since making his NHL debut, has recorded 443 points (135g-308a), the second-most among Finnish-born skaters in that time span and the eighth-most among skaters from his draft class.
- Has hit the 40-point mark in six of his 10 NHL seasons.
- A finalist for the 2017 Lady Byng Award, given to the player who exhibits the best sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct.
- His 19:53 average TOI since John Hynes was named Predators head coach on Jan. 7, 2020 is the most among team forwards in that time span; his 107 points (35g-72a) are the fourth-most among all Preds skaters.
- Is one of seven players in Predators history to tally a four-assist game and is one of two (Roman Josi) to do so at least twice.
- Became the fourth player in NHL history to score a game-tying goal in the final 10 seconds of regulation and the overtime winner (regular season and playoffs) on Feb. 27, 2020 vs. Calgary.
- Tallied a career-best 12-game point streak from Jan. 12-Feb. 4, 2017 in which he tallied five goals and 12 assists; the point streak also stood as a Wild franchise record.
- Scored two seconds (19:46) after the Blue Jackets' Nick Foligno did (19:44) as Minnesota and Columbus combined to tie the NHL record for fastest two goals in League history on Jan. 5, 2016.
- Has represented his native Finland multiple times in international competition, winning Gold in the 2022 and 2011 World Championships; also earned a silver medal at the 2016 World Championship and bronze at the 2009 and 2010 U-18 World Championships and 2014 Olympics.
- Named to the 2014 Olympic All-Star Team after recording seven points (3g-4a) in six games.
- Captained Finland at the 2012 World Junior Championship.
- Led HIFK to the 2011 Finnish Liiga championship, earning the Finnish Player of the Year award.

DID YOU KNOW?

Mikael Granlund has the rare distinction of being honored with a postage stamp in his home country. After scoring a lacrosse-style goal against Russia at the 2011 IIHF World Championship, his native Finland plastered a picture of his tally on a stamp, which quickly sold out.

2021-22 SEASON

- Finished second and earned the most first-place votes in Norris Trophy voting.
- Named a finalist for the Ted Lindsay Award.
- Selected to the NHL's First All-Star Team.
- Established career highs in goals (23), assists (73), points (96), power-play goals (11) and power-play points (37).
- Set the franchise record for points and assists in a season.
- Led all NHL defensemen and was tied for 11th among all skaters in points; also was second among NHL blueliners in goals and fifth among all NHL skaters in assists.
- Became the eighth defenseman in NHL history to record at least 96 points in a season and the first since Phil Housley in 1992-93.
- His 73 assists were tied for the 16th-most by a blueliner in a season in NHL history.
- Was the eighth defenseman in NHL history to post at least 73 assists in a season and the first since Sergei Zubov in 1993-94.
- Tallied four four-point games, the first NHL defenseman to do so since 1992-93.
- Led all NHL blueliners in three-point games with 12, the most in a single season by a defenseman since Paul Coffey in 1993-94.
- First among players in his position in multi-point games (26), the most in a season in Predators history.
- Had the same number of multi-point games as he did games without a point.
- Scored or assisted on 36.6 percent of Nashville's goals, the third-highest mark by a defenseman in NHL history and the highest since Bobby Orr in 1974-75.
- Recorded 13.2 percent of his team's points, the fifth-highest total by a defenseman since 1938-39.
- Was the only NHL defenseman to lead his team in points.
- Scored 11 power-play goals, the most by an NHL blueliner since 2016-17.
- Recorded a career-best 13-game point streak from March 2-27 (4g-24a); in doing so, he became the only active defenseman and the first since Nicklas Lidstrom to post two separate point streaks of at least 10 games during his career.
- Named the NHL's First Star of the Month for March.
- Led the NHL with 32 points (4g-28a) during March, becoming the first defenseman to outright lead the NHL in scoring during a month since Coffey in February 1990.
- Had four straight games with at least three points from March 13-19 (2g-11a); Bobby Orr (6 GP in 1970-71) is the only other blueliner in NHL history to accomplish the feat.
- Was the sixth defenseman in NHL history to reach 75 points through the first 60 games of a season.
- Tallied his 400th career NHL assist on April 26 vs. Calgary.
- Recorded a +6 rating, a franchise record, on March 5 at San Jose.
- Recorded his 500th career NHL point on March 2 at Seattle.
- Set the franchise record for most assists (357) on Jan. 20 vs. Winnipeg.
- Had two points (1g-1a) in his 700th career NHL game on Nov. 26 vs. New Jersey.
- Represented Nashville in the 2022 NHL All-Star Game, the fourth of his career.

PREDATORS SEASON NOTES

POSTSEASON STREAK HITS EIGHT

- The Nashville Predators qualified for the Stanley Cup Playoffs for the eighth consecutive season after earning the Western Conference's second wild card spot.
- Nashville has enjoyed postseason hockey in every season since 2014-15, tied for the second-longest active streak (with Washington), trailing only Pittsburgh's run of 16 seasons.
- The Predators' 15 postseason appearances since 2004 - when they reached the playoffs for the first time - are the second-most among NHL teams in that time span.

LONGEST ACTIVE POSTSEASON STREAKS

TEAM	POSTSEASON STREAK	LAST MISSED POSTSEASON
Pittsburgh	16 seasons	2005-06
Nashville/Washington	8 seasons	2013-14
Boston/Toronto	6 seasons	2015-16

LONGEST POSTSEASON STREAKS - PREDATORS HISTORY

STREAK	SEASONS	BEST POSTSEASON RESULT
8 seasons	2015-22	Stanley Cup Final (2017)
4 seasons	2004-08	Western Conference First Round (2004-08)
3 seasons	2010-12	Western Conference Second Round (2011-12)

QUICK HITS

- The Predators recorded 97 points and 45 wins in 2021-22; it was the ninth and eighth time, respectively, that Nashville has reached those marks in franchise history.
- It was the first season in Predators history to have three players with at least 80 points. Nashville was one of two teams (Colorado) to have three players at the 84-point mark.
- Nashville had five players with at least 60 points – Roman Josi, Matt Duchene, Filip Forsberg, Ryan Johansen and Mikael Granlund – for the first time in franchise history.
- With Duchene (43) and Forsberg (42), Nashville was one of two teams in the NHL (Edmonton) to have two players with at least 42 goals.
- The Predators scored 262 goals, their second-most in a single campaign in franchise history (most: 266, 2006-07).
- Per HockeyFights.com, the Predators led the NHL in fighting majors with 59, 23 more than the next-closest team.
- A total of 12 Predators players set career highs in goals, assists, points or wins.

JOSI FOR NORRIS

- Roman Josi, a finalist for the Norris Trophy and Ted Lindsay Award, led NHL defensemen and was tied for ninth in the NHL in points with 96 (23g-73a). He broke the franchise record for points in a season, previously held by Paul Kariya in 2005-06 (85).
- He established career highs in goals (23), assists (73) and points (96). His 23 goals were the second-most among NHL blueliners; he was fifth among all NHL skaters in assists.
- He became just the eighth blueliner in NHL history to record at least 96 points in a season and the first since Phil Housley in 1992-93.
- Josi's 73 assists were tied for the 16th-most by a defenseman in a season in NHL history. He's the eighth blueliner in NHL history to post at least 73 assists in a season and the first since Sergei Zubov in 1993-94.
- Josi led all NHL defensemen in percentage of his team's goals he scored or assisted on at 36.6 percent. This stood as the third-highest mark by a defenseman in NHL history and the highest since Bobby Orr in 1974-75 (39.1 percent).
- He also posted 13.2 percent of Nashville's team points, the most among NHL blueliners. This was the fifth-highest total by a defenseman since 1938-39.
- He was the only NHL defenseman to lead his team in points.
- Using data from Sportlogiq, he led all NHL defensemen (per game) in controlled zone exits (7.56); controlled zone exits with a successful play after (6.24); controlled zone entries (4.33); and controlled zone entries leading to a scoring chance (1.24).
- He was named the NHL's First Star of the Month for March. He led the NHL with 32 points (4g-28a) during the month, becoming the first defenseman to outright lead the NHL in scoring during a month since Paul Coffey in February 1990.

DEPTH ON DISPLAY

- The Predators had 10 players who scored at least 11 goals, tied for the sixth-most in the NHL.
- Nashville also had five skaters record at least 63 points, the second-most among NHL teams behind only Toronto (6).
- Three Predators defensemen tallied at least 30 points, tied for the second-most in the NHL.

POWER PLAY

- Nashville's power play operated at 24.4 percent, the highest mark in franchise history.
- The Predators finished the season tied for fifth in the NHL in power-play percentage (63-for-258).
- Four Predators skaters scored at least 10 power-play goals; Roman Josi notched 37 power-play points (11g-26a), the second-most among NHL defensemen.

DUTCHY LEADS IN GOALS

- Matt Duchene led the Predators and was eighth in the NHL in goals with a career-high 43. His 43 goals were the most in a season in franchise history.
- Duchene also posted a career high in points with 86 (43g-43a), the second-most in a season in Predators history.
- He was one of six players in the NHL to record at least 43 goals and 43 assists.
- Duchene became the first 40-goal scorer in Predators history on April 19 vs. Calgary.
- He scored his 15th power-play goal of 2021-22 on April 16 vs. Chicago, establishing a franchise record in the category, passing the previous mark of 14 held by Shea Weber (2015-16), Paul Kariya (2005-06) and Andy Delmore (2002-03).

FANTASTIC FIL

- Filip Forsberg established career highs in goals (42), assists (42) and points (84).
- He was second on the Predators and tied for ninth in the NHL in goals.
- Forsberg set two franchise records in March – the most goals in a single season with 35 on March 21 at Anaheim and the most goals in franchise history with his 211th on March 19 vs. Toronto.
- With his 34th and 35th goals of the season on March 21, he passed Viktor Arvidsson (34 in 2018-19) for the most in a single season in team history. The record was eventually set by Matt Duchene (43).
- Among NHL skaters who played in at least 41 games this season, Forsberg was second in goals per 60 minutes at 5-on-5 (1.67) and fifth in goals per game (0.61).

TOP-RATED ROOKIES

- Predators rookies scored 39 goals, compiled 112 points and accounted for 15.4 percent of the team's points, the second-, second- and sixth-most, respectively, in the NHL during the 2021-22 campaign.
- Nashville received more goals and points from rookies in 2021-22 than any other season in team history.
- It was the second season in franchise history to feature two rookies with at least 10 goals (Tanner Jeannot, Philip Tomasino) and the first since 1999-00 (David Legwand, Randy Robitaille).
- The Predators dressed seven rookies, combining for 279 games played: Jeannot (81), Alexandre Carrier (77), Tomasino (76), Tommy Novak (27), Cole Smith (8), Jeremy Davies (6), Connor Ingram (3) and Kole Sherwood (1).

CALDER CONTENDER

- Predators forward Tanner Jeannot led all NHL rookies in goals with 24. He became the first Nashville skater to lead NHL rookies in goals in team history.
- He also finished eighth among NHL rookies in points with 41 (24g-17a).
- Jeannot's 24 goals and 41 points were both the second-most in a season by a Predators rookie.
- He averaged 2:32 of shorthanded ice time, the most among NHL rookie forwards.
- He finished second among all NHL skaters in hits with 318, a franchise record. He became the second NHL rookie since 2008-09 to have at least 300 hits in a season.
- Jeannot was one of two NHL players (Brady Tkachuk) to have at least 20 goals and 250 hits this season.
- He also led all NHL players in fighting majors with 14.
- Jeannot tallied seven multi-point games, including his first career three-point performance on March 27 vs. Philadelphia (1g-2a) as part of a "Gordie Howe Hat Trick."
- He scored Nashville's first shorthanded goal of the season on Feb. 22 at Florida.
- He was one of five NHL rookies to score at least one power-play goal and one shorthanded goal.
- Jeannot ranked among the NHL's rookie leaders in scoring despite starting just 25.9 percent of his shifts in the offensive zone, the fourth-fewest among first-year forwards.

CARRIER BREAKS OUT

- Alexandre Carrier led NHL rookie defensemen in plus-minus (+26) and was third in assists (27), points (30) and average TOI (20:59).
- He posted the most assists and points and the best plus-minus rating by a rookie defenseman in franchise history; he also had the second-highest average TOI.
- Carrier was second among Predators defensemen in assists and hits (95) and was third in points.
- Carrier's +26 rating was tied for the fifth-highest in a season in Predators history. He tied Tampa Bay's Victor Hedman for the 18th-highest rating among NHL defensemen this season.

OTHER NOTES

- Ryan Johansen tallied at least 60 points for the sixth time in his NHL career; his 26 goals were his most since also tallying 26 in 2014-15. Johansen scored a career high 11 power-play goals and closed out the regular season with 27 points (13g-14a) in his last 30 games.
- Mikael Granlund had 53 assists, a career high. He became the second center and fifth skater in franchise history to reach the 50-assist mark in a season.
- Philip Tomasino became the third rookie in Predators history to record multiple three-point games in a season (2), joining Craig Smith (4) and Filip Forsberg (3).
- Yakov Trenin established career highs in games played (80), goals (17), assists (7), points (24), plus-minus (+7), blocked shots (33) and hits (191).
- Colton Sissons led the Predators and was 13th in the NHL (among skaters who took at least 1,000 faceoffs) in faceoff percentage at 55.7 percent. He also led the NHL in shorthanded faceoff wins (156) and was fourth in defensive zone faceoff wins (354).
- Juuse Saros, a finalist for the Vezina Trophy, finished third in the NHL in wins with 38, a career high and the fourth-most in a season in Predators history. Saros, who was named an All-Star for the first time in his career, also led NHL goaltenders in minutes played (3,931:23) and starts (67); both were the fourth-most in a season in team history.

HOCKEY HALL OF FAME INDUCTEES

PETER FORSBERG | FORWARD | INDUCTED: NOVEMBER 17, 2014

The Predators acquired seven-time All-Star and two-time Stanley Cup champion Peter Forsberg from the Philadelphia Flyers on Feb. 15, 2007 in one of the largest trades in franchise history. Forsberg tallied 15 points (2g-13a) in 17 games for the Predators, helping the team finish the regular season with 51 wins - tied for the second-most in the NHL - and 110 points. Forsberg was inducted into the Hockey Hall of Fame on Nov. 17, 2014 after a legendary 13-season NHL career spent with Quebec, Colorado, Philadelphia and Nashville. He recorded 885 points (249g-636a) in 708 career NHL games from 1994-2010.

PAUL KARIYA | FORWARD | INDUCTED: NOVEMBER 13, 2017

Paul Kariya signed with Nashville as a free agent in the summer of 2005 and went on to help guide the team to two of its best seasons in franchise history in 2005-06 and 2006-07. Kariya began his Predators tenure by posting 85 points (31g-54a) and 54 assists - both single-season franchise records at the time - in the 2005-06 campaign and went on to record 161 points (55g-106a) in 164 games with Nashville. Kariya, who was inducted into the Hockey Hall of Fame on Nov. 13, 2017, tallied exactly a point-per-game (402g-587a) in his 989-game NHL career with Anaheim, St. Louis, Nashville and Colorado.

FRANCHISE TIMELINE

December 18, 1996: The $160 million Nashville Arena (now known as Bridgestone Arena) opened with Amy Grant's Tennessee Christmas.

June 25, 1997: Leipold Hockey Holdings, LLC, was granted a conditional franchise by the NHL Board of Governors.

July 1, 1997: Jack Diller was named the first president of the Nashville Predators.

July 9, 1997: David Poile was named the first general manager in franchise history.

August 6, 1997: Barry Trotz was named as Nashville's first head coach and Paul Gardner was named an assistant coach.

September 25, 1997: Craig Leipold and Jack Diller unveiled the saber-toothed tiger logo at the downtown First American building (now known as the UBS Tower), the site of a saber-toothed tiger discovery in August 1971.

September 27, 1997: The Ice Breaker Bash kicked off season-ticket sales at Bridgestone Arena and attracted more than 12,000 hockey fans for three hours of hockey demonstrations, displays and interactive games.

November 13, 1997: Craig Leipold and Jack Diller unveiled "Predators" as the franchise's name (as selected by fans) at the Wildhorse Saloon in front of inaugural season-ticket holders and fans.

February 12, 1998: Head Coach Barry Trotz and Assistant Coach Paul Garden unveiled the Predators' inaugural home and away jerseys in front of 2,000 fans at Cool Springs Galleria.

May 4, 1998: The National Hockey League officially announced the Nashville Predators as the 27th franchise in League history.

June 19, 1998: Brent Peterson was named an assistant coach.

June 26, 1998: The Predators selected 26 players in the NHL Expansion Draft.

June 27, 1998: The Nashville Predators became the 27th NHL team to participate in the NHL Draft. Nashville selected David Legwand with the second overall pick.

July 6, 1998: Nashville signed free agent Tom Fitzgerald and named him the first captain in franchise history.

October 10, 1998: The Predators hosted the franchise's first NHL game against the Florida Panthers. In front of a sold-out crowd of 17,298, Florida's Ray Whitney scored the only goal of the 1-0 game.

October 13, 1998: Nashville defeated the Carolina Hurricanes, 3-2, to record the first victory in franchise history. Andrew Brunette scored the first goal in franchise history at 5:12 of the first period.

January 24, 1999: Sergei Krivokrasov became the first Predators player to appear in an NHL All-Star Game, playing for the World All-Stars at Tampa Bay's Ice Palace.

February 1, 1999: The Predators opened their practice facility at Centennial Sportsplex.

April 17, 1999: The Nashville Predators closed out their inaugural season with a 4-3 loss to the New Jersey Devils. The Predators drew a total of 664,000 fans (average of 16,202; 94 percent capacity) and compiled a 28-47-7 record.

October 6-7, 2000: The Predators opened the 2000-01 season with a two-game series against the Pittsburgh Penguins at the Saitama Super Arena outside Tokyo, Japan. Both games finished with a 3-1 score, with Nashville winning the first contest and Pittsburgh claiming the second. The two games drew the two largest crowds to ever witness hockey games in Japan (13,849 for the first game; 13,426 for the second).

March 23, 2001: General Manager David Poile was one of three recipients of the 2001 Lester Patrick Award, presented annually for "outstanding service to hockey in the United States."

November 21, 2001: The Predators unveiled an alternate jersey. The gold sweater featured an animated saber-toothed tiger logo on the crest and a pair of tiger skulls on the shoulders. It was worn through the 2006-07 season.

October 8, 2002: Greg Johnson was named the second captain in team history. Scott Walker also wore the "C" on an interim basis (Jan. 12-27) for Nashville in 2002-03.

June 21-22, 2003: The Predators hosted the 2003 NHL Draft at Bridgestone Arena and made 13 total picks, including eight of the first 98 players selected in what has since become known as the top-producing draft in NHL history. More than 13,000 fans attended the two-day event, which had an estimated economic impact of nearly $10 million on the Middle Tennessee area.

February 8, 2004: For the first time since the team's inaugural season, Nashville was represented in the NHL All-Star Game. Kimmo Timonen (who was named to the game in 1999 but did not participate due to injury) and Tomas Vokoun both played for the Western Conference at the Xcel Energy Center in St. Paul, Minn.

April 3, 2004: On the second-to-last day of the 2003-04 regular season, a loss by the Edmonton Oilers clinched the Predators' first-ever berth in the Stanley Cup Playoffs.

April 7, 2004: The Predators took on the top-seeded Red Wings at Joe Louis Arena in the franchise's first playoff game. Despite Adam Hall's goal just 16 seconds into the game - the first postseason goal in franchise history - Detroit held on for a 3-1 win.

April 11, 2004: In the first home playoff game in team history, the Predators earned their first playoff victory, a 3-1 decision over Detroit.

August 5, 2005: The Predators announced the signing of free-agent forward and future Hall of Famer Paul Kariya, the first First-Team NHL All-Star to sign with Nashville.

October 8, 2005: In their second game of the 2005-06 season, the Predators won their first shootout, a 3-2 victory over Anaheim. Paul Kariya scored the game-deciding shootout goal against his former team.

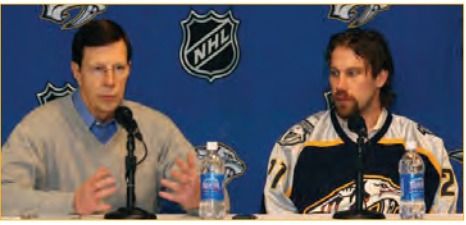
March 18, 2006: Nashville defeated Calgary, 9-4, at Bridgestone Arena for its 40th win of the 2005-06 season, clinching the first 40-win campaign in team history. The Predators ended the season with a 49-25-8 record and led the NHL with 32 home wins.

FRANCHISE TIMELINE

April 18, 2006: Paul Kariya notched a hat trick as part of a four-point game (3g-1a) in Nashville's 6-3 win over Detroit in the team's 2005-06 regular-season finale. Kariya finished the season with 31 goals and 85 points, the latter being a franchise record. Steve Sullivan also netted 31 goals, and he and Kariya became the first Predators teammates to score at least 30 goals in a season.

January 24, 2007: Kimmo Timonen represented Nashville in the 55th NHL All-Star Game in Dallas, Texas, while Head Coach Barry Trotz served as an assistant coach for the Western Conference.

February 15, 2007: The Predators acquired Hall-of-Fame center Peter Forsberg from the Philadelphia Flyers for the 2007 stretch run.



April 5, 2007: With a 4-1 win over the St. Louis Blues, Nashville hit the 50-win mark for the first time in franchise history. The Predators finished the 2006-07 regular season with a 51-23-8 record and a then-franchise-record 110 points.

May 22, 2007: The Sporting News named Predators GM David Poile its NHL Executive of the Year and Head Coach Barry Trotz its Coach of the Year in its 2006-07 awards. Both honors were determined by a vote by their peers.

August 1, 2007: Nashville owner Craig Leipold announced the signing of a letter of intent to sell the Nashville Predators and Powers Management (the company that operates Bridgestone Arena) to a local ownership group.

July 13, 2021: Franchise icon Pekka Rinne announced his retirement from the NHL. Rinne retired after spending his entire 683-game NHL career with the Predators. He stands as the franchise leader in nearly every goaltending category, including wins (369), goals-against average (2.43) and shutouts (60) and in NHL history, he sits 19th in shutouts and tied for 19th in victories.

July 19, 2021: Luke Prokop, Nashville's third-round pick in the 2020 NHL Draft, announced he is gay. With the support of the Predators behind him, Prokop became the first active player signed to an NHL contract to make such an announcement.

July 22, 2021: The Predators hosted a ribbon-cutting ceremony to commemorate the opening of the Lee Company Dek Hockey Rink, located next to the Bellevue Family YMCA.

August 16, 2021: After finishing sixth in Vezina Trophy and 11th in Hart Trophy voting in 2020-21, the Predators signed goaltender Juuse Saros to a four-year, $20 million contract. Saros posted career bests in goals-against average (2.28) and save percentage (.927) during the 2020-21 campaign.

October 1, 2021: SS&E announced a first-of-its-kind partnership with Austin Peay State University Athletics, which will see the division of Predators Holdings, LLC serve as the exclusive third-party ticket, premium and sponsorship sales agency for APSU-hosted varsity sporting events.

October 11, 2021: Rounding out his homegrown management staff, David Poile announced that Scott Nichol was promoted to Assistant General Manager. In addition to his new title, Nichol would continue to serve as GM of the AHL's Milwaukee Admirals and as the Director of Player Development.

October 30, 2021: Predators and Bally Sports South studio analyst Terry Crisp announced that the 2021-22 season would be last covering the team. A testament to his impact on the sport in Middle Tennessee, Predators President and CEO Sean Henry said, "There are few individuals who have been more important to more hockey markets and expansion teams than Terry Crisp."

November 30, 2021: Predators forward Filip Forsberg scored four goals against the Columbus Blue Jackets at Bridgestone Arena, tying the franchise record held by Eric Nystrom and Rocco Grimaldi.

December 13, 2021: International trade publication Pollstar unveiled its End of Year Sales Report, with Bridgestone Arena coming in at No. 1 in both the United States and the world for concert ticket sales. "The power of sports and entertainment lifting people up during trying times was fully on display this year," Predators and Bridgestone Arena Executive Vice President of Entertainment and Venues David Kells said following the recognition.

FRANCHISE TIMELINE

January 20, 2022: With a helper on Mikael Granlund's goal vs. Winnipeg, Roman Josi recorded his 357th career assist, giving him sole possession of first place on the franchise's all-time list.

February 5, 2022: Predators Captain Roman Josi and goaltender Juuse Saros represented Nashville in the 2022 NHL All-Star Game, held at T-Mobile Arena in Las Vegas.

February 24, 2022: In a franchise first, the Predators retired the Pekka Rinne's No. 35 to the Bridgestone Arena rafters prior to the team's game against Dallas. Joined on stage by his family, Predators GM David Poile and former teammates Shea Weber and Kimmo Timonen, Rinne was cheered on by a franchise-record 17,869 fans as he became the first player in team history to have his jersey number retired. After the ceremony, the Predators defeated the Stars, 2-1, with Rinne's countryman Mikael Granlund scoring the game-deciding goal in the shootout.

February 26, 2022: Just two days after Pekka Rinne's jersey retirement ceremony, the Predators hosted the 2022 Navy Federal Credit Union Stadium Series game at Nissan Stadium, home of the NFL's Tennessee Titans. It was the first outdoor game to be played in Tennessee and the second involving the Predators. Nashville and Tampa Bay battled in front of 68,619 fans - the seventh-largest crowd in NHL history - alongside performances from country music superstars Dierks Bentley and Miranda Lambert. Tanner Jeannot and Filip Forsberg scored for the Predators, who fell to the Lightning, 3-2.

March 22, 2022: Filip Forsberg recorded two goals and three assists in a 6-3 win at Anaheim to become the first player in franchise history to record multiple five-point games.

March 19, 2022: Skating against Toronto at Bridgestone Arena, Filip Forsberg scored his 211th career NHL goal, passing David Legwand (210) for the most in Predators history.

April 7, 2022: Roman Josi set the Predators franchise record for points in a season by recording his 86th in a 3-2 win at Ottawa. Josi's record-breaking point total beat the previous Preds franchise mark set by Paul Kariya back in 2005-06 (85).

April 18, 2022: The Predators honored broadcaster Terry Crisp during the team's game against St. Louis at Bridgestone Arena. Crisp, who retired following the 2021-22 campaign, took part in the ceremonial puck drop pregame and was recognized for his contributions to the Nashville community at an intermission celebration. Additionally, the team announced that one of the ice sheets at Ford Ice Center Bellevue would be named Terry Crisp Ice Rink and the unveiling of the Crisp College Scholarship Fund.

April 26, 2022: By earning one point against Calgary, the Predators clinched a berth in the Stanley Cup Playoffs for the eighth consecutive season, tied for the second-longest active streak in the NHL.

May 9-10, 2022: In a two-day span, two Predators players were named finalists for major NHL awards. Captain Roman Josi was named a finalist for the Norris Trophy and goaltender Juuse Saros earned a nod as a finalist for the Vezina Trophy. Shortly after, Josi was also selected as a finalist for the Ted Lindsay Award; he also was nominated for the Best NHL Player award at the 2022 ESPYS.

May 17, 2022: Bridgestone Arena was named Arena of the Year at the 57th Academy of Country Music Awards (ACM).

July 11, 2022: After posting the best statistical season of his NHL career - establishing highs in goals (42), assists (42) and points (84), the Predators signed forward Filip Forsberg to an eight-year, $68 million contract, keeping the team's all-time leading goal scorer in Nashville through the 2029-30 season.

August 18, 2022: The NHL announced that the 2023 NHL Awards and the 2023 Upper Deck NHL Draft™ will both take place in the City of Nashville in June. This will be the first time both events have been held in the same city since 2006, when NHL Awards and the NHL Draft™ both were held in Vancouver. It will be the 20th anniversary of when Nashville hosted the 2003 NHL Draft; it will be the first time Nashville will host the NHL Awards.

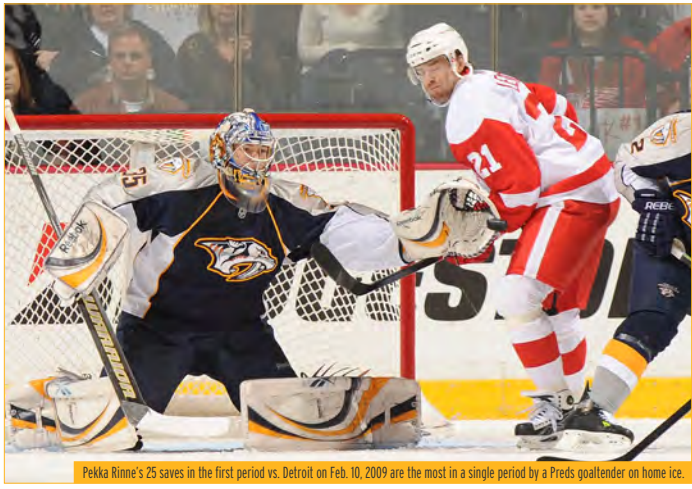
Matt Duchene became the fifth player in team history to score three goals in a period when he did so in the third on Nov. 20, 2021 at Montreal.



Pekka Rinne's 25 saves in the first period vs. Detroit on Feb. 10, 2009 are the most in a single period by a Preds goaltender on home ice.

PLAYOFFS

STANLEY CUP PLAYOFFS NOTES

POSTSEASON STREAK HITS EIGHT

• The Nashville Predators qualified for the postseason for the eighth consecutive season, extending the longest streak in franchise history. It was the team's 15th postseason appearance in its 24-season history.

• Nashville has enjoyed postseason hockey in every season since 2014-15, tied for the second-longest active streak (with Washington), trailing only Pittsburgh's run of 16 seasons.

• The Predators' 15 postseason appearances since 2004 - when they reached the playoffs for the first time - are the second-most among NHL teams in that time span.

• Predators GM David Poile qualified for the postseason for the 29th time as an NHL general manager (15 with Nashville, 14 with Washington), eclipsing longtime Detroit executive Jack Adams (28) for the most in League history.

INGRAM SHINES

• Predators goaltender Connor Ingram made 49 saves in his first career playoff start in Game 2.

• He became the first rookie goalie in Predators history to start in a postseason game.

• Ingram's 49 saves were tied for the most by a goalie making his first playoff start in the last 10 years with Columbus' Elvis Merzlikins (2020).

• It was tied for the fourth-most saves by a Predators goalie in a playoff game in team history, trailing only Juuse Saros' 52 and 58 in 2021 and Dan Ellis' 52 in 2008.

• Ingram, who entered in relief of David Rittich in Game 1, stopped 79 of 83 shots in Games 2-3 against Colorado.

• He became the seventh goalie in Predators history to start a playoff game.

• He was the first goalie other than Saros or Pekka Rinne to appear in two playoff games in the same season since Ellis in 2010.

DUTCHY DOES IT

• Matt Duchene led the Predators in points (4) and shared the team lead in goals (3) during the 2022 postseason.

• Duchene scored twice in Game 1 at Colorado for his first career multi-goal playoff game. It was the 29th multi-goal game in Predators playoff history and the first since Yakov Trenin in Game 5 of the 2021 First Round at Carolina (2g).

• He tallied a point in three of Nashville's four games, adding a goal in Game 3 and an assist in Game 4.

CARRIER'S HELPERS

• Alexandre Carrier tied for the Predators lead in assists with three in four games. His three assists were tied for the most by a rookie in Predators postseason history.

• He tallied two helpers in Game 3 to become the third rookie in Predators history to record at least two assists in a postseason game, joining Pontus Aberg (2017) and Dan Hamhuis (2004).

QUICK HITS

• Roman Josi extended his lead on the team's all-time postseason games played list, reaching 85. He also moved into a tie for first in assists (31) in Predators playoff history.

• Filip Forsberg scored in Game 4 to give him 29 goals and 53 points in his postseason career, both the most in team history.

• Yakov Trenin scored twice in Game 4 and tied Matt Duchene for the team lead in playoff goals with three.

• The Predators dished out 59 hits in Game 1 at Colorado, the second-most in a playoff game in team history and their most since Game 4 of the 2015 Western Conference First Round at Chicago (66).

• Nashville and Colorado combined for six power-play goals in Game 3, the most in a postseason contest since Game 4 of the 2012 Eastern Conference Quarterfinals between Pittsburgh (4) and Philadelphia (3).

2022 STANLEY CUP PLAYOFFS FIRST ROUND

NASHVILLE PREDATORS VS. COLORADO AVALANCHE | FIRST ROUND

Game 1 - Nashville 2 at Colorado 7 (May 3)

Matt Duchene scored twice, but the Nashville Predators fell to the Colorado Avalanche by a 7-2 final in Game 1 at Ball Arena. Colorado scored five times in the first period, and although the Predators settled in as the game went along, they know their effort to start Game 1 didn't yield the desired result. Goals from Nathan MacKinnon, Devon Toews, Andrew Cogliano, Cale Makar and Artturi Lehkonen gave the Avalanche a five-goal lead after 20 minutes of play, a result that saw Preds goaltender Connor Ingram take over for David Rittich before the opening period was out. Gabriel Landeskog made it 6-0 before Duchene capitalized on the power play at 18:40 of the second stanza. MacKinnon got his second of the night early in the third before Duchene finished off the scoring by beating Avalanche goaltender Darcy Kuemper on a breakaway before Game 1 was done.

Game 2 (OT) - Nashville 1 at Colorado 2 (May 5)

Connor Ingram made 49 saves, but the Nashville Predators fell to the Colorado Avalanche in overtime by a 2-1 final in Game 2 at Ball Arena. Yakov Trenin scored the lone goal for the Predators on the night, and Ingram, who made the first postseason start of his career, produced one of the more epic playoff performances from a Nashville goaltender in franchise history. But ultimately, the Preds were unable to tally for a second time, and the visitors were left with a result they were hoping to avoid before heading home. Nathan MacKinnon gave Colorado a 1-0 lead when he beat Ingram short side just over five minutes into Game 2, but before the opening period was out, Trenin converted on a 2-on-1 and snapped a shot past Darcy Kuemper for his first of the postseason to even the score. Both clubs traded chances in the second stanza, and Ingram made 21 saves in the period for the Preds, and then Nashville's netminder stopped 13 more Avalanche shots in the final frame to single handedly lead his club to overtime. Ingram then made eight more saves in the extra session, but at 8:31 of OT, Cale Makar's shot found a way into the twine to send the Predators home without a win through two games to start the series.

Game 3 - Colorado 7 at Nashville 3 (May 7)

Nashville and Colorado combined for six power-play goals in Game 3, but it was the Predators who fell to the Avalanche by a 7-3 final at Bridgestone Arena. Matt Duchene, Eeli Tolvanen and Roman Josi all tallied for Nashville in Game 3, but four of Colorado's seven goals came with the man advantage as the series shifted back to Tennessee. The Predators say their 5-on-5 play was the best they've seen in the series, but the Avalanche took advantage of their chances to ultimately hand the Preds their third loss in as many tries. Colorado had a 2-0 lead in the game's first 16 minutes with a pair of power-play goals, but the Preds got on the board before the opening period was out courtesy of Duchene picking a corner on Avalanche goaltender Darcy Kuemper to bring Nashville to within one goal. Then, late in the period, Kuemper caught an inadvertent stick through a hole in his mask and left the game with backup netminder Pavel Francouz taking over less than six minutes into the second stanza, the Preds got their first man-advantage tally of the afternoon when Tolvanen converted from the left circle, and after the Avalanche took a 3-2 lead, Josi blasted a shot from the blue line that beat Francouz on the power play to tie the score at 3-3. But the Avalanche regained the lead just over a minute later, and Nashville's challenge on the play for goaltender interference was unsuccessful. That led to another power-play goal for Colorado to give them a 5-3 advantage after 40 minutes of play. Colorado added two more in the third period - and their seventh went into an empty net - as Predators goaltender Connor Ingram made 35 more saves in a Game 3 that didn't go the home team's way.

Game 4 - Colorado 5 at Nashville 3 (May 9)

Nashville's run in the postseason came to an end in Game 4. Yakov Trenin tallied twice, and Filip Forsberg scored his first of the playoffs, but the Predators ultimately fell to the Colorado Avalanche by a 5-3 final in Game 4 at Bridgestone Arena. The result saw the Avs sweep the Preds and win the series by a 4-0 count to bring a conclusion to Nashville's campaign. Goaltender Connor Ingram made 33 saves in net for the Predators, and Nashville played their best game of the series in what turned out to be their final outing, but it wasn't enough against a Colorado team that handed the Preds their first sweep in franchise history and ultimately won the Stanley Cup. Colorado got the game's first goal less than two minutes into the contest when Andre Burakovsky's shot beat Ingram top shelf, but before the opening period was out, Trenin potted his first of the night to even the score. Cale Makar gave the Avalanche the lead once more over halfway through the second stanza when his shot from the point found its way through traffic, but again, Trenin found twine and tied the game before the middle frame was complete. Forsberg gave the Preds their first lead of the series when he tapped home a feed from Ekholm in tight early in the third period, but that proved to be Nashville's last goal of the night. Devon Toews tied the game soon after, and Valeri Nichushkin scored what proved to be the game-winner before Nathan MacKinnon sealed the series with an empty-netter as the Predators tried to push with the extra attacker.

MEDIA INFORMATION

NASHVILLE PREDATORS COMMUNICATIONS

PRESS INFORMATION

Inquiries about the Predators may be directed to Kevin Wilson (kwilson@nashvillepredators.com; 615-770-2335), Nick Barnowski (nbarnowski@nashvillepredators.com; 615-770-2126) or Katie Cafiero (615-770-2347) of the club's communications department.

CREDENTIALS

Media members who were issued full season credentials may use them to enter Bridgestone Arena and/or Centennial Sportsplex for regular-season games and practices. Single-game credentials must be submitted by email to Nick Barnowski (nbarnowski@nashvillepredators.com) by 10 a.m. CT the day prior to the game in question. Press box space is limited; for this reason, the Predators cannot guarantee single-game credentials to media members who request such passes after the deadline. Credentialed media members without a press box seat assignment are welcome to watch games in the event-level media lounge/workroom at Bridgestone Arena.

Credentials will be issued only to representatives of legitimate news-gathering agencies and websites. They will be confiscated if worn by media members whose name does not appear on the credential. Only credentialed media members are allowed to sit in the press box.

MEDIA ENTRANCE

All credentialed media members may enter Bridgestone Arena through the ground floor of the Sixth Avenue Garage, located near the corner of Sixth Avenue and Demonbreun Street. Single-game credentials are available for pick-up at this entrance on game nights, which will be open three hours prior to puck drop. Practices and morning skates at Bridgestone Arena are also accessible through this entrance.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Accredited photographers may receive location assignments from team photographer John Russell (john.a.russell@vanderbilt.edu) on game nights or in advance via email. In accordance to NHL Images policies and procedures, freelance photographers and roving passes are not permitted.

PRESS BOX & RADIO/TV BOOTHS

The Bridgestone Arena press box is located in Sections 310 (television and radio broadcasts), 311 (home and visiting beat writers) and 312 (local TV crews, scouts, other media), and can be reached from the event level by taking the elevators/freight elevator near the Zamboni entrance to Level 4. Proceed to your left out of the elevators, and the press box is three sections down.

WIRELESS INTERNET SERVICE

Wireless internet is available to media throughout Bridgestone Arena. The password can be obtained through the Predators communications staff. For technical assistance, please contact Michael Paul (mpaul@nashvillepredators.com; 615-770-2196).

POSTGAME PLAYER REQUESTS

Back this season, we ask that media members use NashvillePredators.com/postgame to request a postgame interview with a specific Predators player. Please make these requests before the final five minutes of regulation (or the start of overtime, if necessary). Every effort will be made to make requested players available.

MEDIA AVAILABILITIES

As indicated above, the Predators' locker room will be open to members of the media following practices, morning skates and games. If you have a specific media request that would fall outside of the team's normal media availabilities, please contact a member of our department.

On game days, all interviews – except for those approved by the communications department via special request – must be completed during the media availability period following the team's morning skate; should the team not hold a morning skate, information will be shared regarding pregame media availability.

Following games, practices and morning skates held at Bridgestone Arena, Head Coach John Hynes' press conference will be held in the event-level media lounge. The Predators' dressing room will open no later than 10 minutes following the conclusion of each game. In the event of a team meeting, the room will open at the conclusion of the meeting. The freight elevator outside sections 312/313 will make two express trips to the event level immediately following the game.

We will make every effort to record and send out download links to media availabilities on a daily basis throughout the season.

MEDIA WORK ROOMS

Work space and media dining are available in the media lounge/workroom on the event level's south side between the Zamboni tunnel and visitor's dressing room. These rooms open three hours before the opening faceoff. There is a second media lounge adjacent to Sections 310/311. Statistics, beverages and snacks will be available in the upper lounge during intermissions. Credentials must be displayed at all times to gain access to all media areas.

OFF-LIMITS

The medical room, players' lounge and shower/lavatory areas are closed to all media. The main locker room will be open to the media. Media are not permitted to enter the coaches' offices unless escorted by a member of the Predators communications department.

INJURY REPORTS

Predators General Manager David Poile, Head Coach John Hynes and communications personnel are the only Predators representatives who will offer comments on player injuries or injury updates.

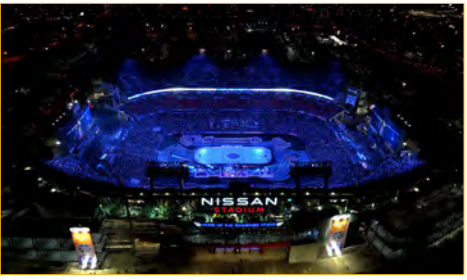
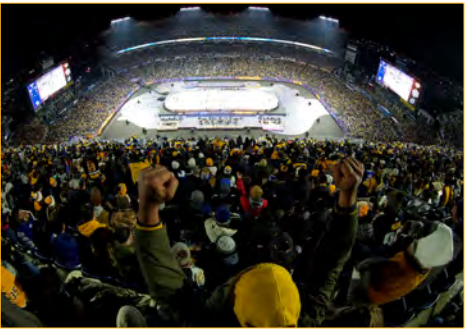
2022 NHL STADIUM SERIES

Tanner Jeannot and Filip Forsberg scored power-play goals, but the first outdoor NHL game in Tennessee history didn't go the home team's way as the Nashville Predators fell to the Tampa Bay Lightning 3-2 on Feb. 26, 2022 at Nissan Stadium.

Jeannot scored on the man advantage in the opening 20 minutes, but the Lightning tallied two power-play goals of their own in the second stanza, and Steven Stamkos put Tampa Bay up by two midway through the third. Forsberg gave the Preds life again when he converted less than a minute later, but a final flurry didn't yield the desired result. However, this wasn't a night the Predators are about to forget anytime soon.

A sea of navy and Gold jerseys, mixed with a smattering of Tampa Bay blue and white, provided a raucous atmosphere never before seen in Tennessee. The scene was unmistakably Nashville - neon, fireworks, performances by country music superstars Dierks Bentley and Miranda Lambert, just to name two - all in front of 68,619, the seventh-largest crowd in NHL history.

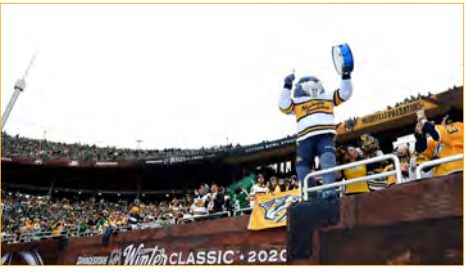




2020 BRIDGESTONE NHL WINTER CLASSIC

The Nashville Predators took part in one of the NHL's signature events during the 2019-20 season - the 2020 Bridgestone NHL Winter Classic, held on New Year's Day at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Texas, against the Dallas Stars.

Despite a 4-2 loss that featured Nashville goals by Matt Duchene and Dante Fabbro and a penalty-shot save by Pekka Rinne, it was an event to remember for the entire Predators organization. Attendance for the game was 85,630, the second-largest crowd to ever watch an NHL game, with more than 20,000 sporting Predators Gold, the highest total the League has ever seen from a visiting team for an outdoor game. In addition to the wave of Predators fans in the Cotton Bowl stands, the organization also took every employee and their families to the game to complete a once-in-a-lifetime road trip.



2016 NHL ALL-STAR WEEKEND

NASHVILLE HOSTS THE 2016 NHL ALL-STAR WEEKEND

On Oct. 17, 2014, the National Hockey League announced that the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena had been selected to host the 2016 NHL All-Star Weekend, the League's multi-day, mid-season showcase. The 2016 NHL All-Star Weekend was held on Jan. 30-31, and included a fan fair, the NHL All-Star Skills competition and the NHL All-Star Game.

The event was packed with many firsts and surprises, from country music stars making an appearance during the All-Star Skills Competition, to a new 3-on-3 format for the All-Star Game. Outside of hockey, the Music City Center hosted the fan fair, and the plaza outside of Bridgestone Arena was home to four days of outdoor concerts in beautiful weather and a stunning red-carpet event that was attended by tens of thousands. It was considered one of, if not the best, NHL All-Star Weekends in League history, with an economic impact of $25 million for the city.

2016 NHL ALL-STAR WEEKEND QUICK HITS

- It was just the sixth time that the NHL All-Star Game had been hosted in the southern United States and the first time since 2011.
- Country Music Hall of Fame member Vince Gill was named "Mayor of Smashville" for the event and longtime Predators broadcaster Terry Crisp was named "Vice Mayor of Smashville."
- Attendance at Saturday night's All-Star Skills Competition and Sunday's NHL All-Star Game was at a peak of 17,113 people. There were also concerts and Winter Park happening just outside of Bridgestone Arena; combined concert attendance throughout the multi-day event was 59,000 people.
- Along with bringing in numerous fans of the NHL, 5,000 room nights were rented out during the multi-day event for NHL officials, team executives and international media.
- The All-Star Game was the most-watched and highest-rated in NBC's history (1.194 million average; 1.89 million peak).
- Merchandise sales were amongst the best the NHL has ever seen for an All-Star Weekend.
- The Fan Fair, presented by Bridgestone, was held in the Music City Center and provided opportunities for fans to take photos with the Stanley Cup, meeting and getting autographs from players and take part in interactive booths throughout the weekend.
- The Nashville Players had a NHL-high four players participate in the event - Roman Josi, James Neal, Pekka Rinne and Shea Weber.

2016 NHL ALL-STAR WEEKEND DREW UNIVERSAL PRAISE

"One of the things that I know happens in Nashville, Tenn., is that they know how to put on major events, and they do it right. I think Nashville set the bar really, really high... It's going to be very, very hard for the next cities to match what Nashville did here."

- Former Predators Head Coach Barry Trotz

"Nashville glowed Predators gold this weekend, and the whole hockey world got to see it. From the star-studded entertainment to the high-energy arena atmosphere, our city wowed visitors from NHL cities across the continent and did our team proud."

- Jessica Bliss, Tennessean

2023 NHL AWARDS & 2023 NHL DRAFT

The National Hockey League announced in August that the 2023 NHL Awards and the 2023 Upper Deck NHL Draft™ will both take place in the City of Nashville in June. This will be the first time both events have been held in the same city since 2006, when NHL Awards and the NHL Draft™ both were held in Vancouver.

The 2023 NHL Awards are scheduled for Monday, June 26, marking the first time the event has taken place in Nashville. The NHL Awards will again honor the best regular-season players in a wide range of categories, including most valuable player (Hart Trophy), outstanding goaltender (Vezina Trophy), outstanding defenseman (Norris Trophy) and outstanding rookie (Calder Trophy); the Ted Lindsay Award, which is presented annually to the "most outstanding player" in the NHL, as voted by fellow members of the National Hockey League Players' Association (NHLPA), also will be awarded.

The 2023 Upper Deck NHL Draft™ will be hosted by the Nashville Predators and will be held at Bridgestone Arena over two days: Wednesday, June 28 (Round 1, televised on ESPN, Sportsnet and TVA Sports) and Thursday, June 29 (Rounds 2-7, television information to be announced when available). NHL club executives, scouts and coaches will be present on the NHL Draft floor, while thousands of fans and hundreds of print, television and radio media are expected to attend. It will be the second time the Predators have hosted the NHL Draft, and marks the 20-year anniversary of the 2003 edition, which was also held at Bridgestone Arena (then known as Gaylord Entertainment Center).

"We are thrilled to bring two of our marquee events - the 2023 NHL Awards and the 2023 NHL Draft - to Nashville, a special city that certainly knows how to throw a great party," NHL Commissioner Gary Bettman said. "From the 2003 NHL Draft to the 2016 NHL All-Star Weekend to the 2017 Stanley Cup Final to the 2022 NHL Stadium Series game, the city, the Predators organization and the Country Music community have overwhelmed the NHL with their welcome and support every time Nashville has hosted a League event. We cannot wait to return next June to celebrate the stars of our game and introduce the next generation of NHL Players."

"We want to thank and show our appreciation for the NHL, leadership from the City of Nashville and State of Tennessee and the Nashville Convention & Visitors Corp for bringing the NHL Draft and NHL Awards to Nashville," Predators President and CEO Sean Henry said. "Time and time again, our teams have come together to create new ways to present the biggest showcases in our sport by allowing the unique passion of our fans to shine through. It's been more than 15 years since these two events were hosted in the same city in the same year - next June, we are penciling that week with SMASHVILLE as the center of the hockey world. It will let hockey fans worldwide celebrate the best in our game and welcome its future stars right here in the heart of Music City."

"It is an honor to bring the NHL Draft back to Music City and an even bigger opportunity to host it alongside the NHL Awards," Nashville Convention & Visitors Corp CEO Butch Spyridon said. "As our partnership with the Preds and NHL continues to grow, we look forward to executing these two world class events next summer. Placed between CMA Fest and the city's July 4th celebration will only strengthen our summer travel season."

FORD ICE CENTER ANTIOCH

FORD ICE ANTIOCH

Ford

Ford Ice Center Antioch, which opened for public use in August 2014, was built as a provision of the June 2012 lease agreement between the city of Nashville and Bridgestone Arena. A component of the public-private partnership between Metro and the Nashville Predators, Ford Ice Center Antioch was built to help continue the growth of hockey and skating in Middle Tennessee. The facility's central location helps generate local economic development, which in turn increases the demand for nearby lodging, dining, shopping and entertainment.

Ford Ice Center Antioch houses two sheets of ice, eight locker rooms, four party rooms and more, providing an opportunity for players of all levels and ages more opportunities to participate in hockey and ice skating. Ford Ice Center Antioch is also connected to a six-acre park; this provides ample outdoor space for dry-land training opportunities for a variety of work outs.

In addition to housing the Predators' youth hockey initiatives such as Get Out and Learn! (G.O.A.L!), Ford Ice Center Antioch is home to the Scott Hamilton Skating Academy. Hamilton, a longtime Franklin resident and Olympic Gold Medalist, helps develop the curriculum, make staffing decisions for the Academy and more.

Ford Ice Center Antioch is also home to youth and adult hockey leagues, public skates and multiple learn-to-skate programs. The facility has also hosted two NHL Prospects Showcase tournaments, with the most recent coming in 2019, offering area hockey fans the chance to see future NHL stars on the Predators, Carolina Hurricanes, Tampa Bay Lightning and Washington Capitals. Ford Ice Center Antioch has also hosted several national USA Hockey adult league tournaments and skating showcases, in addition to national and regional events such as the 2019 NWHL All-Star Weekend and the 2017 U.S. Figure Skating Eastern Great Lakes Regional Figure Skating Championships.

Tenants

Nashville Predators youth and adult hockey; Scott Hamilton Skating Academy; Scott Hamilton Skating Club; Preds Select; Nashville Jr. Predators; Middle Tennessee State University Club Hockey; GNASH (High School Hockey) and 7Element Hockey

Fast Facts

- Two rinks (North Rink, South Rink)
- Eight locker rooms
- Outdoor street hockey area
- Off-ice training space featuring three hockey shooting lanes with synthetic ice, cardio equipment and dry-land training
- Concession stand

Perani's Hockey World

Ford Ice Center Antioch's pro shop is operated by Perani's Hockey World, one of the premier hockey shops in the United States. The Nashville location was Perani's first retail store in the southeast. In addition to operating 19 retail stores, Perani's runs an E-commerce business that is one of the largest in North America and is dedicated to offering their customers the best customer service, the lowest prices and largest product selection. It's the Toy Store for the hockey player!

FORD ICE CENTER BELLEVUE

Ford Ice Center Bellevue opened to the public in October 2019 and serves as the second ice facility the Predators operate, alongside Ford Ice Center Antioch, which opened five years prior. The facility, located within One Bellevue Place, was created via a partnership with members of the Metro Government of Nashville and Davidson County Office of the Mayor; Sports Authority of the Metropolitan Government of Nashville and Davidson County; and the Metro Board of Parks and Recreation with a goal of continuing to grow the sport of hockey in Middle Tennessee. The development was announced in March 2017 and work began at the site for the first time in June 2018.

The 110,000-square-foot facility - nearly 20,000 square-feet larger than its counterpart in Antioch - is home to two sheets of ice with room for more than 1,000 spectators on one rink and more than 500 on the other. Both rinks feature a state-of-the-art ice plant system by Cimco as well as two brand-new electric Zambonis, the only ones of its kind in Tennessee. The facility is also home to "Draft Picks," a full-service bar and restaurant; a Twice Daily convenience store; a Perani's Hockey World retail outlet; workout space for hockey players and figure skaters; and private party rooms available for rental.

Ford Ice Center Bellevue hosts many youth and adult hockey tournaments as well as tenants that include the Scott Hamilton Skating Academy and the Nashville Jr. Predators AAA hockey program. Staples of the Predators' youth and adult hockey offerings, such as G.O.A.L!, Little Preds Learn to Play and PREDecessor, are also offered at the facility.

In its first few years of existence, Ford Ice Center Bellevue hosted numerous world-class events that have featured teams and athletes from all over the world, including the annual Country Classic, which features four of the NCAA's top women's teams. In addition to the Predators using Ford Ice Center Bellevue as a practice rink in January 2020, it also hosted the team's Future Stars Game at the 2021 and 2022 Development Camps and served as a training facility for the 2022 U.S. Figure Skating Championships. Despite shutting down for nearly four months due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Ford Ice Center Bellevue has welcomed more than 1 million visitors since opening its doors for the first time.

The facility is a finishing touch to an already elaborate development at One Bellevue Place and couldn't have happened without the NHL, NHLPA, the Nashville Predators, the Sports Authority and the city of Bellevue working together to continue the prosperity of an already-thriving Metro Board of Parks and Recreation department.

F&M BANK ARENA

In July 2021, nearly seven months after breaking ground, representatives from the Nashville Predators, SS&E, F&M Bank and Montgomery County announced the name of the new development that will further grow the sport of hockey and bring entertainment to downtown Clarksville for generations to come - F&M Bank Arena.

Galvanized by the vision of the Mayor of Montgomery County, Jim Durrett, and the Predators organization, led by President and CEO Sean Henry, F&M Bank Arena is scheduled to open during the 2022-23 season.

The Predators will manage the 250,000-square-foot facility and will be responsible for its overall day-to-day operations. Additionally, the Predators will be charged with booking the facility and finding all the appropriate sponsors and partners to bring the venue to life and make it flourish.

F&M Bank Arena's primary tenant will be Austin Peay State University, whose men's and women's basketball teams will call the facility home. In addition to the facility's main, flexible event space - which will be able to host sporting events, concerts, banquets, conventions, trade shows and other events - the multi-level venue will feature a separate sheet of ice that will be used for youth and adult hockey leagues as well as figure skating. The main arena bowl will also be able to add an ice surface, giving it the ability to host hockey tournaments and attract larger on-ice events or competitions much like the existing Ford Ice Centers in Antioch and Bellevue. Using these ice sheets, the Predators will offer a variety of learn-to-skate programs at F&M Bank Arena, continuing their mission to expose and grow hockey to more Middle Tennessee residents.

It will also contain luxury suites, premium seating, private hospitality space, party rooms and common areas that will have full access to the arena bowl. The Austin Peay men's and women's basketball teams will move their coaches' offices and training facilities into F&M Bank Arena, which will also house their practice court.

F&M Bank Arena will hold approximately 6,000 fans for concerts; 5,500 for basketball game; and 5,000 for hockey games.

SUMNER COUNTY ICE CENTER

Sabertooth Sports & Entertainment, LLC (SS&E), which is owned and operated by Predators Holdings, LLC, announced in May 2021 the development of a new ice center in Sumner County at The Goat Farm.

The new development is part of a public-private partnership between the SS&E, Sumner County, the City of Gallatin and the City of Hendersonville. Stratos Development will serve as the main developer of the facility at The Goat Farm - a 54-acre Sumner County landmark accessible from Nashville Pike and Shute Lane - with assistance from longtime Predators Season-Ticket Citizens Randy Smith and Alex Smith.

The development of the roughly 100,000-square-foot facility, which will feature two sheets of ice, public and private locker rooms, a weight room and hockey pro shop, among other amenities, will be partially funded by the NHL and NHLPA Industry Growth Fund. On top of an already robust schedule of programming for youth and adult hockey, girls hockey and figure skating, the Predators and Ford Ice Centers were awarded funds from the IGF in October 2020 for further investment in the development of youth hockey in Middle Tennessee. Using these funds, the Predators have taken their commitment to growing girls hockey and learn-to-skate programs to a new level - 350 girls were introduced to the sport this past winter with a 20-week training program that culminated with a free tournament at the end of the season, and through the Go Skate! program, 600 kids learned how to skate for the first time with world-class coaching from the Scott Hamilton Skating Academy. The Predators' pledge to help break down barriers for participation in hockey in our community has shone through CORE presented by Bridgestone, a program that aims to significantly reduce the difficulty of entry to the game of hockey for minority communities.

The development at The Goat Farm will help the Predators take another step in growing hockey infrastructure in Middle Tennessee. In addition to the planned state-of-the-art amenities, the facility will host hockey tournaments as well as on-ice events and competitions similar to the existing Ford Ice Centers in Antioch and Bellevue. The two additional ice sheets in the community will allow the Predators to offer similar programs in Sumner County, such as learn-to-skate, youth and adult hockey and Scott Hamilton Skating Academy lessons and events.

The two rinks, which will meet NHL standards and offer seating for more than 1,800 spectators, will be part of a broader development at The Goat Farm that is expected to contain retail and restaurant space, residential units, entertainment opportunities and a planned hotel.

SS&E and Stratos Development are working toward finalizing an opening date in the summer of 2023.

CENTENNIAL SPORTSPLEX

The Thomas Frist Centennial Sportsplex is operated by the Metro Board of Parks and Recreation in Nashville. The facility was made possible by a landmark land exchange between Metro Parks and healthcare provider Hospital Corporation of America (HCA). The city exchanged 10 prime acres adjacent to Centennial Park for $12 million. The money was used to build the Sportsplex. During the summer of 2014, the ice arena at Centennial Sportsplex underwent major renovations, including replacing the ice coolant systems and installing new dasher boards and glass at Rink B.

The $20 million, 145,000-square-foot Sportsplex features a tennis center, a fitness center, an aquatics center and two full-size ice rinks. The aquatics center, named after Olympian Tracy Caulkins, has been the site of numerous U.S. Senior and Junior National Swim Meets, the YMCA National Swim Meet and, to date, still holds one of the fastest times ever swam for the men's 50-meter freestyle, set in the inaugural swim meet in February 1990 by Olympian Tom Jager.

The ice arena opened on Jan. 2, 1990, with one sheet, and a second sheet was added on Feb. 1, 1999. It is home to the Nashville Predators' practice facility, the Nashville Youth Hockey League, Nashville Skating Academy and the Nashville Figure Skating Club. The building holds offices for the Predators' coaching staff and hockey operations department, a full dressing room, weight room and an athletic training section.

CENTENNIAL SPORTSPLEX

222 25th Avenue North
Nashville, TN 37203
(615) 862-8480

In addition, Centennial Sportsplex hosts adult hockey leagues, figure skating, numerous public sessions, figure skating competitions, ice shows, hockey tournaments and camps. In 1997, it was one of the sites for the USFSA National Championships.

Centennial Sportsplex offers instructional classes in skating, swimming and tennis, as well as public usage in each of those areas. The ice arena and aquatic area also offers special rates for parties, schools and group events. PREDATORS NAME, LOGO & SWEATER HISTORY

NASHVILLE PREDATORS

The Nashville Predators unveiled their logo, a saber-toothed tiger, in Nashville's downtown First American Center on Sept. 25, 1997, 26 years after a fang and foreleg bone of a saber-toothed tiger were found in a cave just below the building's address. In May 1971, excavation began at the downtown Nashville site of what today is the 28-story UBS Tower. Further digging revealed a cave containing the nine-inch fang and a foreleg bone of a saber-toothed tiger, extinct for at least 10,000 years. Radiocarbon tests revealed that it could have possibly been one of the last of its breed to exist. Scientists believe that some time during the last glacial period (15,000-80,000 years ago), part of the cave was the den of the saber-toothed tiger.

The discovery, made in August 1971, marked only the fifth of its kind in North America. For more than 35 years, the prehistoric artifacts were housed in the building above their excavation site, until November 2016, when they were presented to the team for housing inside Bridgestone Arena.

The saber-toothed tiger logo was co-designed by JDK Design of Burlington; Vermont and Dye; and Van Mol & Lawrence of Nashville. The naming of the Predators was a direct reflection of the fans of Nashville and their choice. During the public events and through focus groups and related surveys, fans selected the name "Predators" by a two-to-one margin over the second choice. On Nov. 13, 1997, the saber-toothed tiger logo as unveiled for the first time with the Predators insignia attached to it. A few months later on Feb. 12, 1998, then-Head Coach Barry Trotz and Assistant Coach Paul Gardner unveiled the Predators' inaugural home and away jerseys at Cool Springs Galleria.

On Nov. 21, 2001, the Predators debuted a third jersey with a 4-3 win over the Chicago Blackhawks at Bridgestone Arena. The jersey featured an "animated" saber-toothed logo on the crest and tiger skulls on the shoulders. It was retired following the 2006-07 season.

For the 2007-08 season, the Predators, along with the other 29 teams, introduced the Reebok EDGE Uniform System to future meet the performance demands of the players. The Predators debuted a new third jersey on Nov. 27, 2009 against the St. Louis Blues. The sweaters, which featured a vintage-inspired lace-up front, a subtle checkerboard pattern lining the bottom of the jersey and a bolder and more simplified color scheme, were worn for two seasons and retired ahead of the 2011-12 season, making way for the first logo and color scheme redesign in franchise history.

The logo and uniforms for the 2011-12 season were designed to develop a powerful, long-term brand message and help infuse new life into the Nashville Predators' brand with a more contemporary, aggressive and streamlined logo while still maintaining the basic "Pred Head" concept. A new secondary logo was also designed to represent the state flag of Tennessee and Nashville's Music City heritage, with a guitar pick shape incorporating the three stars of the state's three grand divisions - West, Middle and East. The "Predator Gold" sweaters create a distinct, dominant and bold look that balances traditional elements of classic uniforms with those unique to Nashville - guitar strings in the numbering and lettering, fangs in the neck area and piano keys on the inside of the collars.

Another redesign came for the 2017-18 season as adidas unveiled new ADIZERO authentic NHL jerseys and uniforms for all 31 NHL teams. The lighter, cooler and stronger designed helped solidify the team's visual identity within the league by placing more emphasis on the Preds' signature Gold. The adidas design team worked with the Predators on both the home and away uniforms to simplify them and use the signature Gold in a bolder and more prevalent way. In addition, the sleeve numbers were adjusted to include the same six-string graphic motif as the current back numbers.

PREDATORS LOGO & SWEATER HISTORY

On Nov. 13, 1997, the saber-toothed tiger logo was unveiled for the first time. During the inaugural season, the shoulder logo (an 'N' featuring the Bridgestone Arena spire) included the first year of the team's existence. In the 2005-06 season, the original shoulder patch was replaced by the skull logo originally worn on the Predators alternate jersey.

INTRODUCED: 1998 | RETIRED: 2007

On Nov. 21, 2001, the Predators debuted their first-ever third jersey. This jersey featured an "animated" saber-tooth tiger logo on the crest and tiger skulls on the shoulders.

INTRODUCED: 2001 | RETIRED: 2007

During the 2007-08 season, the Predators and the other 29 NHL teams introduced the Reebok EDGE Uniform system. This new uniform incorporated a new form-fitting material for a modern look that revolutionized the NHL jersey.

INTRODUCED: 2007 | RETIRED: 2011

On Nov. 27, 2009, the Predators debuted a new third jersey which featured a vintage-inspired lace-up front, a subtle checkerboard pattern lining the bottom of the jersey, and a bolder-and-more-simplified color scheme. The uniform also featured a fresh-take on the Pred Head, with the main logo taking on a "flat" look with navy, blue and black colors and the first red saber-toothed tiger eye.

PREDATORS LOGO & SWEATER HISTORY

Beginning in the 2011-12 season, the Predators unveiled their new Gold Reebok jerseys. These jerseys featured a more contemporary, aggressive and streamlined logo that still maintained the basic Pred Head concept. A new secondary logo was also designed to represent the state flag of Tennessee and Nashville's Music city heritage simultaneously, with a guitar pick shape incorporating the three stars of the state's three grand divisions - West, Middle and East. These sweaters create a distinctive, dominant, bold look that balanced traditional elements of classic uniforms with those unique to Nashville - guitar strings in the numbering and lettering, fangs in the neck area and piano keys on the inside of the collars.

The 2017-18 season brought new uniforms designed by adidas for all 31 NHL franchises. The new ADIZERO jerseys kept the familiar gold as the primary color and expanded the celebration of Music City with the piano keys around the inside of the collar and guitar pick alternate logo remaining on the right shoulder and guitar strings over the back numbers extended to the arm numbers as well. These jerseys are lighter and cooler with new Clima technology that makes it 19 percent lighter and 133 percent more permeable than fabrics previously used on the ice.

INTRODUCED: 2017

The Nashville Predators unveiled a new, retro-oriented jersey to mark their appearance in the 2020 Bridgestone NHL Winter Classic. The new jersey, which made its on-ice debut on Jan. 1 at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Texas, was created with a heritage aesthetic, featuring designs inspired by Nashville's hockey history and its passionate fanbase. The script crest, felt block lettering and classic striping created a nostalgic look that personified the Winter Classic's celebration of the game's outdoor origins.

INTRODUCED: 2020 | RETIRED: 2020

Ahead of the 2020-21 NHL season, the Nashville Predators and adidas unveiled their Reverse Retro uniform as part of the first-ever League-wide alternate jersey program. The uniform pays homage to the set worn during the team's first NHL season in 1998-99 and combines features of Nashville's hockey history with its current colors and feel. The speed nicks in the numbers, striping pattern, silver touches and remastered crest all work in tribute to the original Preds jersey, while the bold, GOLD body offers a new interpretation of the design.

NASHVILLE HOCKEY HISTORY

In the spring of 1962, a small group of businessmen led by David Patterson put up $125,000 to place a team in the Eastern Hockey League. The Dixie Flyers, named after a passenger train said to be the oldest in the South, were placed in the nine-team league. The purple-and-gold colored Flyers played their first regular-season home game (a 2-0 loss to Knoxville) on Oct. 27, 1962 at the Municipal Auditorium. The Flyers endured a rough opening season, winning 16 games and qualifying for the playoffs, only to be swept in three games by Greensboro. However, it didn't take long for the Flyers to make their presence felt.

After losing in the 1965 Finals, the Flyers went on to win EHL Walker Cup championships in 1966 and 1967, the only two professional ice hockey titles in the city's history. John McLellan, who went on to coach the Toronto Maple Leafs, coached the Flyers. The Flyers swept each of their three playoff series' in 1966. They won the championship by going 11-0 in the playoffs and becoming the first team in minor league ice hockey ever to march through the playoffs undefeated.

In 1967, Patterson's group sold the team to a business group headed by Mark Parrish. The Cinderella '69 team reached the Finals, but lost in seven tough games to the Clinton (N.Y.) Comets in the Walker Cup Finals. Shortly after, the Flyers' attendance slipped dramatically. Barely able to scrape up enough funds to start the 1970-71 campaign, the Flyers folded following the season.

Hockey returned to Nashville when baseball guru Larry Schmittou, who brought minor league baseball back to Nashville in 1978 after a 15-year absence, did the same for hockey in July 1981. Thus the South Stars were founded, a team that played in the Central Hockey League and had the Minnesota North Stars as its NHL affiliate. The logo was a hockey player swinging a guitar representing the Music City while using yellow, orange and green.

The 1981-82 team finished fourth in its division and lost to Wichita, 3-0, in the first round of the playoffs. Gene Ubriaco, who went on to coach the NHL's Pittsburgh Penguins and 1992 Italian Olympic team, coached the Stars.

Under new ownership (Randy Van Meter), the Stars pulled out of the CHL in 1982 and entered the old Atlantic Coast Hockey League (ACHL), playing teams geographically closer to Nashville. The Stars finished 11-43-4 and suffered through a season of low attendance. They began the following season, only to fold in December 1983.

Two Knoxville wrestling promoters, Bob Polk and Ron Fuller, rescued the sport five years later. They purchased an East Coast Hockey League franchise in January 1989. The Knights, with popular ex-South Stars player Archie Henderson as coach, attracted an astonishing 150,000 fans their first season (1989-90). While wearing red and blue uniforms adorned with the logo of a knight's mask, they made the playoffs but lost in the first round. During the 1990-91 season, Peter Horachek, former Predators assistant coach, served as the Knights' head coach and director of hockey operations.

The Knights went through three ownership changes in their seven-year history. They twice went to the semifinals of the ECHL playoffs - in 1993 under ex-NHL standout and coach Nick Fotiu, and in 1995 under coach Mark Kumpel. Perhaps the top Knights highlight came during the 1992-93 season when Trevor Jobe scored what is still a minor hockey league record 85 goals, with 76 assists, for 161 points and 12 hat tricks in his MVP season. In the spring of 1996, after failed negotiations for a lease agreement with the Auditorium, the Knights departed to Pensacola, Fla. There, they were renamed the Ice Pilots.

Hockey was revived again with the arrival of the NightHawks in the fall of 1996. The Central Hockey League team only won 12 games, the worst in CHL history. The red-and-blue NightHawks' logo was a hawk showing its claws. Nashvillian Mike Friedman purchased the team in the summer of 1997. In a renewed salute to the old Dixie Flyers, Friedman changed both the name to the Ice Flyers and the colors to blue and gray. David Lohrie led the team to a 41-win season and a second-place finish in the CHL East and was named coach of the year. The team lost in the semi-finals to the eventual CHL Champ Columbus in April 1998. The impending arrival of the Predators led Friedman to move the franchise to Albany, Ga.

This closed the book on three separate chapters, a combined 21 years, of minor league hockey in Nashville, starting and ending with the team named the Flyers. Former Predators President Jack Diller is well aware and appreciative of Nashville's hockey pioneers.

"The team and sport obviously made a significant impact on many people here in Middle Tennessee. Other teams such as the South Stars, Knights, NightHawks and Ice Flyers also enjoyed varying degrees of success - all of which helped fuel the excitement for the NHL and arrival of the Predators," Diller said.

Excerpt from "Hockey in Nashville Before the Predators," written by hockey historian Harold Huggins and originally published in the Preds Press Commemorative Issue on Oct. 10, 1998.
